POPULATION IN OCCUPIED AREA IN UGLY MOOD

In Note Delivered to Germany Wednesday Afternoon France Notified That Government She Would Occupy Ruhr Region Thursday.

POPULACE IN BRITISH DISTRICT MAY RESIST

Cologne Dispatch to London Says Attitude of People Decidedly Anti-French and Rumors Are Rife They May Decide to Make Fight.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—France's assumption of the Ruhr coal control is announced for tomorrow in a note delivered by the French government to Germany today.

(Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A Reuter dispatch from Cologne this afternoon says:

"The attitude of the Germans in the British area is venomously anti-French. A large irresponsible section of the population favors active resistance and the wildest rumors are afloat. Fears are expressed lest the British and American troops should be withdrawn."

120,000 Men to Move.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 10.—The morning newspapers assert nine divisions comprising 120,000 will participate in the French Ruhr movement. German railway authorities, it is announced, have received orders to hold 73 military trains in readiness.

It is said here the French will occupy the railways, bridges and viaducts as well as the mines and manufacturing plants, in order to guard against any sabotage by German workers.

To Use River Fleet.

Gives France Permit.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The British government has granted France permission to move troops through the British occupied territory along the Rhine in pursuance of the French plan for occupation of the Ruhr.

Bee Hive of Activity.

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 10.—France's army of invasion was held in readiness here today for marching orders from Paris. Members of the French general staff said they expected to advance into Essen to be undertaken either tomorrow morning or Friday. Some days may elapse before the Ruhr is entered.

The streets swarm with French troops. The hotels are crowded with officers. Military motor cars dash in and out of the city. All trains are late owing to heavy traffic and the extra number of cars hauled to accommodate the large number of troops. All along the frontier of the occupied zone French soldiers are establishing bivouacks. Arms and munitions depots are being set up. Baby tanks crawl along the muddy roads with machine guns poked from the portholes. French military authorities have forbidden all traffic of the Dusseldorfs-Essen road except what is permitted for military use.

The superintendent of the Elberfeld railroad has been ordered to stop all freight trains except those bearing food.

Thieves Break Into Grocery Through a Window and Steal

Thieves pried the [illegible] from the back window of the Uneeda Grocery, 216 North Tenth street some time Tuesday night and stole six sacks of sugar, a number of cases of eggs, canned goods, and several sacks of potatoes.

The robbery was discovered when the proprietor O. Moritz opened his store Wednesday morning. Nothing was stolen other than the merchandise as far as could be ascertained Wednesday morning. Police officers are investigating.

Chicks "Tune In" And Big Boost In Egg Count Results

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—Chickens like radio music and owners of the birds would be more than repaid by installing radio outfits. So contends Jacob J. Irvine of Winlock, Wash., who arrived in St. Paul today. He installed a radio set in his chicken house, which shelters 6,000 hens. A survey revealed that in eight days the number of eggs laid had increased from an average of 58 to 78 for every 100 chickens.

Plain Alley Cat Wins First Prize Over Highbrow Pussies

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Story of a Cinderella Tom cat who rose from ashes to eminence, was revealed here today when a certificate from the Atlantic Cat club was delivered to the home of Joseph Frascona, down on New York's east side.

The document which was received gleefully by Joseph Frascona, Jr. 12 years old, and his small sister, Antoinette, 3, declared that Snooser Boy, the children's pet, had won first prize in the non-championship class at the annual cat show at the Waldorf Astoria yesterday.

Little Joseph told the tale of his pet's progress from rags to riches and a blue ribbon.

"We found Snooser Boy in an alley a year ago," the boy said, "He was starving and I don't guess he looked like anything much then. He was just plain cat. But we fed him and took care of him and when we heard that it only cost a dollar to enter a cat in th eshow, we decided Snooser Boy ought to have his chance.

"So we decided to doll him in an orange ribbon and comb his fur. And he licked all those other highbrow cats!"

Snooser Boy from his post of honor on the best chair, purred complacentlty.

TO DEVELOP THE LINDELL

New Owners Take Possession of Property Wednesday and Direct First Work of Remodeling Hotel — Enlarge Dining Service.

PLANS CALL FOR CHANGES IN LOBBY

All Three Members of Firm to Make Home in Lincoln and Will Enter Actively Into Civic Affairs and Community Life.

The Lindell Hotel company, a newly formed organization which recently purchased the furniture and fixtures of the Lindell hotel and secured a twenty-five year lease on the building, took over possession and operation from Palm and Palm Wednesday morning, January 10.

C. L. Bevard, president of the new company, and H. W. Powers, the secretary, treasurer and general manager, were occuping the hotel offices early in the morninkg and directing the first work of rehabilitation of the building. Mrs. M. E. List, is the other member of the firm taking over the property and holds the office of vice-president. She is the sister of the president, C. L. Bevard.

All three of the new owners are to live in Lincoln and will make their home in the hotel. Mrs. Bevard accompanies her husband, Mrs. List is a widow and Mr. Powers is a bachelor.

The new owners arrived in Lincoln Sunday evening. They found the hotel doing a capacity business and the center of numerous conventions and meetings. While their immediate plans involve no major changes in the property, they will proceed at once to enlarge and improve the cafeteria and dining service and attempt to build up a large luncheon and dinner business outside of the house guest customers. A representative and an expert cafeteria man, has been in Lincoln studying the situation for several weeks.

Pay $850,000 for Property.

Mr. Powers verified the correctness of the consideration paid for the property. The total is $850,000, $100,000 for the fixtures and furniture and silver, crockery and good will and $30,000 yearly for twenty-five years. The buyers are experienced hotel people and plan to go actively into the Lincoln field.

The remodeling and renovation of the lobby will be the second major improvement to be made, and this will be done as soon as the business exchange has been settled in all details. The house itself, with 180 rooms and 110 baths, is said to be in first class condition with new improvements totalling a considerable sum just installed.

Mr. and Mrs. Palm, owners and previous operators, will continue to live in their apartment in the hotel. They intend to maintain Lincoln as their home and the center of their interests although out of the active hotel business.

The new owners previously operated the beautiful Kaskaskia hotel at La Salle, Ill., a resort hotel near the "Starved Rock" and this property was just recently sold to the Atlantic hotel company of Chicago. Other properties these owners have operated include, the Ellis hotel at Waterloo, Iowa, also recently sold, and the Hays hotel at Fostoria, Ohio.

The new management of the Lindell intends to enter actively into civic affairs and community interests and considers the Lindell property as its permanent business.

Same Gang Robs Two Jewel Shops In Single Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Two jewelry shops within a few blocks of each other on Upper Broadway were robbed a short time apart last night by bandits who escaped with over $30,000 worth of diamonds and other gems. Police believe the same quartet did both jobs.

Motor patrols, each with a squad of detectives, were sent out in all directions from police headquarters in the hope of apprehending the robbers while all precinct chiefs were ordered to join the hunt. Each of the stores looted was in the heart of a fashionable shop section of Upper Broadway.

PLAN TO HARNESS BURIED STREAMS

College View Citizens Considering Utilization of Subterranean Flow.

A proposal to utilize the underflow of subterranean streams to produce electric power at half the present rate, in addition to an adequate water supply, advanced by E. Murray, said to have invented a new power principle, is being considerd by a committee of College View citizens appointed at a recent mass meeting.

The committee consists of Chairman William L. Gove, E. A. Jenkins, and W. E. Stanton, and has investigated, with Mr. Murray, the old sand pit on West A street, which is filled with water and believed to be fed by a subterranean stream. The proposed site for a subterranean water head near Nebraska City was also visited, and the Denton locality, where Mr. Murray believes a large underground flow is available.

The committee looks favorably upon the plan, according to Mr. Gove, and will probably call another mass meeting of citizens to lay before them the possibility of the undertaking.

Ivey Discusses Business Outlook In Talk to Club

Paul W. Ivey, representing the Kiwanis club, spoke to the Pathfinder club Wednesday noon at the Grand hotel on "The Business Outlook for 1923."

"The thing that will mean the most to business in the next few years is a change in the distribution system," he said. "During the ninteenth century and up until ten or fifteen years ago the great urge of American industry was to increase efficiency. It got to the point where the production of goods was greater than the consumption. Now we have to increase the consumption, to get the goods to move faster.

"The manufacturer loads his goods onto the jobber and the jobber onto the retailer and the merchant is sluggish and cannot send his goods on to the consumer. He it at the neck of the bottle and we will have to widen this neck, awaken the merchant so as to keep up the normal flow of goods.

"The consumer will buy if the goods are presented to him in the right way. The money is there. Savings last year were almost double the normal amount. Wages are not greatly reduced and the farmer next year will receive between three and four billion dollars more than last year."

Mr. Ivey is working on educational schemes to instruct the retailer in selling methods. The jobbers in some places are conducting salesmanship schools for their retailers. Advertising is another means to increase consumption, he said. It individualizes the goods and creates a demand for the articls advertised.

Before Mr. Ivey spoke, Rev. Jack Leonard gave a brief talk on "Public Speech."

Ex-Service Men In Legislature Hold a Luncheon

Ex-service men in the lower branch of the legislature held their first weekly luncheon Wednesday noon at the Chamber of Comerce. An organization with eleven members who are affiliated with the American Legion was formed.

Ten of these were at the luncheon last week. The president is Representative Oswin Keifr of Nuckolls county.

Following the luncheon, those present repaired to a committee room and discussed matters of particular interest to themselves. Among the subjects talked over was the proposal for a state bonus, the Reed-Norval language law, and the $25,000 appropriation requested by the American Legion to supplement the relief fund provided two years ago.

German language interests are working to obtain the approval of the American Legion for amendments to the language law, but it is believed the legislative committee of that organization and most of its members in the legislature will be opposed to any such proposition.

Sentiment regarding a state bonus is divided. A bill on that subject may be introduced, providing for a referendum vote to be taken at the 1924 general election.

NEBRASKAN DIES.

Word has been received in Lincoln of the death in Seridan, Wyo., of Miss Gertrude Louise Workman, formerly of North Platte, Neb. A sister, Mrs. Pearl Winter, resides a Bayard, Neb.

SHERIFFS ARE FOR CARROLL

AGAINST REMOVAL WITHOUT HEARING

Believed Sheriffs Will Ask Retention of State Fingerprint Department--Governor Bryan and Attorney General Address Convention.

Vigorous endorsement of the appointment of Thomas W. Carroll as chief state law enforcement officer by Governor Bryan, was anticipated early in the meeting of the state county sheriffs and ex-sheriffs, which opened in the Lindell hotel Wednesday morning. It was evident that the law officers over the state were preparing to approve of Mr. Carroll as their chief with a will and personal recommendations and bouquets for him were heard in every corner of the convention room.

The same convention however, was scheduled to ignore entirely the suggestions made in his message by Governor Bryan that he be given power to remove law enforcement officials temporarily pending investigation. Removal without a hearing is so obnoxious to these representatives of law and order that they declined to even embody the matter in a resolution and it was expected Wednesday morning that no mention of that matter would be heard from the floor, at least not in the form of a resolution.

The sheriffs were slow in arriving and it was 11 o'clock before the convention could begin work. Registration showed that at that time there were thirty representatives and more were arriving constantly. The resolutions committee, one of the first appointed, was told to report as soon after the noon hour as [illegible]

Hyers Leader in Meeting.

Gus Hyers, ex-state sheriff was much in evidence and one of the leaders in meeting. He nominated and carried unanimously the names of two committees, one to wait upon Governor Bryan at 4 o'clock Wednesday to escort him to the convention and one to meet Attorney General Spillman at 11:30 and to escort him to the luncheon at the chamber of commerce.

The committee to meet the governor included Sheriffs Quinton, president of the organization, Duffy, secretary, Hensel, Benton and Heenan. The committee for Mr. Spillman was named as Sheriffs Quinton, Duffy, Hensel and Canfield.

Mr. Carroll was not present during the morning session, but it was evident that his predecessor, Mr. Hyers, would be one of his strongest endorser. Governor Bryan was scheduled to speak at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Those registered shortly before noon included: C. D. Quinton, president, Plattsmouth; P. W. Duffy, secretary, O'Neill; Gus Hyers, ex-state sheriff; V. C. Talbot, Broken Bow; C. P. Hensel, Lancaster county; G. S. Round, Ord; Jack Waller, Red Cloud; G. E. Avery, Pawnee City; J. E. Howard, Aurora; Charles Berryman, Arthur; L. L. Berthe, North Platte; S. G. Parr, Kearney; G. R. Hanson, Holdrege; G. A. Anderson, Holdrege; T. E. Benton, Lexington; P. O. Grady, Banner county; F. H. Koenig, Gering; O. E. Swanson, Kimball; Peter Clarence, Hartington; A. J. Salisbury, North Platte; C. A. Peterson, Fullerton; J. L. Gallagher, Greely; H. J. Neilson, Lincoln; C. H. Davis, Auburn; G. E. Hall, Hebron; A. C. Taylor, Lincoln; V. Canfield, Chadron; Frank Heenan, Butte; E. L. Davis, Bridgeport; Samuel Startzer, Papillon; and Henry Greer, Wilbur.

It was understood, unofficially, that the sheriffs would recommend the retention of the state fingerprint department as an aid in their state-wide law enforcement work. The finger print expert under Mr. Hyers' regime, H. J. Neilsen, was present at the meeting.

Starts Suit to Halt Activities Of Kansas Klan

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—Hearing of Kansas ouster suit against the Ku Klux Klan was to begin in the state supreme court today, with C. B. Griffith, new attorney general, presenting the case for the state.

The suit to oust the Klan from the state follows reports of alleged activities of the Ku Klux Klan in southern Kansas and bitter verbal attacks upon it by former Governor Henry J. Allen.

Convicted Klan Member to Serve 12 Months' Term

LILLINGTON, N. C., Jan. 10.—A sentence of twelve months at hard labor was imposed on Mark Moore, a Harnett county resident, yesterday on conviction of conspiracy and trespass after Ira M. Faircloth, a farmer neighbor, had testified Moore entered his house at night in a white robe and hood and warned him against utterances derogatory to the Ku Klux Klan.

GIRL TESTIFIES OF KIDNAPING BY MER ROUGE MOB

Seventeen-Year-Old Miss Says Masked Men Sent Her To Little Rock.

Although Hooded, Witness Claims She Recognized Dr. McKoin Among Abductors.

(Associated Press.)

BASTROP, La., Jan. 10.—Addie May Hamilton, 17, known as "daughter of the klan," declared on the witness stand in the open hearing investigation today into the slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards she was forced to leave her home near Mer Rouge and was deported from the state by the Ku Klux in January, 1922.

She named Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge and "Pink" Kirkpatrick as two of the party of men who she testified came to her mother's home one night, took her away and put her aboard a train for Little Rock, Ark., the home of her sister.

"How do you know the Ku Klux sent you to Little Rock?" George S. Guion who began the questioning, asked.

"Because Dr. McKoin and "Pink" Kirkpatrick and about six others came to my mother's house about 10:30 o'clock at night and told me they were going to send me away."

"Do you know positively it was Dr. McKoin and Kirpatrick?"

Recognizes Dr. McKoin.

"Yes, sir, I recognized Dr. McKoin who was masked but he was the only one doing any talking. They came to the house and pulled their guns and told my mother that 'Addie May will have to leave town tonight.' My mother asked them what for. 'Because,' Dr. McKoin said, 'Addie has been leading an immoral life.' My mother said 'why don't you send others away?' Dr. McKoin said, 'we are going to.' My mother got down on her knees and pleaded, but they made me leave. They told us if [illegible] would 'blow' [illegible] off. They made me leave without a hat. Dr. McKoin struck my mother when she made a final plea for me to be allowed to remain. My mother attempted to shove them out of the room. She begged them to let her go to the depot. They refused. They put me in an automobile and Dr. McKoin gave me $7 for my fare to Little Rock. He told me if I did not catch the train I would be tarred and feathered the next day.

"I was put on the back seat of the automobile and 'Pink' Kirkpatrick threw his legs across my lap."

"What did he do that for?"

"I don't know."

Wallace's Injuries Painful But He Is Expected to Recover

Lincoln friends of C. W. Wallace, formerly a member of the faculty of the University of Nebraska, noted Shakespearean authority, and who cleaned up a fortune estimated at over a million dollars in the Texas oil fields, received word today that Mr. Wallace's injuries in an accident yesterday while painful were not expected to prove serious.

Mr. Wallace was hit by a fire truck while on his way to his office at Wichita Falls, Texas.

This telegram was received by a Lincoln frend today:

"Mr. Wallace painfully but not seriously hurt. Please let all our Lincoln friends know he seems better this morning. Head cut, and broken wrist and bruises now seems extent of injuries."

Play at Church to Show the Condition Of Women in India

An entertainment for the benefit of the Union Christian college fund will be given at the First Christian church Thursday evening. It will consist of a play presented by the Kappa Phi girls based on conditions in the Orient, and Khanta Bala Rai a Brahman Christian girl from Bengal will take a leading part as the "Bible Women."

Pertinent questions said to be suggested by the play are: "Shall we have the harem in America?" "Why does our census returns not show 2,090 girls under 5 years of age married?"

A supper will be served at 6 p. m. by women of the church of the city. Everyone is invited. Tickets may be secured from Miss Olive Wallace, F4320.

Sun Yat Sen Is Cheerful After Troops' Success

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—General Chen Chiung-Ming, whose forces captured Canton last summer and drove from power the government of the southern republic, fled from Canton last night and is in Hong Kong today, according to an unconfirmed report from Hong Kong.

Sun Yat Sen, who was president of the southern republic until Chen Chiung-Ming's coup d'etat, is here and he announced today that he had received further word of successes of troops supporting him. These forces have been pressing toward Canton from Wu Chow, along the Samshui-Canton railway.

HOWELL PAYS BRYAN A VISIT

Republican Senator-elect Calls on Governor, Presumably to Discuss Matters of Legislation For Omaha.

WILL HAVE TO SHOW HIS HAND

Before He May Expect Any Help From Democrats. He Will Have to Declare Himself on Repeal of the Code.

R. B. Howell, United States senator-elect and republican national committeeman for Nebraska, signalized his return to Lincoln on Wednesday by calling upon Governor Bryan at the latter's office. It was the first time he has communicated with the latter in person since the two were elected in November on opposite party tickets but with th support of organized labor, the non-partisan league and other elements.

Heretofore, Mr. Howell has been holding himself rather aloof and gave the impression that he intended to go it alone in trying to get his measures through the legislature. He was rebuffed, however, in the defeat of his candidate for speaker and failing to prevent Representatives Dysart and Dyball of Omaha from serving on the committee on committees and getting the standing committee chairmanships which they desired.

Howell's belated call on Governor Bryan is thought to indicate that he feels the need of democratic help in pushing his own legislative program through. The two men are more or less interested in the same sort of municipal projects for Omaha and Lincoln, respectively.

Governor Bryan's first purpose, however, is to have the code law repealed and to reorganize the state government on a more simplified and economical basis. His recommendations in that regard will soon be laid before the legislature in detail, together with a revised state budget.

Must Show His Hand.

[illegible] evident, from the attitude which Mr. Howell's close friends in the legislature assume toward the governor's suggestions, whether or not the republican national committeeman desires to cooperate with the state administration. Unless Howell shows some disposition to do this, he may find the democratic members of the legislature somewhat lukewarm toward his own bills.

In the past, the Omaha man has had the reputation of wanting other people to do things for him but seldom going out of his way to do anything for them. The democratic actitude at this time is that the people of Nebraska, who have declared themselves emphatically for repeal of the code and cutting down taxes, have as much claim upon the attention of the legislature as has Mr. Howell with his bills pertaining to Omaha alone.

Should the usual fight develop in the Douglas county delegation between Howell's friends and his enemies, there may be a tendency on th part of out-state members to stand on the sidelines and say: "Go it dog, go it bear." Many of the solons, both republicans and democrats, are saying that Mr. Howell will have to show some interest in legislation for the whole state befor he can expect others to get behind his personal measures.

THINKS CARROLL BEST FOR PLACE

Governor Characterizes Action Of Omaha People Ill Advised.

A resolution passed by the Omaha W. C. T. U. condemning Governor Bryan's appointment of Tom Carroll as chief deputy law enforcement officer as a repudiation of campaign pledges, and advocating the appointment of Elmer E. Thomas, Omaha attorney, to that position, was characterized by the governor, in a newspaper interview Wednesday, as an "impulsive act," by a local group probably based on a "lack of understanding," or "without personal knowledge of Mr. Carroll's high standing as a dry enforcement officer."

Governor Bryan had received by telegraph a copy of the resolution passed Tuesday at Omaha, but assumes that it was based on local interest in Mr. Thomas' candidacy, which has been actively advocated in certain quarters, he said. None of the names appearing in published accounts of the Omaha action were familiar to him as having been identified with the dry movement in the state, nor could he understand the reference to campaign pledges, as all his pledges had been contained in his platform.

The governor stated that Mr. Thomas is a sincere advocate of the dry cause, but that he believes that in Mr. Carroll he has secured the pick of experienced enforcement officers in this part of the country. He has already received many congratulations on the appointment from dry leaders in the state, he said.

TURNS SPOTLIGHT ON U. S. CAPITOL

Upshaw Charges "Bootleggers Ply Devilish Trade Among Too Many Public Men."

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The spotlight of bootlegging rumors and charges which has been hovering over Washington had shifted back to the capitol today with the declaration by Representative Upshaw, democrat, Georgia on the floor of the house that "bootleggers ply their devlish trade among too many public men in Washington."

Opportunity for reply by house members to Representative Upshaw's speech, in which he declared he would turn over to enforcement officials all evidence placed in his hands of liquor drinking by government officials including members of the senate and house, was expected today.

Outside of the membership of the senate and house, Representative Upshaw declared he had seen "some of the highest officials in Washington lifting the devilish bottle to their lips." In the evidence, he was preparing to turn in, he said, he would include the name of a "high official (not a diplomat) "who returned from abroad sometime ago with more than a score of cases of foreign liquor marked "diplomatic."

Capture Quantity Of Liquor In Hot Boundary Battle

(International News Service.)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 10—Customs officers are en-route to Del Rio today to probe the ramifications of a smuggling ring uncovered during a gun fight early this morning between Mexican border runners, Texas rangers and mounted customs officials.

One smuggler was killed, one wounded and one captured. None of the government men was injured. During the fight seven horses were killed and 250 quarts and pints of liquor captured. The fight occurred just outside of Del Rio.

The men from headquarters here will endeavor to secure information from the captured bandit regarding the magnitude of the rum running plot.

Shop Workers Send Good Will to Bryan

U. S. ARMY MEN ORDERED HOME FROM COBLENZ

President Harding Issues Instructions For Withdrawal of Last of American Forces On Rhine and They Will Move At Early Date.

DEEMS TIME EXPEDIENT FOR RECALL OF TROOPS

It Is Not Known How Far Decision of Chief Executive Influenced By Ruhr Valley Crisis or Recently Passed Senate Resolution.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was ordered today by President Harding.

In announcing the decision the state department said that the president deemed the time expedient for the recall of the forces now at Coblenz.

The American forces remaining in the area number about 1,000 men and it was indicated that the withdrawal order would be carried out as soon as the American commander, Major General Allen, could make the necessary arrangements for winding up finally the affairs of the army of occupation.

A resolution favoring such a withdrawal was adopted Saturday by the senate, but it was not apparent today how far it had contributed to the president's decision, or how far the administration had been influenced by the situation brought about by the French movement into the Ruhr valley.

The date of actual withdrawal of the forces will be left to the war department where it was said that American evacuation of the Coblenz zone would be conducted in an orderly fashion.

Believed Reports Prompt Order.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Harding has ordered all American troops withdrawn from the Rhineland, it was announced at the state department today.

The order for withdrawal went forward to Major General Henry T. Allen at Coblenz this morning. There is reason to believe that the decision to withdraw was made by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes following the receipt of reports from Ambassador Myron T. Herrick at Paris, and Colonel R. W. Boyden, an American unofficial observer on the reparations commission to the effect that nothing could halt the French plans for seizing the Ruhr basin.

The nature of the reports from Ambassador Herrick, and Colonel Boyden were not made public and officials declined to discuss them, but the sudden order for military evacuation of the Rhine threw considerable light upon the nature of their observations.

Summons Secretary Weeks.

President Harding summoned Secretary of War Weeks in person to the white house at 10:30 a. m. and gave the order of withdrawal. Weeks announced that the transports will leave New York today or tomorrow to bring home the entire contingent now stationed at Coblenz.

Major General Allen and the 1,050 men comprising the "army" of occupation will return on the St. Mihiel, and it is probable the movement can be completed within thirty days.

Only a handful of Americans will be left on the Rhine to clean up odds and ends incident to the American occupation and this handful will be left with instructions to complete the work as speedily as possible, in order that the United States may be completely out of Europe within the next six weeks.

Virtually all of the troops now on the Rhine are of the Eighth United States infantry and embrace in addition to the infantrymen, supporting arms such as cavalry, quartermaster, artillery, tank corps and air service contingents.

Will Go to Antwerp.

The transport St. Mihiel, which will bring the American army back to

"The attitude of the Germans in the British area is venomously anti-French. A large irresponsible section of the population favors active resistance and the wildest rumors are abroad. Fears are expressed lest the British and American troops should be withdrawn."

120,000 Men to Move.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 10. — The morning newspapers assert nine divisions comprising 120,000 will participate in the French Ruhr movement. German railway authorities, it is announced, have received orders to hold 73 military trains in readiness.

It is said here the French will occupy the railways, bridges and viaducts as well as the mines and manufacturing plants, in order to guard against any sabotage by German worker.

To Use River Fleet.

Gives France Permit.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The British government has granted France permission to move troops through the British occupied territory along the Rhine in pursuance of the French plan for occupation of the Ruhr.

Bee Hive of Activity.

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 10.—France's army of invasion was held in readiness here today for marching orders from Paris. Members of the French general staff said they expected to advance into Essen to be undertaken either tomorrow morning or Friday. Some days may elapse before the Ruhr is entered.

The streets swarm with French troops. The hotels are crowded with officers. Military motor cars dash in and out of the city. All trains are late owing to heavy traffic and the extra number of cars hauled to accommodate the large number of troops. All along the frontier of the occupied zone French soldiers are establishing bivouacks. Arms and munitions depots are being set up. Baby tanks crawl along the muddy roads with machine guns poked from the portholes. French military authorities have forbidden all traffic of the Dusseldorfg-Essen road except what is permitted for military use.

The superintendent of the Elberfeld railroad has been ordered to stop all freight trains except those bearing food.

Thieves Break Into Grocery Through a Window and Steal

Thieves pried the bars from the back window of the Uneeda Grocery, 216 North Tenth street, some time Tuesday night, and stole six sacks of sugar, a number of cases of eggs, canned goods, and several sacks of potatoes.

The robbery was discovered when the proprietor, O. Mertz, opened his store Wednesday morning. Nothing was stolen other than the merchandise as far as could be ascertained Wednesday morning. Police officers are investigating.

Chicks "Tune In" And Big Boost In Egg Count Results

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—Chickens like radio music and owners of the birds would be more than repaid by installing radio outfits. So contends Jacob J. Irvine of Winlock, Wash., who arrived in St. Paul today. He installed a radio set in his chicken house, which shelters 6,000 hens. A survey revealed that in eight days the number of eggs laid had increased from an average of 58 to 78 for every 100 chickens.

Plain Alley Cat Wins First Prize Over Highbrow Pussies

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Story of a Cinderella Tom cat who rose from ashes to eminence, was revealed here today when a certificate from the Atlantic Cat club was delivered to the home of Joseph Frascona, down on New York's east side.

The document which was received gleefully by Joseph Frascona, Jr. 12 years old, and his small sister, Antoinette, 3, declared that Snooser Boy, the children's pet, had won first prize in the non-championship class at the annual cat show at the Waldorf Astoria yesterday.

Little Joseph told the tale of his pet's progress from rags to riches and a blue ribbon.

"We found Snooser Boy in an alley a year ago," the boy said, "He was starving and I don't guess he looked like anything much then. He was just plain cat. But we fed him and took care of him and when we heard that it only cost a dollar to enter a cat in th eshow, we decided Snooser Boy ought to have his chance.

"So we decided to doll him in an orange ribbon and comb his fur. And he licked all those other highbrow cats!"

Snooser Boy from his post of honor on the best chair, purred complacentlty.

TO DEVELOP THE LINDELL

New Owners Take Possession of Property Wednesday and Direct First Work of Remodeling Hotel — Enlarge Dining Service.

PLANS CALL FOR CHANGES IN LOBBY

All Three Members of Firm to Make Home in Lincoln and Will Enter Actively Into Civic Affairs and Community Life.

The Lindell Hotel company a newly formed organization which recently purchased the furniture and fixtures of the Lindell hotel and secured a twenty-five year lease on the building, took over possession and operation from Palm and Palm Wednesday morning, January 10.

C. L. Bevard, president of the new company, and H. W. Powers, the secretary, treasurer and general manager, were occuping the hotel offices early in the morninkg and directing the first work of rehabilitation of the building. Mrs. M. E. List, is the other member of the firm taking over the property and holds the office of vice-president. She is the sister of the president, C. L. Bevard.

All three of the new owners are to live in Lincoln and will make their home in the hotel. Mrs. Bevard accompanies her husband, Mrs. List is a widow and Mr. Powers is a bachelor.

The new owners arrived in Lincoln Sunday evening. They found the hotel doing a capacity business and the center of numerous conventions and meetings. While their immediate plans involve no major changes in the property, they will proceed at once to enlarge and improve the cafeteria and dining service and attempt to build up a large luncheon and dinner business outside of the house guest customers. A representative and an expert cafeteria man, has been in Lincoln studying the situation for several weeks.

Pay $850,000 for Property.

Mr. Powers verified the correctness of the consideration paid for the property. The total is $850,000. $100,000 for the fixtures and furniture and silver, crockery and good will and $30,000 yearly for twenty-five years. The buyers are experienced hotel people and plan to go actively into the Lincoln field.

The remodeling and renovation of the lobby will be the second major improvement to be made, and this will be done as soon as the business exchange has been settled in all details. The house itself, with 180 rooms and 110 baths, is said to be in first class condition with new improvements totalling a considerable sum just installed.

Mr. and Mrs. Palm, owners and previous operators, will continue to live in their apartment in the hotel. They intend to maintain Lincoln as their home and the center of their interests although out of the active hotel business.

The new owners previously operated the beautiful Kaskaskia hotel at La Salle, Ill., a resort hotel near the "Starved Rock" and this property was just recently sold to the Atlantic hotel company of Chicago. Other properties these owners have operated include, the Ellis hotel at Waterloo, Iowa, also recently sold, and the Hays hotel at Fostoria, Ohio.

The new management of the Lindell intends to enter actively into civic affairs and community interests and considers the Lindell property as its permanent business.

Same Gang Robs Two Jewel Shops In Single Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Two jewelry shops within a few blocks of each other on Upper Broadway were robbed a short time apart last night by bandits who escaped with over $30,000 worth of diamonds and other gems. Police believe the same quartet did both jobs.

Motor patrols, each with a squad of detectives, were sent out in all directions from police headquarters in the hope of apprehending the robbers while all precinct chiefs were ordered to join the hunt. Each of the stores looted was in the heart of a fashionable shop section of Upper Broadway.

PLAN TO HARNESS BURIED STREAMS

College View Citizens Considering Utilization of Subterranean Flow.

A proposal to utilize the underflow of subterranean streams to produce electric power at half the present rate, in addition to an adequate water supply, advanced by E. Murray, said to have invented a new power principle, is being considerd by a committee of Colleg View citizens appointed at a recent mass meeting.

The committee consists of Chairman William L. Gove, E. A. Jenkins, and W. E. Stanton, and has investigated, with Mr. Murray, the old sand pit on West A street, which is filled with water and believed to be fed by a subterranean stream. The proposed site for a subterranean water head near Nebraska City was also visited, and the Denton locality, where Mr Murray believes a large underground flow is available.

The committee looks favorably upon the plan, according to Mr. Gove, and will probably call another mass meeting of citizens to lay before them the possibility of the undertaking.

Ivey Discusses Business Outlook In Talk to Club

Paul W. Ivey, representing the Kiwanis club, spoke to the Pathfinder club Wednesday noon at the Grand hotel on "The Business Outlook for 1923."

"The thing that will mean the most to business in the next few years is a change in the distribution system," he said. "During the ninteenth century and up until ten or fifteen years ago the great urge of American industry was to increase efficiency. It got to the point where the production of goods was greater than the consumption. Now we have to increase the consumption, to get the goods to move faster.

"The manufacturer loads his goods onto the jobber and the jobber onto the retailer and the merchant is sluggish and cannot send his goods on to the consumer. He it at the neck of the bottle and we will have to widen this neck, awaken the merchant so as to keep up the normal flow of goods.

"The consumer will buy if the goods are presented to him in the right way. The money is there. Savings last year were almost double the normal amount. Wages are not greatly reduced and the farmer next year will receive between three and four billion dollars more than last year."

Mr. Ivey is working on educational schemes to instruct the retailer in selling methods. The jobbers in some places are conducting salesmanship schools for their retailers. Advertising is another means to increase consumption, he said. It individualizes the goods and creates a demand for the article advertised.

Before Mr. Ivey spoke, Rev. Jack Leonard gave a brief talk on "Public Speech."

Ex-Service Men In Legislature Hold a Luncheon

Ex-service men in the lower branch of the legislature held their first weekly luncheon Wednesday noon at the Chamber of Comerce. An organization with eleven members who are affiliated with the American Legion was formed.

Ten of these were at the luncheon last week. The president is Representative Oswip Keifr of Nuckolls county.

Following the luncheon, those present repaired to a committee room and discussed matters of particular interest to themselves. Among the subjects talked over was the proposal for a state bonus, the Reed-Norval language law, and the $25,000 appropriation requested by the American Legion to supplement the relief fund provided two years ago.

German language interests are working to obtain the approval of the American Legion for amendments to the language law, but it is believed the legislative committee of that organization and most of its members in the legislature will be opposed to any such proposition.

Sentiment regarding a state bonus is divided. A bill on that subject may be introduced, providing for a referendum vote to be taken at the 1924 general election.

SHERIFFS ARE FOR CARROLL

AGAINST REMOVAL WITHOUT HEARING

Believed Sheriffs Will Ask Retention of State Fingerprint Department--Governor Bryan and Attorney General Address Convention.

Vigorous endorsement of the appointment of Thomas W. Carroll as chief state law enforcement officer by Governor Bryan, was anticipated early in the meeting of the state county sheriffs and ex-sheriffs, which opened in the Lindell hotel Wednesday morning. It was evident that the law officers over the state were preparing to approve of Mr. Carroll as their chief with a will and personal recommendations and bouquets for him were heard in every corner of the convention room.

The same convention however, was scheduled to ignore entirely the suggestions made in his message by Governor Bryan that he be given power to remove law enforcement officials temporarily pending investigation. Removal without a hearing is so obnoxious to these representatives of law and order that they declined to even embody the matter in a resolution and it was expected Wednesday morning that no mention of that matter would be heard from the floor, at least not in the form of a resolution.

The sheriffs were slow in arriving and it was 11 o'clock before the convention could begin work. Registration showed that at that time there were thirty representatives and more were arriving constantly. The resolutions committee, one of the first appointed, was told to report as soon after the noon hour as [illegible]

Hyers Leader in Meeting.

Gus Hyers, ex-state sheriff was much in evidence and one of the leaders in meeting. He nominated and carried unanimously the names of two committees, one to wait upon Governor Bryan at 4 o'clock Wednesday to escort him to the convention and one to meet Attorney General Spillman at 11:30 and to escort him to the luncheon at the chamber of commerce.

The committee to meet the governor included Sheriffs Quinton, president of the organization, Duffy, secretary, Hensel, Benton and Heenan. The committee for Mr. Spillman was named as Sheriffs Quinton, Duffy, Hensel and Canfield.

Mr. Carroll was not present during the morning session, but it was evicent that his predecessor, Mr. Hyers, would be one of his strongest endorser. Governor Bryan was scheduled to speak at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Those registered shortly before noon included: C. D. Quinton, president, Plattsmouth; P. W. Duffy, secretary, O'Neill; Gus Hyers, ex-state sheriff; V. C. Talbot, Broken Bow C. P. Hensel, Lancaster county; G. S. Round, Ord; Jack Waller, Red Cloud; G. E. Avery, Pawnee City; J. E. Howard, Aurora; Charles Berryman, Arthur; L. L. Berthe North Platte; S. G. Parr Kearney; G. R. Hanson Holdrege G. A. Anderson, Holdrege; T. E. Benton, Lexington; P. O. Grady, Banner county; F. H. Koenig, Gering; O. E. Swanson, Kimball; Peter Clarence, Hartington; A. J. Salisbury, North Platte; C. A. Peterson, Fullerton; J. L. Gallagher, Greely; H. J. Neilson Lincoln; C. H. Davis, Auburn; G. F. Hall, Hebron; A. C. Taylor, Lincoln; V. Canfield, Chadron; Frank Heenan, Butte; E. L. Davis, Bridgeport; Samuel Startzer, Papillon; and Henry Greer, Wilbur.

It was understood, unofficially, that the sheriffs would recommend the retention of the state fingerprint department as an aid in their state-wide law enforcement work. The finger print expert under Mr. Hyers' regime, H. J. Neilsen, was present at the meeting.

Starts Suit to Halt Activities Of Kansas Klan

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—Hearing of Kansas ouster suit against the Ku Klux Klan was to begin in the state supreme court today, with C. B. Griffith, new attorney general, presenting the case for the state.

The suit to oust the klan from the state follows reports of alleged activities of the Ku Klux Klan in southern Kansas and bitter verbal attacks upon it by former Governor Henry J. Allen.

Convicted Klan Member to Serve 12 Months' Term

LILLINGTON, N. C., Jan. 10.—A sentence of twelve months at hard labor was imposed on Mark Moore, a Harnett county resident, yesterday on conviction of conspiracy and trespass after Ira M. Faircloth, a farmer neighbor, had testified Moore entered his house at night in a white robe and hood and warned him against utterances derogatory to the Ku Klux Klan.

GIRL TESTIFIES OF KIDNAPING BY MER ROUGE MOB

Seventeen-Year-Old Miss Says Masked Men Sent Her To Little Rock.

Although Hooded, Witness Claims She Recognized Dr. McKoin Among Abductors.

(Associated Press.)

BASTROP, La., Jan. 10.—Addie May Hamilton, 17, known as "daughter of the klan," declared on the witness stand in the open hearing investigation today into the slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards she was forced to leave her home near Mer Rouge and was deported from the state by the Ku Klux in January, 1922.

She named Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge and "Pink" Kirkpatrick as two of the party of men who she testified came to her mother's home one night, took her away and put her aboard a train for Little Rock, Ark., the home of her sister.

"How do you know the Ku Klux sent you to Little Rock?" George S. Guion who began the questioning, asked.

"Because Dr. McKoin and "Pink" Kirkpatrick and about six others came to my mother's house about 10:30 o'clock at night and told me they were going to send me away."

"Do you know positively it was Dr. McKoin and Kirpatrick?"

Recognizes Dr. McKoin.

"Yes, sir, I recognized Dr. McKoin who was masked but he was the only one doing any talking. They came to the house and pulled their guns and told my mother that 'Addie May will have to leave town tonight.' My mother asked them what for. 'Because,' Dr. McKoin said, 'Addie has been leading an immoral life.' My mother said 'why don't you send others away?' Dr. McKoin said, 'we are going to.' My mother got down on her knees and pleaded, but they made me leave. They told us if [illegible] would blow 'em off.' They made me leave without a hat. Dr. McKoin struck my mother when she made a final plea for me to be allowed to remain. My mother attempted to shove them out of the room. She begged them to let her go to the depot. They refused. They put me in an automobile and Dr. McKoin gave me $7 for my fare to Little Rock. He told me if I did not catch the train, I would be tarred and feathered the next day.

"I was put on the back seat of the automobile and 'Pink' Kirkpatrick threw his legs across my lap."

"What did he do that for?"

"I don't know."

Wallace's Injuries Painful But He Is Expected to Recover

Lincoln friends of C. W. Wallace, formerly a member of the faculty of the University of Nebraska, noted Shakespearean authority, and who cleaned up a fortune estimated at over a million dollars in the Texas oil fields, received word today that Mr. Wallace's injuries in an accident yesterday while painful were not expected to prove serious.

Mr. Wallace was hit by a fire truck while on his way to his office at Wichita Falls, Texas.

This telegram was received by a Lincoln frend today:

"Mr. Wallace painfully but not seriously hurt. Please let all our Lincoln friends know he seems better this morning. Head cut, and broken wrist and bruises now seems extent of injuries."

Play at Church to Show the Condition Of Women in India

An entertainment for the benefit of the Union Christian college fund will be given at the First Christian church Thursday evening. It will consist of a play presented by the Kappa Phi girls based on conditions in the Orient, and Khanta Bala Rai a Brahman Christian girl from Bengal ,will take a leading part as the "Bible Women."

Pertinent questions said to be suggested by the play are: "Shall we have the harem in America?" "Why does our census returns not show 2,000 girls under 5 years of age married?"

A supper will be served at 6 p. m. by women of the church of the city. Everyone is invited. Tickets may be secured from Miss Olive Wallace, F4320.

Sun Yat Sen Is Cheerful After Troops' Success

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—General Chen Chiung-Ming, whose forces captured Canton last summer and drove from power the government of the southern republic, fled from Canton last night and is in Hong Kong today, according to an unconfirmed report from Hong Kong.

Sun Yat Sen, who was president of the southern republic until Chen Chiung-Ming's coup d'etat, is here and he announced today that he had received further word of successes of troops supporting him. These forces have been pressing toward Canton from Wu Chow, along the Samshui-Canton railway.

HOWELL PAYS BRYAN A VISIT

Republican Senator-elect Calls on Governor, Presumably to Discuss Matters of Legislation For Omaha.

WILL HAVE TO SHOW HIS HAND

Before He May Expect Any Help From Democrats, He Will Have to Declare Himself on Repeal of the Code.

R. B. Howell, United States senator-elect and republican national committeeman for Nebraska, signalized his return to Lincoln on Wednesday by calling upon Governor Bryan at the latter's office. It was the first time he has communicated with the latter in person since the two were elected in November on opposite party tickets but with th support of organized labor, the nonpartisan league and other elements.

Heretofore, Mr. Howell has been holding himself rather aloof and gave the impression that he intended to go it alone in trying to get his measures through the legislature. He was rebuffed, however, in the defeat of his candidate for speaker and failing to prevent Representatives Dysart and Dyball of Omaha from serving on the committee on committees and getting the standing committee chairmanships which they desired.

Howell's belated call on Governor Bryan is thought to indicate that he feels the need of democratic help in pushing his own legislative program through. The two men are more or less interested in the same sort of municipal projects for Omaha and Lincoln, respectively.

Governor Bryan's first purpose, however, is to have the code law repealed and to reorganize the state government on a more simplified and economical basis. His recommendations in that regard will soon be laid before the legislature in detail, together with a revised state budget.

Must Show His Hand.

[illegible] become evident, from the attitude which Mr. Howell's close friends in the legislature assume toward the governor's suggestions, whether or not the republican national committeeman desires to cooperate with the state administration. Unless Howell shows some disposition to do this, he may find the democratic members of the legislature somewhat lukewarm toward his own bills.

In the past, the Omaha man has had the reputation of wanting other people to do things for him but seldom going out of his way to do anything for them. The democratic attitude at this time is that the people of Nebraska, who have declared themselves emphatically for repeal of the code and cutting down taxes, have as much claim upon the attention of the legislature as has Mr. Howell with his bills pertaining to Omaha alone.

Should the usual fight develop in the Douglas county delegation between Howell's friends and his enemies, there may be a tendency on th part of out-state members to stand on the sidelines and say: "Go it dog, go it bear." Many of the solons, both republicans and democrats, are saying that Mr. Howell will have to show some interest in legislation for the whole state befor he can expect others to get behind his personal measures.

THINKS CARROLL BEST FOR PLACE

Governor Characterizes Action Of Omaha People Ill Advised.

A resolution passed by the Omaha W. C. T. U. condemning Governor Bryan's appointment of Tom Carroll as chief deputy law enforcement officer as a repudiation of campaign pledges, and advocating the appointment of Elmer E. Thomas, Omaha attorney, to that position, was characterized by the governor, in a newspaper interview Wednesday, as an "impulsive act," by a local group probably pased on a "lack of understanding," or "without personal knowledge of Mr. Carroll's high standing as a dry enforcement officer."

Governor Bryan had received by telegraph a copy of the resolution passed Tuesday at Omaha, but assumes that it was based on local interest in Mr. Thomas candidacy, which has been actively advocated in certain quarters, he said. None of the names appearing in published accounts of the Omaha action were familiar to him as having been identified with the dry movement in the state, nor could he understand the reference to campaign pledges, as all his pledges had been contained in his platform.

The governor stated that Mr. Thomas is a sincere advocate of the dry cause, but that he believes that in Mr. Carroll he has secured the pick of experienced enforcement officers in this part of the country. He has already received many congratulations on the appointment from dry leaders in the state, he said.

TURNS SPOTLIGHT ON U. S. CAPITOL

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The spotlight of bootlegging rumors and charges which has been hovering over Washington had shifted back to the capitol today with the declaration by Representative Upshaw, democrat, Georgia on the floor of the house that "bootleggers ply their devlish trade among too many public men in Washington."

Opportunity for reply by house members to Representative Upshaw's speech, in which he declared he would turn over to enforcement officials all evidence placed in his hands of liquor drinking by government officials including members of the senate and house, was expected today.

Outside of the membership of the senate and house, Representative Upshaw declared he had seen "some of the highest officials in Washington lifting the devilish bottle to their lips." In the evidence, he was preparing to turn in, he said, he would include the name of a "high official (not a diplomat) "who returned from abroad sometime ago, with more than a score of cases of foreign liquor marked "diplomatic."

Capture Quantity Of Liquor In Hot Boundary Battle

(International News Service.)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 10—Customs oficers are en-route to Del Rio today to probe the ramifications of a smuggling ring uncovered during a gun fight early this morning between Mexican border runners, Texas rangers and mounted customs officials.

One smuggler was killed, one wounded and one captured. None of the government men was injured.

During the fight seven horses were killed and 250 quarts and pints of liquor captured. The fight occurred just outside of Del Rio.

The men from headquarters here will endeavor to secure information from the captured bandit regarding the magnitude of the rum running plot.

Shop Workers Send Good Will to Bryan

A resolution of good will and appreciation of his efforts as chief executive, passed unanimously by the Lincoln federated shop crafts on Jan. 5, was presented to Governor Bryan Tuesday evening. The resolution follows:

"Mr. Chas. W. Bryan, Honorable Governor State of Nebraska. Dear Sir: For some time past the principles which you have furthered and longed to some time be in a position to carry out, have been watched by the common people of which we know we are a part.

"Realizing that great good can come out of your principles of which you submitted to the legislature in your messae, we feel that we have at least started on the program for the betterment of the common people, and by a unanimous vote of the federated shop crafts this date, we take this means of informing you of our appreciation of your stand.

"With best wishes for your success both as a chief executive and a private citizen, we beg to remain,

"Yours sincely,

U. S. ARMY MEN ORDERED HOME FROM COBLENZ

President Harding Issues Instructions For Withdrawal of Last of American Forces On Rhine and They Will Move At Early Date.

DEEMS TIME EXPEDIENT FOR RECALL OF TROOPS

It Is Not Known How Far Decision of Chief Executive Influenced By Ruhr Valley Crisis or Recently Passed Senate Resolution.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was ordered today by President Harding.

In announcing the decision the state department said that the president deemed the time expedient for the recall of the forces now at Coblenz.

The American forces remaining in the area number about 1,000 men and it was indicated that the withdrawal order would be carried out as soon as the American commander, Major General Allen, could make the necessary arrangements for winding up finally the affairs of the army of occupation.

A resolution favoring such a withdrawal was adopted Saturday by the senate, but it was not apparent today how far it had contributed to the president's decision, or how far the administration had been influenced by the situation brought about by the French movement into the Ruhr valley.

The date of actual withdrawal of the forces will be left to the war department where it was said that American evacuation of the Coblenz zone would be conducted in an orderly fashion.

Believed Reports Prompt Order.

(International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Harding has ordered all American troops withdrawn from the Rhineland, it was announced at the state department today.

The order for withdrawal went forward to Major General Henry T. Allen at Coblenz this morning. There is reason to believe that the decision to withdraw was made by President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes following the receipt of reports from Ambassador Myron T. Herrick at Paris, and Colonel R. W. Boyden, an American unofficial observer on the reparations commission to the effect that nothing could halt the French plans for seizing the Ruhr basin.

The nature of the reports from Ambassador Herrick and Colonel Boyden were not made public and officials declined to discuss them, but the sudden order for military evacuation of the Rhine threw considerable light upon the nature of their observations.

Summons Secretary Weeks.

President Harding summoned Secretary of War Weeks' in person to the white house at 10:30 a. m. and gave the order of withdrawal Weeks announced that the transports will leave New York today or tomorrow to bring home the entire contingent now stationed at Coblenz.

Major General Allen and the 1,050 men comprising the "army" of occupation will return on the St. Mihiel, and it is probable the movement can be completed within thirty days.

Only a handful of Americans will be left on the Rhine to clean up odds and ends incident to the American occupation and this handful will be left with instructions to complete the work as speedily as possible, in order that the United States may be completely out of Europe within the next six weeks.

Virtually all of the troops now on the Rhine are of the Eighth United States infantry and embrace in addition to the infantrymen, supporting arms such as cavalry, quartermaster, artillery, tank corps and air service contingents.

Will Go to Antwerp.

Two Fined For Speeding — Miss Louise Miller, Havelock, and Walter Borner, 510 North Fourteenth street each pleaded guilty in police court Wednesday morning to a charge of speeding and were fined ten dollars and costs by Judge E. B. Chappell.

Dismiss Case—The case against Bartolo Perez, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was dismissed in Justice W. A. Hawes' court Wednesday on motion of the county attorney. Perez pleaded not guilty when arraigned Tuesday. He paid the costs of the case.

Want Verdict Set Aside—A motion to set aside the verdict in the case of the Guardian Trust company of Denver against H. H. Meyers has been filed in federal court by attorneys for the defendant. The court directed a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $10,692.81. As reason for setting aside of the verdict the petition says that the plaintiff failed to prove at the trial that the court had jurisdiction in the action.

Case to Federal Court—The case of the American Potash company and the insurance companies that had insured its property at Antioch against the Burlington railroad has been transferred from the Lancaster county district court to federal court. The potash company asks damages totaling $350,000 and interest against the railroad for the alleged burning of its property on April 2, 1921 from sparks or cinders from one of its locomotives.

Sues For Divorce—Dollie Amelia Covert has filed a petition in district court here for divorce from Leslie Glen Covert. They were married in Indianola, Ia., September 8 1920, and for many months thereafter moved from place to place, coming to Lincoln late in 1921, the petition recites. They have lived apart for several months. She states he has never provided a home for her and has not supported her. She seeks restoration of her maiden name of Angle Humane Society Elects.—At a meeting of the executive board of the Lancaster County Humane society, held recently in the Chamber of Commerce, J. L. McMasters was elected as a member in the place of W. W. Bradley resigning member and the other five former members were re-elected. These include: Judge Lincoln Frost, O. J. Allison, Charles Roper, Miss M. B. Stuart and T. J. Hensley, C. E. McClain was re-elected as executive secretary and superintendent. The plan and constitution of the newly formed council of social agencies for Lincoln were approved and representatives of the Humane society will attend the meeting of the other organization on Thursday. The object is the combining of charitable and public service organizations into one general council to prevent overlapping and to provide for one annual community budget to support them all.

LEATRICE JOY CHARMING RIALTO AUDIENCES IN "MINNIE."

Marshal Neilan's latest production "Minnie," which is appearing at the Rialto this week is a romance of a Cinderella of the sink, replete with chuckles, chokes and cheers. She wrote herself love letters and lived them all. "Minnie" has been pronounced by the critics of our metropolitan cities to be one of the few really entertaining productions of the season. Other entertaining features.

RODOLPH VALENTINO CROWDING THE LYRIC THIS WEEK.

Valentino, the perfect lover, is appearing in another triumph, "The Young Rajah," at the Lyric this week. It is a story vibrant with passionate love scenes, dazzling with gorgeous settings and costumes, thrill-swept with adventure and mystery. Supporting cast includes Wanda Hawley and Charles Ogle.

A WONDERFUL MELODRAMA, "THE FAST MAIL" AT THE COLONIAL.

Seats are at a premium at the Colonial this week. The feature attraction is "The Fast Mail," a sensational speed drama of love and thrills, which delighted all New York. It is founded on the famous play by Lincoln J. Carter. It is an honest motion picture with Charles Jones and Eileen Percy in the leading roles.

JERRY AND HER PIANO GIRLS LAST TIMES TODAY AT THE LIBERTY.

The final performances will be given today of the bill which includes a novel divertissement, Jerry and Her Piano Girls; Werner Amoros Trio in a novel musical review; Hazel Olive and Billy Mack in an up to the minute comedy skit, "Lobby Love"; Mills and Duncan, a pair of rural funsters and the Musical Hunters, in "A Morning in the Woods"; comedy and news pictures and peerless, fearless Pearl White in the mystery play, "Plunder."

Hastings Knights Talk Of Building

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10. — Knights of Columbus are seriously contemplating the erection of a lodge building on their lots at Third street and St. Joseph avenues. A committee has been named to investigate the advisability of beginning a structure at once.

HOUSE BILLS.

H. R. 49, by Bock—Makes county instead of school district liable for payment of non-resident pupils' tuition in accredited high schools.

H. R. 50 by Essam and Densmore—Appropriates $35,000 to buy additional land and farm equipment at Beatrice institute for feeble minded Emergency.

H. R. 51, by Parkinson—Makes county treasurer ineligible for re-election.

H. R. 52, by Parkinson—Makes failure to administer anesthetics in practicing veterinary surgery and dentistry cause for cancellation of license.

H. R. 53, by Hyde—Requires poultry buyers to secure bills of sale for all fowls purchased. Penalty, $1 to $10 fine for violation, and $25 to $50 for false statement in bill of sale. Emergency.

H. R. 54, by Jacoby—Requires counting boards in all precincts which have cast an average of 150 votes at general elections for five years previous.

SEIFKES IS CHAIRMAN.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The county board of supervisors met Tuesday afternoon and reorganized for the year by electing Ben H. Seifkes of the First district, chairman. He has served three years on the board.

BILL TO REDUCE PAY OF OFFICERS

Asks $20,000 For Relief Of Man Shot During Fred Brown Hunt.

Another bill to reduce salaries of state executive officers and supreme and district court judges made its appearance in the legislature Wednesday. Representative Jacoby of Lancaster, is the introducer. The proposed salary scale is:

Governor and supreme court judges, $5,000 each, reduced from $7,500.

Other elective state officers and district court judges, $4,000 each, reduced from $5,000.

The bill further provides that the lieutenant governor shall draw pay when acting as governor, at the rate allowed the chief executive, to be deducted from the latter's salary.

No change is made in the $5,000 salary of the state tax commissioner or the $4,000 drawn by each member of the board of control, all of whom are appointive officers. Mr. Jacoby said this was an oversight in the case of the tax commissioner and he would ask to have the bill amended so as to include that officer in the general cut.

To Reimburse Guard's Victim.

Mr. Jacoby also proposed an appropriation of $20,000 to reimburse Fred Lunsman, farmer living north of Lincoln, for permanent injury which he claims to have suffered from being shot in the left arm and shoulder by a state guard at the North Fourteenth street bridge over Oak Creek on June 9, last, during the hunt for Fred Brown, Benson chain-man.

To print all constitutional amendments and initiated nd referred laws on the general election ballot, instead of a special ballot, is the object of a bill offered in the house by Mr. Hyde.

A bill aimed at the Ku Klux Klan, similar to the one previously introduced in the senate, was put into the house hopper by Mr. Strehlow of Douglas county. It forbids meetings in disguise, to investigate alleged offenses of individuals, executing penalties, or otherwise usurping the functioning of public officials and courts.

Half fare for clergymen on railroads in Nebraska would be legalized in a bill by Mr. Kemper. Ministers now have this privilege when traveling interstate, but not otherwise.

Following are the bills introduced in the house Wednesday:

New House Bills.

H. R. No. 55, by Strehlow—Increasing the number of juvenile probation officers in Douglas county from three to four and the number of women from two to three.

H. R. No. 56, by Strehlow—To prohibit persons singly or collectively, meeting in disguise for the purpose, whether real or professed, of carrying out threats or investigating, discussing or holding pretended hearings to be determined by guilt or innocence of persons.

H. R. No. 57, by finance, ways and means committee — Appropriating 117,000 for the salaries of state senators and representatives.

H. R. No. 58, by finance, ways and means committee — Appropriating $75,000 for the compensation of employes, mileage of members and general expense of legislative session.

H. R. No. 59, by Keifer—Exempting crows from the classification of non-game birds, whose destruction is forbidden by law.

H. R. No. 60, by Keifer—Providing for a ten-cent bounty on crows.

H. R. No. 61, by Thomasson—Providing for an artisan's lien for repairs on automobiles, vehicles, machinery and farm machinery, and for lien upon the same for storage.

H. R. No. 62, by Kemper—Providing that railroad companies shall sell regularly employed clergymen tickets or mileage at one-half the regular fares.

H. R. No. 63, by Thatcher—Repealing the present law relating to the awarding of yearly contracts for bridge building by county boards.

H. R. No. 64, by Thatcher—Repealing the present law relating to the creation, collection and distribution of special emergency bridge levies.

H. R. No. 65, by Thatcher—Providing for the filing by county officers of semi-annual estimates for supplies and equipment and regulating the purchase of all supplies for county purposes.

H. R. No. 66, by Thatcher—Providing that county road dragging fund may be used for graveling the highways.

H. R. No. 67, by Gallagher and Thatcher—Providing for the distribution of money raised for road tax in cities and villages and expenditure of one-half for streets.

H. R. No. 68, by Jacoby—Fixing the salaries of governor and supreme court judges at $5,000 a year, and other elective state officers and district judges at $4,000 a year, each. The lieutenant governor is to have the pay of the governor when serving as governor, the amount to be deducted from the latter's salary.

H. R. No. 69, by Jacoby—Appropriating $20,000 for the relief of Fred Lunsman of Lancaster county, shot in the arm and shouder by a state guard.

H. R. No. 70, by Hyde—Providing for a single election ballot except for non-political candidates.

Gilead Suffers a Destructive Fire

(Special to The Star.)

HUBBELL, Neb., Jan. 10—Fire at half past three o'clock Tuesday morning entirely destroyed the opera house, hardware store and a vacant building in the village of Gilead. The origin of the blaze is unknown. The loss is largely covered by insurance.

BATHS FOR RAMBLERS.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—No more will the tired and weary travelers, who are invited to spend a night in the city jail, be sent up to bed unwashed and unclean. Hot and cold showers are being installed and the whole place modernized. A drinking fountain only remains to be put in but orders are already waiting for that.

BEATRICE WEDDINGS.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The first couple to be wedded this year by County Judge Messmore was Henry J. Brandt and Mrs. Carrie Hess of Tarkio, Mo. The couple was divorced about two years ago. Steve Slipica of Wilber, and Georgia Sebeck of DeWitt were also married by the judge.

Melody Unmarred by Scratch or Scrape

OUR announcement of a new record with the old irritating surface sounds conspicuously absent created a tremendous interest.

The way the public rushed to put them to the test proved that needle noise, heretofore an unavoidable part of every phonograph record, had filed their nerves raw.

And what did they find? They found every word we said about Columbia New Process Records was true. They found musical beauty they never knew existed. Delicate phrasing came out that surface noise had always drowned. They discovered inflections of voice and instrument that had always been blurred by scratch and scrape.

To-night, give your folks a treat and a surprise. Take home one of these new selections, out to-day, with the quietest surface ever produced. Whether they dance or not, take home "Who Cares?", a new spasm of syncopated ecstasy by Eddie Elkins' Orchestra. Paired with it is "Blue," another fox-trot so joyous you'll wonder why the melancholy name.

Tear out this list and take it to a Columbia Dealer and ask to hear these records. Whether it is dance music, popular songs, old-fashioned melodies, instrumental or symphony selections you enjoy most, you'll find Columbia New Process Records far superior because of extra recording care and the absence of intrusive scratch and scrape.

LEATRICE JOY CHARMING RIALTO AUDIENCES IN "MINNIE."

Marshal Neilan's latest production "Minnie," which is appearing at the Rialto this week is a romance of a Cinderella of the sink, replete with chuckles, chokes and cheers. She wrote herself love letters and lived them all. "Minnie" has been pronounced by the critics of our metropolitan cities to be one of the few really entertaining productions of the season. Other entertaining features.

RODOLPH VALENTINO CROWDING THE LYRIC THIS WEEK.

Valentino, the perfect lover, is appearing in another triumph, "The Young Rajah," at the Lyric this week. It is a story vibrant with passionate love scenes, dazzling with gorgeous settings and costumes, thrill-swept with adventure and mystery. Supporting cast includes Wanda Hawley and Charles Ogle.

A WONDERFUL MELODRAMA, "THE FAST MAIL" AT THE COLONIAL.

Seats are at a premium at the Colonial this week. The feature attraction is "The Fast Mail," a sensational speed drama of love and thrills, which delighted all New York. It is founded on the famous play by Lincoln J. Carter. It is an honest motion picture with Charles Jones and Eileen Percy in the leading roles.

JERRY AND HER PIANO GIRLS LAST TIMES TODAY AT THE LIBERTY.

The final performances will be given today of the bill which includes a novel divertissement, Jerry and Her Piano Girls; Werner Amoros Trio in a novel musical review; Hazel Olive and Billy Mack in an up to the minute comedy skit, "Lobby Love"; Mills and Duncan, a pair of rural funsters and the Musical Hunters, in "A Morning in the Woods"; comedy and news pictures and peerless, fearless Pearl White in the mystery play, "Plunder."

H. R. 54, by Jacoby—Requires counting boards in all precincts which have cast an average of 150 votes at general elections for five years previous.

SEIFKES IS CHAIRMAN.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The county board of supervisors met Tuesday afternoon and reorganized for the year by electing Ben H. Seifkes of the First district, chairman. He has served three years on the board.

BILL TO REDUCE PAY OF OFFICERS

Asks $20,000 For Relief Of Man Shot During Fred Brown Hunt.

Another bill to reduce salaries of state executive officers and supreme and district court judges made its appearance in the legislature Wednesday. Representative Jacoby of Lancaster, is the introducer. The proposed salary scale is:

Governor and supreme court judges, $5,000 each, reduced from $7,500.

Other elective state officers and district court judges, $4,000 each, reduced from $5,000.

The bill further provides that the lieutenant governor shall draw pay when acting as governor, at the rate allowed the chief executive, to be deducted from the latter's salary.

No change is made in the $5,000 salary of the state tax commissioner or the $4,000 drawn by each member of the board of control, all of whom are appointive officers. Mr. Jacoby said this was an oversight in the case of the tax commissioner and he would ask to have the bill amended so as to include that officer in the general cut.

To Reimburse Guard's Victim.

Mr. Jacoby also proposed an appropriation of $20,000 to reimburse Fred Lunsman, farmer living north of Lincoln, for permanent injury which he claims to have suffered from being shot in the left arm and shoulder by a state guard at the North Fourteenth street bridge over Oak Creek on June 9, last, during the hunt for Fred Brown, Benson chain-man.

To print all constitutional amendments and initiated nd referred laws on the general election ballot, instead of a special ballot, is the object of a bill offered in the house by Mr. Hyde.

A bill aimed at the Ku Klux Klan, similar to the one previously introduced in the senate, was put into the house hopper by Mr. Strehlow of Douglas county. It forbids meetings in disguise, to investigate alleged offenses of individuals, executing penalties, or otherwise usurping the functioning of public officials and courts.

Half fare for clergymen on railroads in Nebraska would be legalized in a bill by Mr. Kemper. Ministers now have this privilege when traveling interstate, but not otherwise.

Following are the bills introduced in the house Wednesday:

New House Bills.

H. R. No. 55, by Strehlow—Increasing the number of juvenile probation officers in Douglas county from three to four and the number of women from two to three.

H. R. No. 56, by Strehlow—To prohibit persons singly or collectively, meeting in disguise for the purpose, whether real or professed, of carrying out threats or investigating, discussing or holding pretended hearings to be determined by guilt or innocence of persons.

H. R. No. 57, by finance, ways and means committee — Appropriating 117,000 for the salaries of state senators and representatives.

H. R. No. 58, by finance, ways and means committee — Appropriating $75,000 for the compensation of employes, mileage of members and general expense of legislative session.

H. R. No. 59, by Keifer—Exempting crows from the classification of non-game birds, whose destruction is forbidden by law.

H. R. No. 60, by Keifer—Providing for a ten-cent bounty on crows.

H. R. No. 61, by Thomasson—Providing for an artisan's lien for repairs on automobiles, vehicles, machinery and farm machinery, and for lien upon the same for storage.

H. R. No. 62, by Kemper—Providing that railroad companies shall sell regularly employed clergymen tickets or mileage at one-half the regular fares.

H. R. No. 63, by Thatcher—Repealing the present law relating to the awarding of yearly contracts for bridge building by county boards.

H. R. No. 64, by Thatcher—Repealing the present law relating to the creation, collection and distribution of special emergency bridge levies.

H. R. No. 65, by Thatcher—Providing for the filing by county officers of semi-annual estimates for supplies and equipment and regulating the purchase of all supplies for county purposes.

H. R. No. 66, by Thatcher—Providing that county road dragging fund may be used for graveling the highways.

H. R. No. 67, by Gallagher and Thatcher—Providing for the distribution of money raised for road tax in cities and villages and expenditure of one-half for streets.

H. R. No. 68, by Jacoby—Fixing the salaries of governor and supreme court judges at $5,000 a year, and other elective state officers and district judges at $4,000 a year, each. The lieutenant governor is to have the pay of the governor when serving as governor, the amount to be deducted from the latter's salary.

H. R. No. 69, by Jacoby—Appropriating $20,000 for the relief of Fred Lunsman of Lancaster county, shot in the arm and shouder by a state guard.

H. R. No. 70, by Hyde—Providing for a single election ballot except for non-political candidates.

Gilead Suffers a Destructive Fire

(Special to The Star.)

HUBBELL, Neb., Jan. 10—Fire at half past three o'clock Tuesday morning entirely destroyed the opera house, hardware store and a vacant building in the village of Gilead. The origin of the blaze is unknown. The loss is largely coverede by insurance.

BATHS FOR RAMBLERS.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—No more will the tired and weary travelers, who are invited to spend a night in the city jail, be sent up to bed unwashed and unclean. Hot and cold showers are being installed and the whole place modernized. A drinking fountain only remains to be put in but orders are already waiting for that.

BEATRICE WEDDINGS.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The first couple to be wedded this year by County Judge Messmore was Henry J. Brandt and Mrs. Carrie Hess of Tarkio, Mo. The couple was divorced about two years ago. Steve Slipica of Wilber, and Georgia Sebeck of DeWitt were also married by the judge.

Melody Unmarred by Scratch or Scrape

OUR announcement of a new record with the old irritating surface sounds conspicuously absent created a tremendous interest.

The way the public rushed to put them to the test proved that needle noise, heretofore an unavoidable part of every phonograph record, had filed their nerves raw.

And what did they find? They found every word we said about Columbia New Process Records was true. They found musical beauty they never knew existed. Delicate phrasing came out that surface noise had always drowned. They discovered inflections of voice and instrument that had always been blurred by scratch and scrape.

To-night, give your folks a treat and a surprise. Take home one of these new selections, out to-day, with the quietest surface ever produced. Whether they dance or not, take home "Who Cares?", a new spasm of syncopated ecstasy by Eddie Elkins' Orchestra. Paired with it is "Blue," another fox-trot so joyous you'll wonder why the melancholy name.

Tear out this list and take it to a Columbia Dealer and ask to hear these records. Whether it is dance music, popular songs, old-fashioned melodies, instrumental or symphony selections you enjoy most, you'll find Columbia New Process Records far superior because of extra recording care and the absence of intrusive scratch and scrape.

A Raw, Sore Throat

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion pleurisy rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest. Keep it handy for instant use, 35c and 65c jars and tubes; hospital size $3.00.

TEACHERS VICTIMS OF YOUNG FORGER

Purports to Represent Lincoln Firm and Raises Several Checks.

(Special to The Star)

GRAND ISLAND, Nb., Jan. 10.—A smooth forger has been working the school teachers of the county.

Presenting himself as the representative of various periodicals and purporting to have the recommendations of the county superintendent, he took subscriptions for teachers and other periodicals at very low prices, and then raised their checks in the sum of $10.00 each.

A check of $1.50 by Miss Grace Donaher was raised to $15.00, one by Miss Nellie Vaveny of $4.50 to $14.50. Miss Laura Rink and Miss Leola Parks were other victims.

The young, slim, dark complected man represented himself to be an agent of the Publishers Promotion company of Lincoln, which firm, the sheriff ascertains, does not exist. The county superintendent never gives out any such recommendations.

So far as reported the victims are all school teachers.

IMPOSE SENTENCE OF DEATH ON 172

Indians Accused of Murder and Arson As Riot Result Must Die.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 10—Advices from Lucknow state that the death sentence has been imposed on 172 Indians accused of murder and arson, as a result of the non-co-operationist rioting at Chauri-Chaura, last February.

Two hundred and twenty-eight persons were originally held on the charges. Of this number forty-seven were acquitted and two received prison terms. The others died while awaiting trial.

Seventeen native police were killed in the rioting at Chauri-Chaura, which occurred on February 4 last. The demonstration was one episode in a week-end of anti-British uprisings in various parts of India.

The mob at Chauri-Chaura, numbering 2,000 Indian nationalist volunteers reinforced by villagers, attacked the police and killed the entire staff, including the eight policemen who were sent to reinforce the post. The buildings were burned. Chauri-Chaura is fifteen miles southwest of Gorakpur on the Bengal northwestern railway.

On the same day a disturbance was reported at the town of Bareilly in the middle united provinces. A crowd of 5,000 persons which attempted to seize the town hall, was dispersed by the police after two members ofthe mob had been killed and five wounded.

Later, another disturbance occurred at Tiruvannamalai, 85 miles southeast of Madras, in the Tanjore district. Three persons were killed and eight wounded.

Iowa-Nebraska Master Decorators Dissolve Old Organization at Meeting Here.

A resolution was passed at the Wednesday morning meeting of the Iowa-Nebraska Master Painters and Decorators' convention dissolving the present bi-state organization and calling for the formation of an association for each state. A meeting was set for 4 p. m. at which the details of organization were to be completed and officers for each state elected.

The change was made in the interests of both states the delegates feeling that if the two states had separate organizations the membership would be greatly increased in each. The long distance to the conventions caused by holding the meetings alternately in the two states was also a reason given for the change.

F. A. Kennedy, state labor commissioner, gave a talk on the workman's compensation act explaining various details and answering questions.

Mr. Kennedy urged that people hire workmen who are insured.

The visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, following which they were taken on an auto drive about the city.

NEARLY THOUSAND BOYS 'Y' MEMBERS

Secretary Vessey's Report Shows Big Increase Over Former Years.

Two Hundred and Fifty in Bible Study—Awards to Nine Boys.

The boys' work committee of the Y. M. C. A. held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at 6 o'clock. Executive Secretary Vessey submitted a report covering the activities of the various phases of boys' work for the past month. The report showed a great increase over former years in a number of items. The membership report showed a total of 820 members in the Central building and the Hi-Y club. This is a great increase over former years. Much interest is being taken in the four-square clubs. The charting of boys is proving very valuable in that it shows the boys just where his life is not square. In several instances of late, boys have become members of the church in order that their insignia which they are allowed to wear on their sweaters might be more nearly perfect. A feature of the meeting Tuesday night was the presence of nine boys for awards in the program.

The Christian Citizenship Training Program is four-square calling for development along physical, mental, social and devotional lines. Right in the heart of the program and the keystone of all is the service program. A boy may be unusually bright mentally; may have a splendid physical development; may attend public worship, church, school and all those things; may even be considered thrifty and broad minded; and yet not be intellectually interested in serving others. With this in mind, and with the firm conviction that a very large percentage of boys may earlier be led into forming service habits, service recognitions are given a very important place in this program. Service is divided into seven divisions: First, a personal service in which a boy renders personal service to someone outside the family. Second, home service in which a boy is required to render special service to the home, such as taking care of the furnace for a period of six months or caring for younger children in the home in the absence of parents. Third, church service in which a boy assists in some phase of church work. Fourth, school service in which a boy renders some special service or is an officer of some activity in the school. Fifth, community service in which a boy takes part in some community wide campaign such as clean-up, fly extermination, or community gardens. Sixth, service to the club in which a boy has ben a leader of some club of boys. Seventh, saving human life in which a boy actually saved life.

Assistant Secretary Warrington introduced the following boys who had won service recognition. Norman Chase was awarded the numeral two, Howard Colton six, Walter Ducker six, Junior Gooch one, Russell Means one, Laurence Tyler one, Clifford Vessey one, Wallace Webster one, Thomas Work four. The committee was very enthusiastic over the progress in the various departments of the boys work.

"Yes, Mrs. Smith Resinol is wonderful!"

"We always keep a jar on hand. It is the best thing I know for eczema and similar ills, and it is so gentle and soothing it is excellent for cuts, burns, or sores. We use Resinol Soap also—it's ideal for the complexion and bath. Yes, you can get all the Resinol products from your druggist."

PIONEER MOTHER NOT FORGOTTEN

I. J. Dunn Tells of Their Part In Nebraska's Development.

Says Wholesome Friendliness of the Early Days Is Gone.

"I believe that standing in front and entitled to more credit than any other class is the pioneer mother," said I. J. Dunn of Omaha who delivered the principal address before more than two hundred members of the Nebraska Territorial Pioneers' association who met at the Grand hotel for luncheon Tuesday followed by a program continuing through the afternoon. Five-minute speeches by a large number of early pioneers, singing of old-time songs led by Mrs A. S. Raymond and old-fashioned violin and piano music by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Moore made up the rest of the program.

Mr. Dunn based his address on personal experience, as his parents went to Sarpy county to live on their homestead in 1860 and he was born there. He lived there till he was 16 years old when he left home to make his own way in the world. His mother, who is 85 years old, is still living on the old homestead. In his boyhood the district school was sometimes in session five months in the year, some times less, but he went to school only two months a year, as he was busy farming the rest of the time. Great numbers of Indians passing along the trail on the ridge a short distance from their home was a common sight to him.

Home Life Is Lacking.

Paying a tribute to his own mother and to all pioneer mothers, Mr. Dunn drew a comparison between the pioneer homes and the homes of today. He said that in those days a family would hitch the oxen to the wagon and go to the neighbor's to visit. The father and mother would sit on the seat and the eight or ten children on the floor of the wagon. They would reach the neighbor's in timefor dinner and then would visit a while and go home in time to do the chores. Coming back to the present he said, "Do you realize that the ability to enjoy each other's company in the home is a lost art. The home in the city and the country is not what it ought to be, and the life of the nation depends upon the home." Mr. Dunn said that we enjoy many conveniences now we did not have the wholesome friendliness of those days.

A letter from Edgar Howard of Columbus was read in which he suggested that the association use its influence to have bronze statues of the noted pioneers placed in the new capitol. The matter was turned over to the executive committee.

The new executive board is composed of: Moses B. O'Brien of Omaha, Mrs. Margaret M. Blanchard of Lincoln and R. B. Windham of Plattsmouth.

The five-minute speakers were T. N. Bobbitt of Lincoln, B. N. Syford of Lincoln, Mrs. Mary E. Spalding, E. D. McCallum of Nebraska City, G. E. Thompson of Palmyra, Mrs. May Orison of Palmyra, G. E. Thompson of Lincoln, Robert Harvey of St. Paul, Mrs. Nancy McGlasson of Lincoln, R. B. Windham of Plattsmouth, Mrs. Mary Carmack of Omaha, L. W. Garroutte of Lincoln, Mrs. Margaret M. Blanchard of Lincoln, C. E. Bardwell of Lincoln, Mrs. A. S. Eager of Lincoln and Mrs. Jacobus of Roca.

Many interesting events of early days were told by these pioneers. The suggestion was made that the children and grandchildren of the pioneers be interested in the organization and brought to the meetings so that they would appreciate what had been done for them by their parents and grandparents.

Simmons Gives Review.

L. A. Simmons, the retiring president delivered his address before the luncheon. He gave a general view of the development of the state and recalled memories of noted pioneers. He is the son of Rev. Henry Simmons who brought him to the territory at the age of 5 years. Since March, 1863, the family has lived near Salt creek, south of Lincoln.

Mr. Simmons gave this interesting description of the steam wagon:

On our arrival in Nebraska in 1862 we at first stopped on the farm of Col. Majors, two miles west of Nebraska City. While we were there, the test of the steam wagon was made. It was run from Nebraska City to our house, and that was as far as it ever got. It was left standing there for years and finally dismantled there. A great deal has been written and told about the steam wagon, but I doubt if there is another person here that saw the wagon running on its own power. If I was an artist I could paint a picture of this engine, so vividly is the picture inbedded in my mind. It was similar to our present day tractors, only that it had two big drive wheels at each end and the cab and machinery between the four wheels.

Real Estate Men Gather Here For Annual Meeting

The directors and officers of the Nebraska Realtors' association convened at the Grand hotel Wednesday morning preceding their annual meeting which opened Wednesday afternoon. Officers and delegates were guests of the chamber of commerce at noon. F. H. Richards of Fremont is president, and G. J. Mauel of Lincoln is a member of the board of directors.

WHY CHILDREN ARE SICK IN WINTER

CHILDREN get sick in winter because they don't get the pure fresh air and outdoor exercise they need and their blood gets out of order.

If your children are the least bit run down, thin in flesh and subject to colds, build them up with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will give them a new supply of rich, red blood, give them strength and vigor, and help them to resist disease.

TEACHERS VICTIMS OF YOUNG FORGER

Purports to Represent Lincoln Firm and Raises Several Checks.

(Special to The Star)

GRAND ISLAND, Nb., Jan. 10.—A smooth forger has been working the school teachers of the county.

Presenting himself as the representative of various periodicals and purporting to have the recommendations of the county superintendent, he took subscriptions for teachers and other periodicals at very low prices, and then raised their checks in the sum of $10.00 each.

A check of $1.50 by Miss Grace Donaher was raised to $15.00, one by Miss Nellie Vaveny of $4.50 to $14.50. Miss Laura Rink and Miss Leola Parks were other victims.

The young, slim, dark complected man represented himself to be an agent of the Publishers Promotion company of Lincoln, which firm, the sheriff ascertains, does not exist. The county superintendent never gives out any such recommendations.

So far as reported the victims are all school teachers.

Coming Events

Moving Pictures Of Poultry Industry

The poultry industry in motion pictures will be shown at the agricurtural college at 7:30 Thursday evening, January 12, in the auditorium of the dairy building.

These pictures portray poultry conditions in different sections of the United tSates. There are some reels from the government poultry farm at Beltsville, Maryland; some from a large poultry farm in the state of Washington, and others, including poultry conditions in Nebraska.

The pictures are run in connection with the poultry short course, which is in progress at the Agricultural college this week. One hundred and twenty-five meetings are open to the public and everyone is invited.

IMPOSE SENTENCE OF DEATH ON 172

Indians Accused of Murder and Arson As Riot Result Must Die.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 10—Advices from Lucknow state that the death sentence has been imposed on 172 Indians accused of murder and arson, as a result of the non-co-operationist rioting at Chauri-Chaura, last February.

Two hundred and twenty-eight ptrsons were originally held on the charges. Of this number forty-seven were aacquitted and two received prison terms. The others died while awaiting trial.

Seventeen native police were killed in the rioting at Chauri-Chaura, which occurred on February 4 last. The demonstration was one episode in a week-end of anti-British uprisings in various parts of India.

The mob at Chauri-Chaura, numbering 2,000 Indian nationalist volunteers reinforced by villagers, attacked the police and killed the entire staff, including the eight policemen who were sent to reinforce the post. The buildings were burned. Chauri-Chaura is fifteen miles southwest of Gorakpur on the Bengal northwestern railway.

On the same day a disturbance was reported at the town of Bareilly in the middle united provinces. A crowd of 5,000 persons which attempted to seize the town hall, was dispersed by the police after two members ofthe mob had been killed and five wounded.

Later, another isturbance occurred at Tiruvannamalai, 85 miles southeast of Madras, in the Tanjore district. Three persons were killed and eight wounded.

EACH STATE TO HAVE OWN GROUP

Iowa-Nebraska Master Decorators Dissolve Old Organization at Meeting Here.

A resolution was passed at the Wednesday morning meeting of the Iowa-Nebraska Master Painters and Decorators' convention dissolving the present bi-state organization and calling for the formation of an association for each state. A meeting was set for 4 p. m. at which the details of organization were to be completed and officers for each state elected.

The change was made in the interests of both states the delegates feeling that if the two states had separate organizations the membership would be greatly increased in each. The long distance to the conventions caused by holding the meetings alternately in the two states was also a reason given for the change.

F. A. Kennedy, state labor commissioner, gave a talk on the workman's compensation act, explaining various details and answering questions.

Mr. Kennedy urged that people hire workmen who are insured.

The visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, following which they were taken on an auto drive about the city.

NEARLY THOUSAND BOYS 'Y' MEMBERS

Secretary Vessey's Report Shows Big Increase Over Former Years.

Two Hundred and Fifty in Bible Study—Awards to Nine Boys.

The boys' work committee of the Y. M. C. A. held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at 6 o'clock Executive Secretary Vessey submitted a report covering the activities of the various phases of boys' work for the past month. The report showed a great increase over former years in a number of items. The membership report showed a total of 820 members in the Central building and the Hi-Y club. This is a great increase over former years. Much interest is being taken in the four-square clubs. The charting of boys is proving very valuable in that it shows the boys just where his life is not square. In several instances of late, boys have become members of the church in order that their insignia which they are allowed to wear on their sweaters might be more nearly perfect. A feature of the meeting Tuesday night was the presence of nine boys for awards in the program.

The Christian Citizenship Training Program is four-square calling for development along physical, mental, social and devotional lines. Right in the heart of the program and the keystone of all is the service program. A boy may be unusually bright mentally; may have a splendid physical development; may attend public worship, church, school and all those things; may even be considered tthrifty and broad minded; and yet not be intellectually interested in serving others. With this in mind, and with the firm conviction that a very large percentage of boys may earlier be led into forming service habits, service recognitions are given a very important place in this program. Service is divided into seven divisions: First, a personal service in which a boy renders personal service to someone outside the family. Second, home servic in which a boy is required to render special service to the home, such as taking care of the furnace for a period of six months or caring for younger children in the home in the absence of parents. Third, church service in which a boy assists in some phase of church work. Fourth, school service in which a boy renders some special service or is an officer of some activity in the school. Fifth, community service in which a boy takes part in some community wide campaign such as clean-up, fly extermination, or community gardens. Sixth, service to the club in which a boy has ben a leader of some club of boys. Seventh, saving human life in which a boy actually saved life.

Assistant Secretary Warrington introduced the following boys who had won service recognition. Norman Chase was awarded the numeral two, Howard Colton six, Walter Ducker six, Junior Gooch one, Russell Means one, Laurence Tyler one, Clifford Vessey one, Wallace Webster one, Thomas Work four. The committee was very enthusiastic over the progress in the various departments of the boys work.

Minerva's Mail

Welcome to "Ardent."

Dear Minerva: Well! Well! Wonders never cease. After a prolonged absence caused by we know not what our good friend "Ardent Suffragette" returns to her old haunts with a brand new theme and a nice little poem. Instead of lecturing us upon the sinfulness of divorce and the evils of the modern dance she has picked up an armful of brickbats to hurl at poor old battle scarred but still alive and kicking John Barleycorn just as if the poor old sinner had not already been chastised enough to make him behave himself for a thousand years and she also tosses a brickbat or two at that innocent young creature, Milady Nicotine.

Now "Ardent" you may not believe this but it is absolutely true just the same: I was growing worried over you. I feared that you had left us, had moved away or that some dreadful calamity had befallen you, that possibly you had listened to the voice of temptation and in an evil hour had been persuaded to partake of some of that fermented grape juice you once told us you dumped upon your rose bushes and in a wild delirium of delight had jumped into your big automobile, stepped on the gas and run afoul of a ditch, a fence post, or a prize pig with disastrous results and that you were now wearing wings and a white robe and twanging a golden harp, but we are glad to welcome you back even though your opinions are for the most part incompatible. Like "Old Faithful" out in the Yellowstone National Park you never disappoint us and we can usually rely upon you to throw a spark now and then into the powder magazine and start a few fireworks when things become dull and if Minerva will pardon an honest opinion, the mail has not been as colorful this winter as it has been in previous years. We do not censure the conductress of the department for this state of affairs. The fault lies with those who contribute to it, or rather fail to contribute.

I heartily agree with the sentiments expressed by "An Old Time Reader" and while my name was not included in her list of "the old guard" I am really one of them and this letter is my bit towards jazzing things up a little. Perhaps some old readers remember me. But come "Ardent" take that big overstuffed rocker on the other side of my fireplace (in fancy anyway). How cheerful the leaping flames are this bitter cold night [illegible] let us reason together. We are both amenable to reason I'm sure. Just a little correction before going further. [illegible] fireplace [illegible] I should have said [illegible] for 'Frisco is my home now. Did you ever visit "The great [illegible] city by the sea"? [illegible] Come out [illegible] and I'll show you around. [illegible] "The Path of Gold" at midnight, the theatre and cafe district, Knob Hill, the beautiful Golden Gate Park with its fine new art gallery and museum and its nearly nine miles of wooded hills and dells, lakes and terraces and children's play grounds, winding roads and picturesque bridges all in the heart of a big and busy city, and the Presidio with its forts and soldiers and Chinatown with its queer stores filled with rich silks and embroideries, wonderful ornaments of carved ivory and jade and strange [illegible], perfumes and fine teas, [illegible] the Pacific [illegible] everywhere. But back to the fireplace and the reasoning.

You [illegible] interested with [illegible] cigarettes to non-smoking boys together with a letter urging them to enjoy the present. [illegible] come down to earth for just a little while. It's a pretty good place after all. I fear you don't think so but if you would just take the time to [illegible] with some of the plain everyday folks who work hard six days a week, sometimes seven because they are compelled to, who try their best and try to get a little fun out of life as they travel along the pathway of the years instead of mingling so much with the high-brows, nervous false alarmists and "sich" with their fantastic notions and various isms I am sure you would get a clearer outlook on life, a kindlier feeling for humanity in general and be much happier. It's a terrible to live in an atmosphere of apprehension and impending calamity and worrying over things that possibly could happen but never do. But what I want to know is how are the "Tobacco trappers" going to obtain the names of non-smoking boys? They might obtain a few from city directories but how would they know whether the masculine names listed therein belonged to men or boys, whether they smoked or not, whether their favorite dish was corned beef and cabbage or ham and eggs, and whether they wore red or blue neckties. I have seen many directories but never one that gave a biographical sketch along with each names and address. You can readily see that to secure the boys' names and their tastes it would require the services of an army of spies and detectives constantly at work all over the country that the cost would be enormous and the game not worth the candle. A few names might be obtained by advertising for them, but I never read any such advertisements, have you? And with the unhappy plight of the liquor people before them for overworking their business, the tobacco people have no reason for desiring to make enemies. Right here I want to assure you that I have never been connected with either the tobacco or liquor business in any way and have only occasionally and very moderately used the products of either.

About a year ago an anti-tobacco speaker delivered a lecture in a California city. He stated among other things that for every cigar a man smoked he shortened his life three days and that for every cigarette indulged in he clipped a week off his earthly existence. A prominent physician in the audience was seen to withdraw some papers from his pocket and figure upon them. Presently he arose and asked the speaker if he was sure his figures were correct. The speaker irritated at the interruption snapped that they were absolutely correct and wanted to know why he had been questioned. "Because" replied the doctor, "if they are, then I have been dead something like two hundred years." Doubtless that lecturer revised his figures before fulfilling his next engagement. Back in the Bible days it was considered marvelous for an ass to speak — but times have changed a bit since then, haven't they?

David Starr Jordan whom you quote in opposition to tobacco is a smart man in many ways but like some other professors he may have become a trifle bookish, in other words has over developed the theoretical side of life and neglected the practical side, an unfortunate tendency with some educators. I do not champion the use of tobacco by boys in their teens. Like tea and coffee the boys are better off without it. But that fact does not necessarily make it injurious for adults. I have known many business and professional men who were heavy smokers over a long period of years who were highly successful financially as well as excellent men both physically and morally and with whom the activities of the sexton and the undertaker were of no consequence whatever.

Regarding the alleged speech of a saloon keeper at a liquor dealers' convention which you quoted, permit me to inform you that I read that same story just as you gave it in a [illegible] magazine sixteen years ago, only the magazine gave Chicago as the place where the speech was made while you state that it was delivered in Columbus, Ohio. That story was the grounds for every wet and dry fight from Maine to California varying only as to the name of the city it was supposed to have taken place in. Some years ago a body of wine merchants deposited in a New York bank quite a sum of money —ten thousand dollars I have been told—to be paid to anyone who would give the name of the man that delivered the speech, the city in which it took place and the date of same. As no one attempted to claim the money it is pretty safe to assume that the story was a fiction—a very clever piece of prohibition propaganda, started nobody knows how and told and retold and believed by many good people largely because they wanted to believe the worst possible. But if the story be true, we should remember that at every gathering of people there are usually one or two irresponsible clowns who are liable to say almost anything, but whom sane people do not take seriously.

Temperance in all things is always to be desired and it is strange that many staunch advocates of temperance in one thing will indulge in a good deal of intemperance in others. It is no more than right that we should play fair with everyone, even with those whom we dislike and to be magnanimous enough to admit that possibly there are a few things even they would not do. Theodore Roosevelt once said "Every great reform movement has with it a fringe of insanity." Unfortunately many worthy movements are cast upon the rocks and fail utterly or their usefulness is much impaired by the wild fanaticism and hand radicalism of some people who become identified with them. To practice temperance in anything one is not called upon to be an extremist, to indulge in hatreds of those with whom we may disagree or to be uncharitable towards anyone. Intemperance in thought and speech is just as undesirable as any other form of intemperance. It will never lead us to any place worthwhile. It simply does not pay. A WORKER.

"Case" Is Stale.

Dear Minerva: We are two high school girls still in our teens and are coming to you for advice as many others do. We are considered good looking, good dressers and seem to be quite popular but our trouble is this. We are going with two brothers and we cannot understand why they treat us the way they do. When they are with us they seem to think quite a lot of us and we think a lot of them. They do not want us to go with the other boys but yet they think it is all right if they go with some other girl and afterwards ask us why we are peeved and they always try to make us some excuse. Well we know they wouldn't go if they hadn't a reason for going neither would we get peeved if we had no reason for doing so. But when the other boys ask us for dates or are going to, these boys jump in ahead of them and ask us or else get peeved and will hardly speak to us. Now these boys come from a very nice family and it hurts us terribly when some other boy or girl comes to them and invites them to go someplace with them and they go and when we ask them they won't do it for us.

Sometimes they treat us real nice. But they never care to take us any place where we can enjoy ourselves, such as a show party, banquet or anything that we have in school. Sometimes they will take us home after we have gone and paid our own way there. But they will never come in the house and our parents do not approve of them just bringing us home and not going in the house and we do not like it either. We girls both live in the country and we know it is impossible for them to call up or come out sometimes. But it does not seem to us that they act just like they should. TWO TROUBLED GIRLS.

A. I fear the young men are quite too sure of your company and take you too much for granted. In other words, the "case" has gone stale, and the boys need to be jolted back into regarding you girls with proper respect or off your calling list entirely. It is never wise to accept half-baked attentions from any young man, or to acquiesce under indifferent and really rude treatment.

These boys are just so sure that you are going to be ready to go with them when they ask regardless of how they treat you because that they take advantage of you. Show them you are not so easy and they will act differently.

Mine Massacre Defense Attorneys Bend Efforts to Save Otis Clark.

(International News Service.)

MARION, Ill., Jan. 10.—Attorneys for the defense of the five men on trial here on a charge of murdering Howard Hoffman, one of the victims of the mob whose massacre of twenty non-union employes of the Lester Strip mine, near Herrin on June 22, horrified the country, today placed witnesses on the stand to prove an alibi for Otis Clark. Clark is the most indicted man of the seventy-seven named in true bills by the Williamson county grand jury.

Nine indictments were returned against him, six for murder.

Clark has been the chief target of the state's witnesses. He is alleged to have been the ring leader of the rioters and to have made a speech urging the mob to start at the top, taken them out and shoot them down and stop the breed of them.

Asks Erection of Memorial to Negro Mammy of South

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—An unusual tribute was paid by the house yesterday to Representative Stedman, democrat, North Carolina, the only confederate veteran serving in that body, when he rose to plead for federal consideration of a bill to permit the erection in Washington of a monument to the southern negro mammy.

The entire membership, republicans and democrats, cheered Mr. Stedman for several minutes.

The bill would authorize the Daughters of the Confederacy to erect the monument on Government-owned ground. Mr. Stedman painted the negro mammy's fidelity as without parallel in history and declared the erection of the monument would mark one of the few times when a people had so honored one of another race living among them.

Keep Looking Young

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

Old Resident Near Death

"I had not eaten food for 10 days and was slowly starving to death. Given up by five doctors. I tried a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which gave relief at once. I am 77 years old and would have died but for your wonderful medicine. The jaundice is all gone and I am gaining appetite and strength every day." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. MOTHER! BREAK CHILD'S COLD

Hurry! Move Little Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

No matter what else you give your child to relieve a bad cold, sore throat or congestion, be sure to first open the little one's bowels with "California Fig Syrup" to get rid of the poisons and waste which are causing the cold and congestion. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works the constipation poison, sour bile and waste right out.

Even if you call your family physician he will praise you for having given "California Fig Syrup" as the laxative because it never fails, never cramps or overacts, and even sick children love its pleasant taste.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

Minerva's Mail

Welcome to "Ardent."

Dear Minerva: Well! Well! Wonders never cease. After a prolonged absence caused by we know not what our good friend "Ardent Suffragette" returns to her old haunts with a brand new theme and a nice little poem. Instead of lecturing us upon the sinfulness of divorce and the evils of the modern dance she has picked up an armful of brickbats to hurl at poor old battle scarred but still alive and kicking John Barleycorn just as if the poor old sinner had not already been chastised enough to make him behave himself for a thousand years and she also tosses a brickbat or two at that innocent young creature, Millady Niccotine.

Now "Ardent" you may not believe this but it is absolutely true just the same: I was growing worried over you. I feared that you had left us, had moved away or that some dreadful calamity had befallen you; that possibly you had listened to the voice of temptation and in an evil hour had been persuaded to partake of some of that fermented grape juice you once told us you dumped upon your rose bushes and in a wild delirium of delight had jumped into your big automobile, stepped on the gas and run afoul of a ditch, a fence post, or a prize pig with disastrous results and that you were now wearing wings and a white robe and twanging a golden harp, but we are glad to welcome you back even though your opinions are for the most part incompatible. Like "Old Faithful" out in the Yellowstone National Park you never disappoint us and we can usually rely upon you to throw a spark now and then into the powder magazine and start a few fireworks when things become dull, and if Minerva will pardon an honest opinion, the mail has not been as colorful this winter as it has been in previous years. We do not censure the conductress of the department for this state of affairs. The fault lies with those who contribute to it, or rather fail to contribute.

I heartily agree with the sentiments expressed by "An Old Time Reader" and while my name was not included in her list of "the old guard" I am really one of them and this letter is my bit towards "jazzing things up a little." But come "Ardent" take that big overstuffed rocker on the other side of my fireplane (in fancy anyway); how cheerful the leaping flames are this bitter, cold night, and in their glowing radiance let us reason together. We are both amenable to reason I'm sure. Just a little correction before going further: above I said "my fireplace" and I should have said mother and dad's fireplace for "Frisco" is my home now. Did you ever visit "The great gay city by the sea"? Some town. Come out and I'll show you around and see "The Path of Gold" at midnight, the theatre and cafe district, Knob Hill, the beautiful Golden Gate Park with its fine new art gallery and museum and its nearly nine miles of wooded hills and dells, lakes and terraces and children's play grounds, winding roads and picturesque bridges all in the heart of a big and busy city, and the Presidio with its forts and soldiers and Chinatown with its queer stores filled with rich silks and embroideries, wonderful ornaments of carved ivory and jade and strange candles, spices, perfumes and fine teas, the Golden Gate and the Pacific and ships from everywhere. But back to the fireplace and the reasoning.

You charge the "Tobacco interests" with making present of cigarettes to non-smoking boys together with a letter urging the boys to enjoy the present. Now, come down to earth for just a little bit. It's a pretty good place after all. I fear you don't think so but if you would just take the time to mix a little with some of the plain, everyday folks who work hard six days a week (sometimes seven because they are compelled to) who pay their bills and try to get a little fun out of life as they travel along the pathway of the years, instead of mingling so much with the high-brows, nervous false alarmists and "sich" with their fantastic notions and various isms I am sure you would get a clearer outlook on life, a kindlier feeling for humanity in general and be much happier. They might obtain a few from city directories but how would they know whether the masucline names listed therein belonged to men ar boys, whether they smoked or not, whether their favorite dish was corned beef and cabbage or ham and eggs, and whether they wore red or blue neckties. I have seen many directories but never one that gave a biographical sketch along with each names and address. You can readily see that to secure the boys' names and their tastes it would require the services of an army of spies and detectives constantly at work all over the country, that the cost would be enormous and the game not worth the candle. Clark is the most indicted man of the seventy-seven named in true bills by the Williamson county grand jury.

Nine indictments were returned against him, six for murder.

Clark has been the chief target of the state's witnesses. He is alleged to hav been the ring leader of the murder mob and to have made a speech urging the mob to start at the top, taken them out and shoot them down and stop the breed of them.

Asks Erection of Memorial to Negro Mammy of South

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—An unusual tribute was paid by the house yesterday to Representative Stedman, democrat, North Carolina, the only confederate veteran serving in that body, when he rose to plead for federal consideration of a bill to permit the erection in Washington of a monument to the southern negro mammy.

The entire membership, republicans and democrats, cheered Mr. Stedman for several minutes.

The bill would authorize the Daughters of the Confederacy to erect the monument on Government-owned ground. Mr. Stedman painted the negro mammy's fidelity as without parallel in history and declared the erection of the monument would mark one of the few times when a people had so honored one of another race living among them.

Old Resident Near Death

"I had not eaten food for 10 days and was slowly storving to death. Given up by five doctors. I tried a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which gave relief at once. I am 75 years old and woul dhave died but for your wonderful medicine. The jaundice is all gone and I am gaining appetite and strength every day." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Harley Drug Store and Druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Keep Looking Young

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

MOTHER! BREAK CHILD'S COLD

Hurry! Move Little Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

No matter what else you give your child to relieve a bad cold, sore throat or congestion, be sure to first open the little one's bowels with "California Fig Syrup" to get rid of the poisons and waste which are causing the cold and congestion. In a few hours you can seen for yourself how thoroughly it works the constipation poison, sour bile and waste right out.

Even if you call your family physician he will praise you for having given "California Fig Syrup" as the laxative because it never fails, never cramps or overacts, and even sick children love its pleasant taste.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

TRAVELING OLD TRAILS.

Progress made by the Nebraska State Historical society and the Territorial Pioneers to preserve historic spots will arouse deeper gratitude in the years to come than among the present generation. Nebraska is still too close to its pioneer days to fully appreciate.

Take the case of Josiah Miner of Friend, who yesterday presented the Historical society with a log cabin of miniature size, made from walnut taken from a beautiful grove of trees, 2,500 in number, which he planted on his homestead nine miles southwest of Friend in 1872. The trees represent one of the most beautiful groves to be found any place in Nebraska. Mr. Miner proposes to construct a small log cabin from the grove, fashioned in the same way that the early pioneer built his cabin, to be placed in the new state capitol, symbolic of the struggles of the early pioneer.

And then there is the marker to be erected at Fort Atkinson, in Washington county, the site of the first steamboat landing in this state, the first farming, the first manufacturing, the first school, the first library. For the purpose of constructing this marker, a fund of $1,000 has already been provided by popular subscription. Some money has already been subscribed for the purpose of constructing suitable markers at historic Fort Kearney—grim outpost of civilization's advance for many years in Nebraska, scene of many thrilling episodes in Nebraska history.

We are forever contributing to this and to that—for memorials for every purpose. Yet in all these various enterprises, it is very customary to forget the pioneer, whose quiet, heroic struggle against the most trying discouragements remains unnoted and unsung. A state to be great must venerate its pioneers.

EUROPE'S ECONOMIC REVIVAL.

Reports from Paris indicate that the American representative at a meeting of the Reparations Commission very caustically criticised the action of France in declaring Germany in default in the delivery of coal, but more particularly directed his remarks to the entire treaty of Versailles. It is reported that he suggested an early revision of the treaty in the interest of the economic situation in Europe.

His criticism of the treaty of Versailles might well be termed "old stuff." Mr. Wilson, who assisted in the drafting of the treaty, consistently raised the same objections which the American representative is now suggesting—namely that it imposed conditions impossible of performance.

But in the opinion of some, revision of the treaty of Versailles is not the only step necessary for the economic revival of Europe. The nations of continental Europe must sooner or later consider the problem of the cancellation of internal debts. Germany, through the depreciation of the mark, has in effect already cancelled her internal debt. That came through the working of an economic law but nevertheless it has been just as effective as if action had been taken by the government.

France is struggling along with a mountain of debt. Italy is not far behind, and other European nations are equally burdened. Only the British empire has any reasonable assurance of discharging the obligation represented by its internal debt. Britain's vast resources, represented by her colonial possessions, is a guaranty that Britain will ultimately pay her debt. Australia, New Zealand and Canada are mking astonishingly rapid progress in paying their portion of the debt owing the mother country, figures made public by the Bank of England reveal.

But Continental Europe is no different than the individual or organization loaded with a staggering debt and with resources exhusted. The first step towrd recovery must be a cancellation of the internal debt. It may possibly apply to foreign debts.

The sooner that the nations of Continental Europe wipe the slate clean, re-establish their monetary systems so that they may re-engage in trade with each other, then Europe's economic revival will become a reality and actual peace will be re-established.

The lower house of the legislature has shown a commendable spirit in suppressing resolutions on various subjects, not strictly within the legislative sphere. Regardless of personal views on the Arbuckle case, public opinion generally will support the action of the house in deciding the Arbuckle resolution was not properly a matter of legislative concern.

SUPPORTS TENTH OF PEOPLE

Accustomed as we are to fugures showing the tremendous growth of the automotive industry in the United States, the tabulated figures of the 1922 totals furnished by Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, leaves us gasping.

During that year just past there were built in this country, 2,527,000 cars and trucks. That was 322,000 more than in the previous record year, 1920. For 1923 the replacements alone are figured at 1,800,000 cars of which 85 per cent are to be closed models. The total wholesale value of cars and trucks made during the year was $1,558,567,000 and the average retail price for automobiles was $770 compared with an average price of $900 in 1921.

Tire production reached the enormous total of 36,340,000 and the number of people employed by the automotive and allied industries was 2,431,000, supporting apparently between ten and twelve million of our population. More than 10 per cent of the people of the United States owe their living to an industry which was unknown twenty years ago.

Motor vehicles in the United States number 11,500,000. In all the rest of the world there are 1,250,000 automobiles. This shows that 81 per cent of them all are in the United States. On American farms there are 3,500,000 cars. The number of passengers carried by automobiles totaled seven and a half billion—more people than exist.

Here are other figures even more impressive. Freight cars used to ship automobiles in 1922 numbered 400,000. The automotive industry uses 83 per cent of the world's rubber supply, 30 per cent of the plate glass supply, 20 per cent of all the aluminum produced, 4 per cent of the iron and steel supply and they used 5,800,000,000 gallons of gasoline. Motor trucks hauled 1,420,000,000 tons of freight last year. Motor vehicles exported were valued at $123,740,000.

In this country there are 38,000 car dealers, 25,000 truck dealers and 48,000 public garages not to mention 63,000 service stations and 63,700 supply stores.

Farmers in northwest Nebraska plan to raise more chickens to eat grasshoppers. Supply and demand naturally will result in more grasshoppers to feed more chickens, and so on, like the Scotchman eating mush and milk out of two bowls.

Comment by the Press

THE AMERICAN FARMER'S VOICE.

The two surviving stellar personalities of the past year are the Turkish leader, Mustapha Kemal, and the Italian Premier, Mussolini. The latter may prove hardly more than a colorful episode, but the work of the man who has brought the Turk back to Europe by way of Constantine's final abdication is likely to confuse Chancellors and give a complicated twist to the history of the next decade or two. Yet a more important figure, in point of historical significance, than either has appeared, namely, the American Farmer.

By and large the year has been prosperous in the United States, but the American Farmer has not shared in the prosperity. He protested against his exclusion on November 7 with an emphasis that might well have aroused the administration to a critical review of its stewardship for the purpose of determining wherein it had failed and correcting the failure if possible. The response to the farmer's censure has not been forthcoming with the promptness and enlightenment hoped for, though there have been a few propitiatory White House gestures. Normalcy's epitaph, for instance, was written in the President's annual message but, unfortunately, the courage to grapple resolutely with world conditions to the end that American agriculture, our greatest industry, shall function profitably and at full swing has not manifested itself.

It is imperative, of course, that the administration develop this courage and vision, since it is unanimously agreed that any prosperity which excludes the farmer is insecure. The needs of the farmer are many. The agricultural problem cannot be solved by any specific or formula. But there is one fundamental in our agricultural reconstruction too obvious for debate. The American farmer must have a market for his surplus. Credits, marketing associations, transportation facilities are all desirable even necessary, but the most elaborate program of this character would still leave the farmer on the outskirts of prosperity if his surplus is not saleable.

It is not clear that the farmer as a class appreciates the indispensability of a cash foreign market. For that those members of Congress who profess to champion the farmer's interests are largely to blame. They have enthusiastically supported legislation purporting to serve the farmer, which, as a matter of fact, is destructive to the agricultural industry. The gentlemen who constitute the farm bloc will have to renounce their provincialism and economic fallacies or suffer the fate of incompetents.

The restoration of Europe is the American farmer's paramount requirement. That fact steadily grows in stature and insistence. It cannot be sidetracked. No substitute can be offered in its place. The ultimate effect of this economic verity in the relations of nations is bound to be tremendous. It must, by reason of its peremptory logic, become one of the potent agencies for world peace and intelligent cooperative foreign policies. Warriors like Kemal, histrionic dictators like Mussolini come and go, but the welfare of the people after all, is the prime consideration of civilization. That is the declaration, not quite articulate yet, perhaps, of the American farmer's new role in our politics. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

More Truth Than Poetry

Take heart, oh, doubting brothers; bid your troubles all goodby;
Be prepared to cease repining; let your hopes be mounting high;
For the clouds that dim the morning
may have blown away by noon,
And the good times are returning—oh,
not yet, perhaps, but soon.

All the evils will be righted; we will punish those at fault;
Where there still is profiteering we intend to call a halt;
There shall be no more bootlegging; we will stop the sale of rum;
Cling to courage and be ready for the good times that's to come.

There will be no risk of losing any savings we invest;
Every worker will be richer and have time for play and rest;
There will be no reckless mating; life will be a honeymoon,
With no taxes and no cheating—not just yet, of course, but soon.

Every man will give his neighbor all that is his neighbor's due;
Every wife will be enchanting, every husband will be true;
There will be no reckless killing, there will be no foolish hate;
All the tips the brokers hand us will be absolutely straight.

All the misconceived emotions that have driven reason out
Will be put away forever; confidence will follow doubt;
All deforming will be ended; life indeed, will be a boon
In or near A. D. three thousand; as things go, that will be soon.

A Bit of Homely Philosophy

GREATER INTEREST IN YOUR WORK.

You are in a rut in your job.

Get out of it of you may be out of a job.

When you become resigned to your salary that you have reached your limit—look out, you are slipping backward.

The chances are that you look upon your place as a treadmill and the only reason you stay is that you need the money.

Your work shows that you have no interest; no desire to improve; and when you get to that pass, you have no pep nor ginger; both of which are necessary to success nowadays.

When you perform your work in a colorless, mechanical way, watching the clock to get off as soon as possible, you cannot do justice to your work nor yourself.

Try this year to get a little pep in your step, a cheerful tone in your voice, a more ready smile, a greater interest in your work.

Try it and you will be surprised by results.

It is bound to improve your disposition, your condition in every way.

Here and There

ON HUSBANDS.

Husbands go out in the morning and leave marriage behind them for the whole entire day, that is unless they are the kind that comes home for lunch. But as a rule they usually outgrow home lunches after about the first year, and coming home to lunch is one of the few bad habits a wife can cure after marriage. Other bad habits such as gambling, drinking and preferring toothpicks to any other form of dessert, why if he has these habits while still a man, it is likely they will not get better when he has become merely a husband, and you know the old saying about no man will reform after marriage if he won't before, and I always say, well, why would he

And to see the ideal of our girlhood days who we had only considered as perpetually wearing a dress suit, come wandering out of the bathroom in an undershirt, suspenders draped gracefully over both hips, a face like a soap bubble party gone wrong, waving a razor and passing some remark about hey listen, whatter you think I told that o'd cheese of a manager of ours today, well, a thing like that is a terrible blow to love's young dream.

Of course, if George was ever to stop doing it I would have a fit and commence to think there was another woman, and be as completely, comfortable miserable as only a wife can be when she has nothing else to do. But just the same it is grounds for complaint.

Husband's memories is notedly strong on things like the kind of a cook his mother was, what he went around the last nine holes in, the exact raise of salary he needs, and the only time you had one cocktail too many. But they have a blind spot in their minds when it comes to anniversaries, mailing letters, and promises to get around more in the evening to shows and things like we used to when we was engaged.

But they will hound you to death over a little thing like a button off a shirt, which you have overlooked a few times on account of having rifferent things on your mind such as trying to match that difficult dress sample of elephant blue, or your regular bridge Thursday.

Now where every husband I have had is concerned, it is enough to say, dinner is ready, dear, for him to beat it in the opposite direction from the dining room to wash his hands and comb his hair and peer at his collar, and feel does he need a shave and this is especially true if we have a omelet or pea soup.

Even then he will not take the blame, but try to hold the cook responsible for the fact that the omelet has fell and he was not there with the old field work, or that the pea soup is all right, only now being cold all it needs is a little wallpaper and a brush to go with it. On time? The only thing a typical husband is ever on time for is his own funeral and that generally occurs too late to be of any good to his widow.—Nina Putnam Wilcox in American Magazine.

CANADA AND LINCOLN.

The Listener has derived pleasure from reading in the Dalhousie Review, the able Halifax quarterly, an article by F. Landon on "Canadian Opinion of Abraham Lincoln," which proves that the Canadian people, though at first they were inclined to be a little suspicious of Lincoln, soon became keenly aware of his greatness of heart and mind.

It seems to us that this day a somewhat curious matter that in December, 1861, the Canadian people were afraid that the United States would attack Canada, and sent to Washington Hon. A. T. Galt, Canadian finance minister, ostensibly on another errand, but really to obtain, if possible, some assurance that no such attack was intended. Lincoln gave him this assurance in the fullest measure. Galt left in the archives of Canada (not yet "the Dominion"), a complete record of the interview he had with Lincoln.

"For himself and his cabinet," Lincoln said, "he had never heard from one of his minister a hostile expression toward us, and he pledged himself as a man of honor that neither he nor his cabinet entertained the slightest aggressive designs upon Canada, nor had any desire to disturb the rights of Great Britain on this continent." Seward gave Galt a similar and equally positive assurance.

Nevertheless, Galt wrote down in his memorandum to his government on the subject, "I cannot, however, divest my mind of the impression that the policy of the American government is so subject to popular impulses that no assurance can be, or ought to be, relied on under present circumstances." Since Mr. Galt was so sure of the wrong thing, one rather wonders why he took the trouble to go to Washington to receive the assurance.—Boston Transcript.

THE JAY WALKER.

Sam Walter Foss told in his poem, "The Calf Path," of a wabbly calf that "made a trail all bent askew, a crooked trail, as all calves do." The year passed and the path became a trail, then a main traveled road, but still the old curves were kept and:

They follow in the beaten track.
And out and in, and forth and back,
And still their devious course pursue,
To keep the path that others do.

That is the way with some people. They go round an obstruction in the public highway rather than take the trouble to remove it. Others take seriously the lesson learned in school that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. They cut across a vacant lot on a corner. The jay walker may have heard that the longest way round is the shortest way, but he does not believe it until he is struck by a motor car and reaches the place he sought after a detour by way of the hospital. Progress has been made in curbing the reckless driver and in slowing down dangerous speed. Pedestrians are warned to observe extra precautions at street intersections. Between corners they should have the right of way. The movement to restrict jay walkers will be welcomed by all persons who believe in fair play.—Indianapolis News.

RESPECT FOR THE LAW.

A delightful evening culd be had by all present, in the words of the country reporter, if William Bross Lloyd, wealthy syndicalist, Madalyn Obenchain and Clara Phillips, fair and beautiful murderesses; Arthur Burch, accused of killing a man, the unknown slayers of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills; and a number of the lesser lights among the law breakers could gather for a dinner party and the exchange of "social conversation" among each other.

What fun they could have at the expense of police courts and juries. How amusing would they find the futile efforts of district attorneys to put them in jail, or of jailers to keep them there after they passed the barred gates. What encouragement could they give the rapidly increasing number of law breakers, who are finding it more pleasant and profitable to prey upon society, than to earn a decent and honest and hard won, if unremunerative living.

It bodes little good for the future America that a man with the wealth of Lloyd can laugh at its war-time law, and spend eight amusing days in jail and go free. It promises little for the future of America that two and three trials Mrs. Obenchain and Burch have had resulted in only disagreements until finally the state is moved to give up in despair. It holds out little hope for a law abiding America if a woman of the type of Mrs. Phillips can kill another with a hammer, saw her way out of jail, and stay free.

There need be no lengthy discussion as to the difficulty of law enforcement in the United States, with examples so recent as these before us. They point the way to our officials, in preventing the spread of crime.—Scottsbluff News.

WASTERS IN COLLEGE.

"You are wasting your time here. You might make good in your father's business or in some other line. I think you have ability. But I advise you to get out of college."

That little speech was made by a college president to a student who had been in the institution for nearly two years. The institution was not crowded; the student wasn't a loafer and he hadn't been spending money heavily on the sideshows of college life. But he had demonstrated that he was out of place in the institution. He could not maintain an acceptable standing in the intellectual life of the school.

There are, no doubt, many such in the colleges. It was of these that President Hopkins of Dartmouth college spoke the other day when he declared that too many men are going to college. Too many of the wrong type it must be said.

To the class of college students who either are limited intellectually or who are not adapted to college work, there should be added the even larger classes who have no serious purpose in the training, whose aim is to attain to social status; to make a display of wealth to the embarrassment of othe students; to "go in" for athletics, "functions" and the like. These it is difficult to weed out. Often they are able to "get by" in their studies; their parents have means and influence; perhaps an important financial relation to the institution.

Meanwhile, the colleges are crowded; their faculties are limited. Many who desire the higher training, and are capable, are kept away. Going to college ought to be made easier for these. It ought to be made harder for those who either cannot or will not thereby confer benefit either on themselves or society.—Kansas City Star.

BUILD NEW ROADS IN IDAHO.

Engineer Eugene Booth, former state highway engineer of Idaho, at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club in Lewiston the other day gave information relative to the North and South and the Lewis-Clark state highways, now under construction. Work on the North and South highway was begun five years ago and the section from Weiser to Lewiston, 260 miles, Mr. Booth said would be completed in another year.

At this time 220 miles are either completed or under construction. This 220 miles has cost to date 4 million dollars, while the forty remaining miles will cost ½ million dollars. Approximately 210 miles includes surfacing on the remainder the natural formation.

The Lewis-Clark highway has a total length, Lewiston to Missoula, of 235 miles, of which one hundred miles are either completed or under contract. This portion, which includes work in both Montana and Idaho, represents an outlay of 1½ million dollars.

The remaining 135 miles, of which eighty are within the Selway forest reserve, is estimated to cost 2½ million dollars, making a total for the completed project of 4 million dollars. Portions of this highway will be narrower than the North and South highway, but grades and curvatures will be substantially the same.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

ALWAYS MORE TAXES.

Now it is proposed to ask the Missouri legislature to impose a tax of a cent a gallon on gasoline, the proceeds to be used in the road fund. Such a tax, it is estimated, would raise more than 1½ million dollars a year revenue.

This follows Mayor Cromwell's happy hunch to put a tax on gasoline to help out the city revenues. Now if the county would only assess a gasoline tax, and then the federal government, there would be plenty of money for everybody—except the people who drive cars, and who cares what they think?

But isn't it remarkable how every public official does all his thinking along the line of finding something more to tax? It never seems to occur to him to think about some way to economize and reduce taxes.—Kansas City Star.

WOLF'S COMET

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS,

Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

Wolf's comet went within eleven million miles of the planet Jupiter on the 26th of September and for some time, according to the calculations of the astronmer, Kamensky, was inside the sphere of Jupiters gravitational control, which means that it is so near that the big planet's influence over the comet exceeds the sun's.

The consequences are highly interesting. Looking off from our earth-ship we see the cometary whale surging through the interplanetary ocean of ether in a struggle with the gravitational net spread by Jupiter which is not strong enough to hold it fast and keep it circling around that planet, but is strong enough to greatly change its speed and to turn it into a very different path from that which it was pursuing before it fell into the net. Jupiter shows it up and holds it farther out to sea.

Hereafter it will still go around the sun as the centre of its motion, but will, in consequence of its tug with Jupiter, have to travel in an orbit whose nearest point to the sun will be 223,000,000 miles instead of 118,000,000 miles as before. And its period of revolution will be increased from 6.7 years to 8.5.

But this is not the first time that this comet has had a tussle with the chief of the planets. Nor is this by any means the only comet that has found Jupiter a slave-driver for the sun. In fact, the first known appearance of Wolf's comet within the astronomer's range of vision occurred as a consequence of its having, while nosing its way about the outer regions of the solar system, ventured too close to Jupiter.

That was in 1875. All we know about that particular occurrence is from calculation based upon the law of gravitation. It is like calculating backward to find out when a prehistoric eclipse occurred. People concerned to demonstrate the immeasurable superiority of a man to a monkey might profitably dwell upon this sort of knowledge.

The comet was first seen in 1884 going around the sun as unconcernedly as if it had always been travelling in that same track. But the astronomers recognize it as new by its steering, and then a little figuring by Newton's immortal rules revealed what had happened to it.

After 1884 it steadied down to a regular gait, and, keeping at a safe distance from Jupiter, came back to perihelion every 6.76 years. But the seeds of a new adventure with Jupiter were in the very constitution of its orbit, and this year that which could have been foreseen happened. The die was cast in July last when the comet again passed within Jupiter's sphere of influence, and immediately the new change in the form of its orbit began.

Kemnesky's study indicates that the comet passed beyond Jupiter's sphere in the middle of December, by which time its future course was determined. This, as already said, will carry the comet into a larger orbit, farther from the sun, and lengthen its period by more than a year-and-a-half.

This curious intererence of planet with comet is a part of the general activity of the solar system that can have no apparent relationship to our interests as long as the comets concerned do not come close to the earth. Our planet is too small and too unfavorably situated to exercise any such controlling force over comets as Jupiter does. But the possibility exists that Jupiter might, in his rough gravitational play, sometime turn one of his comets into such a path that it would actually encounter the earth, with consequences that cannot be precisely anticipated, especially if the "head" of the comet should collide with us.

Several experiences of the past, the last in 1910, when Halley's comet brushed us, seem to prove that we have nothing to fear from merely encountering a comet's tail. It is the head that ye have to dread, if anything.

Most of the periodical comets have their orbits shaped for them by Jupiter. Sometimes he brings in a new one as a kind of present to his master, the sun; and once in a while, he snatches one of these away, sending it far out into space so that though the sun still keeps a rein upon it, we on the earth see it no more.

What Most Stomachs Need

The Alkaline Effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Prevents or Relieves Acidity and Sour Risings.

To make our food palatable, savory and appetizing, the cook mixes in some onions or garlic, we eat fried sausage, baked beans, cheese with pie, and ketchup and vinegar to some dishes and then complain of a sour, acid, gassy, belching stomach due to indigestion. Experience has shown that the recourse is not to banish all these good things to eat and fire the cook but to simply supply the acid stomach with an alkaline effect and then the stomach takes care of these so-called dyspepsia bringers. Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets today at any drug store, eat what you like even though you may fear indigestion. Chew one or two tablets and then rejoice that you found the very thing your stomach needed.—Advertisement

TRAVELING OLD TRAILS.

Progress made by the Nebraska State Historical society and the Territorial Pioneers to preserve historic spots will arouse deeper gratitude in the years to come than among the present generation. Nebraska is still too close to its pioneer days to fully appreciate.

Take the case of Josiah Miner of Friend, who yesterday presented the Historical society with a log cabin of miniature size made from walnut taken from a beautiful grove of trees, 2,500 in number, which he planted on his homestead nine miles southwest of Friend in 1872. The trees represent one of the most beautiful groves to be found any place in Nebraska. Mr. Miner proposes to construct a small log cabin from the grove, fashioned in the same way that the early pioneer built his cabin, to be placed in the new state capitol, symbolic of the struggles of the early pioneer.

And then there is the marker to be erected at Fort Atkinson, in Washington county, the site of the first steamboat landing in this state, the first farming, the first manufacturing, the first school, the first library. For the purpose of constructing this marker, a fund of $1,000 has already been provided by popular subscription. Some money has already been subscribed for the purpose of constructing suitable markers at historic Fort Kearney—grim outpost of civilization's advance for many years in Nebraska, scene of many thrilling episodes in Nebraska history.

We are forever contributing to this and to that—for memorials for every purpose. Yet in all these various enterprises, it is very customary to forget the pioneer, whose quiet, heroic struggle against the most trying discouragements remains unnoted and unsung. A state to be great must venerate its pioneers.

EUROPE'S ECONOMIC REVIVAL.

Reports from Paris indicate that the American representative at a meeting of the Reparations Commission very caustically criticised the action of France in declaring Germany in default in the delivery of coal, but more particularly directed his remarks to the entire treaty of Versailles. It is reported that he suggested an early revision of the treaty in the interest of the economic situation in Europe.

His criticism of the treaty of Versailles might well be termed "old stuff." Mr. Wilson, who assisted in the drafting of the treaty, consistently raised the same objections which the American representative is now suggesting—namely that it imposed conditions impossible of performance.

But in the opinion of some, revision of the treaty of Versailles is not the only step necessary for the economic revival of Europe. The nations of continental Europe must sooner or later consider the problem of the cancellation of internal debts. Germany, through the depreciation of the mark, has in effect already cancelled her internal debt. That came through the working of an economic law but nevertheless it has been just as effective as if action had been taken by the government.

France is struggling along with a mountain of debt, Italy is not far behind, and other European nations are equally burdened. Only the British empire has any reasonable assurance of discharging the obligation represented by its internal debt. Britain's vast resources, represented by her colonial possessions, is a guaranty that Britain will ultimately pay her debt. Australia, New Zealand and Canada are mking astonishingly rapid progress in paying their portion of the debt owing the mother country, figures made public by the Bank of England reveal.

But Continental Europe is no different than the individual or organization loaded with a staggering debt and with resources exhusted. The first step towrd recovery must be a cancellation of the internal debt. It may possibly apply to foreign debts.

The sooner that the nations of Continental Europe wipe the slate clean, re-establish their monetary systems so that they may re-engage in trade with each other, then Europe's economic revival will become a reality and actual peace will be re-established.

The lower house of the legislature has shown a commendable spirit in suppressing resolutions on various subjects, not strictly within the legislative sphere. Regardless of personal views on the Arbuckle case, public opinion generally will support the action of the house in deciding the Arbuckle resolution was not properly a matter of legislative concern.

SUPPORTS TENTH OF PEOPLE

Accustomed as we are to fugures showing the tremendous growth of the automotive industry in the United States, the tabulated figures of the 1922 totals furnished by Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, leaves us gasping.

During that year just past there were built in this country, 2,527,000 cars and trucks. That was 322,000 more than in the previous record year, 1920. For 1923 the replacements alone are figured at 1,800,000 cars of which 85 per cent are to be closed models. The total wholesale value of cars and trucks made during the year was $1,558,567,000 and the average retail price for automobiles was $770 compared with an average price of $900 in 1921.

Tire production reached the enormous total of 36,340,000 and the number of people employed by the automotive and allied industries was 2,431,000, supporting apparently between ten and twelve million of our population. More than 10 per cent of the people of the United States owe their living to an industry which was unknown twenty years ago.

Motor vehicles in the United States number 11,500,000. In all the rest of the world there are 1,250,000 automobiles. This shows that 81 per cent of them all are in the United States. On American farms there are 2,500,000 cars. The number of passengers carried by automobiles totaled seven and a half billion—more people than exist.

Here are other figures even more impressive. Freight cars used to ship automobiles in 1922 numbered 400,000. The automotive industry uses 83 per cent of the world's rubber supply, 30 per cent of the plate glass supply, 20 per cent of all the aluminum produced, 4 per cent of the iron and steel supply and they used 5,300,000,000 gallons of gasoline. Motor trucks hauled 1,430,000,000 tons of freight last year. Motor vehicles exported were valued at $123,740,000.

In this country there are 38,000 car dealers, 25,000 truck dealers and 48,000 public garages not to mention 63,000 service stations and 63,700 supply stores.

Farmers in northwest Nebraska plan to raise more chickens to eat grasshoppers. Supply and demand naturally will result in more grasshoppers to feed more chickens, and so on, like the Scotchman eating mush and milk out of two bowls.

Comment by the Press

THE AMERICAN FARMER'S VOICE.

The two surviving stellar personalities of the past year are the Turkish leader, Mustapha Kemal, and the Italian Premier, Mussolini. The latter may prove hardly more than a colorful episode, but the work of the man who has brought the Turk back to Europe by way of Constantine's final abdication is likely to confuse Chancellors and give a complicated twist to the history of the next decade or two. Yet a more important figure, in point of historical significance, than either has appeared, namely, the American Farmer.

By and large the year has been prosperous in the United States, but the American Farmer has not shared in the prosperity. He protested against his exclusion on November 7 with an emphasis that might well have aroused the admoinistration to a critical review of its stewardship for the purpose of determining wherein it had failed and correcting the failure if possible. The response to the farmer's censure has not been forthcoming with the promptness and enlightenment hoped for, though there have been a few propitiatory White House gestures. Normalcy's epitaph, for instance, was written in the President's annual message but, unfortunately, the courage to grapple resolutely with world conditions to the end that American agriculture, our greatest industry, shall function profitably and at full swing has not manifested itself.

It is imperative, of course, that the administration develop this courage and vision, since it is unanimously agreed that any prosperity which excludes the farmer is insecure. The needs of the farmer are many. The agricultural problem cannot be solved by any specific or formula. But there is one fundamental in our agricultural reconstruction too obvious for debate. The American farmer must have a market for his surplus. Credits, marketing associations, transportation facilities are all desirable even necessary, but the most elaborate program of this character would still leave the farmer on the outskirts of prosperity if his surplus is not saleable.

It is not clear that the farmer as a class appreciates the indispensability of a cash foreign market. For that those members of Congress who profess to champion the farmer's interests are largely to blame. They have enthusiastically supported legislation purporting to serve the farmer, which, as a matter of fact, is destructive to the agricultural industry. The gentlemen who constitute the farm bloc will have to renounce their provincialism and economic fallacies or suffer the fate of incompetents.

The restoration of Europe is the American farmer's paramount requirement. That fact steadily grows in stature and insistence. It cannot be sidetracked. No substitute can be offered in its place. The ultimate effect of this economic verity in the relations of nations is bound to be tremendous. It must, by reason of its peremptory logic, become one of the potent agencies for world peace and intelligent cooperative foreign policies. Warriors like Kemal, histrionic dictators like Mussolini come and go, but the welfare of the people, after all, is the prime consideration of civilization. That is the declaration, not quite articulate yet, perhaps, of the American farmer's new role in our politics. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

More Truth Than Poetry

Take heart, oh, doubting brothers; bid your troubles all goodby;
Be prepared to cease repining; let your hopes be mounting high;
For the clouds that dim the morning may have blown away by noon,
And the good times are returning—oh, not yet, perhaps, but soon.

All the evils will be righted; we will punish those at fault;
Where there still is profiteering we intend to call a halt;
There shall be no more bootlegging; we will stop the sale of rum;
Cling to courage and be ready for the good times that's to come.

There will be no risk of losing any savings we invest;
Every worker will be richer and have time for play and rest;
There will be no reckless mating; life will be a honeymoon,
With no taxes and no cheating—not just yet, of course, but soon.

Every man will give his neighbor all that is his neighbor's due;
Every wife will be enchanting, every husband will be true;
There will be no reckless killing, there will be no foolish hate;
All the tips the brokers hand us will be absolutely straight.

All the misconceived emotions that have driven reason out
Will be put away forever; confidence will follow doubt;
All deforming will be ended; life in deed will be a boon
In or near A. D. three thousand; as things go, that will be soon.

GRGEATER INTEREST IN YOUR WORK.

You are in a rut in your job.

Get out of it or you may be out of a job.

When you become resigned to your salary that you have reached your limit—look out, you are slipping backward.

The chances are that you look upon your place as a treadmill and the only reason you stay is that you need the money.

Your work shows that you have no interest; no desire to improve; and when you get to that pass, you have no pep nor ginger; both of which are necessary to success nowadays.

When you perform your work in a colorless, mechanical way, watching the clock to get off as soon as possible, you cannot do justice to your work nor yourself.

Here and There

ON HUSBANDS.

Husbands go out in the morning and leave marriage behind them for the whole entire day, that is unless they are the kind that comes home for lunch. But as a rule they usually outgrow home lunches after about the first year, and coming home to lunch is one of the few bad habits a wife can cure after marriage. Other bad habits such as gambling, drinking and preferring toothpicks to any other form of dessert, why if he has these habits while still a man, it is likely they will not get better when he has become merely a husband, and you know the old saying about no man will reform after marriage if he won't before, and I always say, well, why would he

And to see the ideal of our girlhood days who we had only considered as perpetually wearing a dress suit, come wandering out of the bathroom in an undershirt, suspenders draped gracefully over both hips, a face like a soap bubble party gone wrong, waving a razor and passing some remark about hey listen, whatter you think I told that old cheese of a manager of ours today, well, a thing like that is a terrible blow to love's young dream.

Of course, if George was ever to stop doing it I would have a fit and commence to think there was another woman, and be as completely, comfortable miserable as only a wife can be when she has nothing else to do. But just the same it is grounds for complaint.

Husband's memories is notedly strong on things like the kind of a cook his mother was, what he went around the last nine holes in, the exact raise of salary he needs, and the only time you had one cocktail too many. But they have a blind spot in their minds when it comes to anniversaries, mailing letters, and promises to get around more in the evening to shows and things like we used to when we was engaged.

But they will hound you to death over a little thing like a button off a shirt, which you have overlooked a few times on account of having riffferent things on your mind such as trying to match that difficult dress sample of elephant blue, or your regular bridge Thursday.

Now where every husband I have had is concerned, it is enough to say, dinner is ready, dear, for him to beat it in the opposite direction from the dining room to wash his hands and comb his hair and peer at his collar, and feel does he need a shave and this is especially true if we have a omelet or pea soup.

Even then he will not take the blame, but try to hold the cook responsible for the fact that the omelet has fell and he was not there with the old field work, or that the pea soup is all right, only now being cold all it needs is a little wallpaper and a brush to go with it. On time? The only thing a typical husband is ever on time for is his own funeral and that generally occurs too late to be of any good to his widow.—Nina Putnam Wilcox in American Magazine.

CANADA AND LINCOLN.

The Listener has derived pleasure from reading in the Dalhousie Review, the able Halifax quarterly, an article by F. Landon on "Canadian Opinion of Abraham Lincoln," which proves that the Canadian people, though at first they were inclined to be a little suspicious of Lincoln, soon became keenly aware of his greatness of heart and mind.

It seems to us that this day a somewhat curious matter that in December, 1861, the Canadian people were afraid that the United States would attack Canada, and sent to Washington Hon. A. T. Galt, Canadian finance minister, ostensibly on another errand, but really to obtain, if possible, some assurance that no such attack was intended. Lincoln gave him this assurance in the fullest measure. Galt left in the archives of Canada (not yet "the Dominion"), a complete record of the interview he had with Lincoln.

"For himself and his cabinet," Lincoln said, "he had never heard from one of his minister a hostile expression toward us, and he pledged himself as a man of honor that neither he nor his cabinet entertained the slightest aggressive designs upon Canada, nor had any desire to disturb the rights of Great Britain on this continent." Seward gave Galt a similar and equally positive assurance.

Nevertheless, Galt wrote down in his memorandum to his government on the subject, "I cannot, however, divest my mind of the impression that the policy of the American government is so subject to popular impulses that no assurance can be, or ought to be, relied on under present circumstances." Since Mr. Galt was so sure of the wrong thing, one rather wonders why he took the trouble to go to Washington to receive the assurance.—Boston Transcript.

THE JAY WALKER.

Sam Walter Foss told in his poem, "The Calf Path," of a wabbly calf that "made a trail all bent askew, a crooked trail, as all calves do." The year passed and the path became a trail, then a main traveled road, but still the old curves were kept and:

They follow in the beaten track,
And out and in, and forth and back,
And still their devious course pursue,
To keep the path that others do.

That is the way with some people. They go round an obstruction in the public highway rather than take the trouble to remove it. Others take seriously the lesson learned in school that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. They cut across a vacant lot on a corner The jay walker may have heard that the longest way round is the shortest way, but he does not believe it until he is struck by a motor car and reaches the place he sought after a detour by way of the hospital. Progress has been made in curbing the reckless driver and in slowing down dangerous speed. Pedestrians are warned to observe extra precautions at street intersections. Between corners they should have the right of way. The movement to restrict jay walkers will be welcomed by all persons who believe in fair play.—Indianapolis News.

RESPECT FOR THE LAW.

A delightful evening culd be had by all present, in the words of the country reporter, if William Bross Lloyd, wealthy syndicalist, Madalyn Obenchain and Clara Phillips, fair and beautiful murderesses; Arthur Burch, accused of killing a man, the unknown slayers of Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills; and a number of the lesser lights among the law breakers could gather for a dinner party and the exchange of "social conversation" among each other.

What fun they could have at the expense of police courts and juries. How amusing would they find the futile efforts of district attorneys to put them in jail, or of jailers to keep them there after they passed the barred gates. What encouragement could they give the rapidly increasing number of law breakers, who are finding it more pleasant and profitable to prey upon society, than to earn a decent and honest and hard won, if unremunerative living.

It bodes little good for the future America that a man with the wealth of Lloyd can laugh at its war-time law, and spend eight amusing days in jail and go free. It promises little for the future of America that two and three trials Mrs. Obenchain and Burch have had resulted in only disagreements until finally the state is moved to give up in despair. It holds out little hope for a law abiding America if a woman of the type of Mrs. Phillips can kill another with a hammer, saw her way out of jail, and stay free.

There need be no lengthy discussion as to the difficulty of law enforcement in the United States, with examples so recent as these before us. They point the way to our officials, in preventing the spread of crime.—Scottsbluff News.

WASTERS IN COLLEGE.

"You are wasting your time here. You might make good in your father's business or in some other line. I think you have ability. But I advise you to get out of college."

That little speech was made by a college president to a student who had been in the institution for nearly two years. The institution was not crowded; the student wasn't a loafer and he hadn't been spending money heavily on the sideshows of college life. But he had demonstrated that he was out of place in the institution. He could not maintain an acceptable standing in the intellectual life of the school.

There are, no doubt, many such in the colleges. It was of these that President Hopkins of Dartmouth college spoke the other day when he declared that too many men are going to college. Too many of the wrong type it must be said.

To the class of college students who either are limited intellectually or who are not adapted to college work, there should be added the even larger classes who have no serious purpose in the training, whose aim is to attain to social status; to make a display of wealth to the embarrassment of othe students; to "go in" for athletics, "functions" and the like. These it is difficult to weed out. Often they are able to "get by" in their studies; their parents have means and influence; perhaps an important financial relation to the institution.

Meanwhile, the colleges are crowded; their facilities are limited. Many who desire the higher training, and are capable, are kept away. Going to college ought to be made easier for these. It ought to be made harder for those who either cannot or will not thereby confer benefit either on themselves or society.—Kansas City Star.

BUILD NEW ROADS IN IDAHO.

Engineer Eugene Booth, former state highway engineer of Idaho, at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club in Lewiston the other day gave information relative to the North and South and the Lewis-Clark state highways, now under construction. Work on the North and South highway was begun five years ago and the section from Weiser to Lewiston, 260 miles, Mr. Booth said would be completed in another year.

At this time 220 miles are either completed or under construction. This 220 miles has cost to date 4 million dollars, while the forty remaining miles will cost ½ million dollars. Approximately 210 miles includes surfacing on the remainder the natural formation.

The Lewis-Clark highway has a total length, Lewiston to Missoula, of 235 miles, of which one hundred miles are either completed or under contract. This portion, which includes work in both Montana and Idaho, represents an outlay of 1½ million dollars.

The remaining 135 miles, of which eighty are within the Selway forest reserve, is estimated to cost 2½ million dollars, making a total for the completed project of 4 million dollars. Portions of this highway will be narrower than the North and South highway, but grades and curvatures will be substantially the same.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

ALWAYS MORE TAXES.

Now it is proposed to ask the Missouri legislature to impose a tax of a cent a gallon on gasoline, the proceeds to be used in the road fund. Such a tax, it is estimated, would raise more than 1½ million dollars a year revenue.

This follows Mayor Cromwell's happy hunch to put a tax on gasoline to help out the city' revenues. Now if the county would only assess a gasoline tax, and then the federal government, there would be plenty of money for everybody—except the people who drive cars, and who cares what they think?

But isn't it remarkable how every public official does all his thinking along the line of finding something more to tax? It never seems to occur to him to think about some way to economize and reduce taxes.—Kansas City Star.

WOLF'S COMET

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS,
Eminent Astronmer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

Wolf's comet went within eleven million miles of the planet Jupiter on the 26th of September and for some time, according to the calculations of the astronmer, Kamensky, was inside the sphere of Jupiters gravitational control, which means that it is so near that the big planet's influence over the comet exceeds the sun's.

The consequences are highly interesting. Looking off from our earth-ship we see the cometary whale surging through the interplanetary ocean of ether in a struggle with the gravitational net spread by Jupiter which is not strong enough to hold it fast and keep it circling around that planet, but is strong enough to greatly change its speed and to turn it into a very different path from that which it was pursuing before it fell into the net. Jupiter shows it up and heads it farther out to sea.

Hereafter it will still go around the sun as the centre of its motion, but will, on consequence of its tug with Jupiter, have to travel in an orbit whose nearest point to the sun will be 223,000,000 miles instead of 148,000,000 miles as before. And its period of revolution will be increased from 6.7 years to 8.5.

But this is not the first time that this comet has had a tussle with the chief of the planets. Nor is this by any means the only comet that has found Jupiter a slave-driver for the sun. In fact, the first known appearance of Wolf's comet within the astronomer's range of vision occurred as a consequence of its having, while nosing its way about the outer regions of the solar system, vetnured too close to Jupiter.

That was in 1875. All we know about that particular occurrence is from calculation based upon the law of gravitation. It is like calculating backward to find out when a prehistoric eclipse occurred. People concerned to demonstrate the immeasurable superiority of a man to a monkey might profitably dwell upon this sort of knowledge.

The comet was first seen in 1884 going around the sun as unconcernedly as if it had always been travelling in that same track. But the astronomers recognize it as new by its steering, and then a little figuring by Newton's immortal rules revealed what had happened to it.

After 1884 it steadied down to a regular gait, and, keeping at a safe distance from Jupiter, came back to perihelion every 6.76 years. But the seeds of a ney adventure with Jupiter were in the very constitution of its orbit, and this year that which could have been foreseen happened. The die was cast in July last when the comet again passed within Jupiter's sphere of influence, and immediately the new change in the form of its orbit began.

Kemnesky's study indicates that the comet passed beyond Jupiter's sphere in the middle of December, by which time its future course was determined. This, as already said, will carry the comet into a larger orbit, farther from the sun, and lengthen its period by more than a year-and-a-half.

This curious intereference of planet with comet is a part of the general activity of the solar system that can have no apparent relationship to our interests as long as the comets concerned do not come close to the earth. Our planet is too small and too unfavorably situated to exercise any such controlling force over comets as Jupiter does. But the possibility exists that Jupiter might, in his rough gravitational play, sometime turn one of his comets into such a path that it would actually encounter the earth, with consequences that cannot be precisely anticipated, especially if the "head" of the comet should collide with us.

Several experiences of the past, the last in 1910, when Halley's comet brushed us, seem to prove that we have nothing to fear from merely encountering a comet's tail. It is the head that ye have to dread, if anything.

Most of the periodical comets have their orbits shaped for them by Jupiter. Sometimes he brings in a new one as a kind of present to amuse his master, the sun; and once in a while, he snatches one of these away, sending it far out into space so that, though the sun still keeps a rein upon it, we on the earth see it no more.

What Most Stomachs Need

The Alkaline Effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Prevents or Relieves Acidity and Sour Risings.

To make our food palatable, savory and appetizing, the cook mixes in some onions or garlic, we eat fried sausage, baked beans, cheese with pie, and ketchup and vinegar to some dishes and then complain of a sour, acid, gassy, belching stomach due to indigestion. Experience has shown that the recourse is not to banish all these good things to eat and fire the cook but to simply supply the acid stomach with an alkaine effect and then the stomach takes care of these so-called dyspepsia bringers. eGt a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets today at any drug store, eat what you like even though you may fear indigestion. Chew one or two tablets and then rejoice that you found the very thing your stomach needed.—Advertisement.

HASTINGS TO CUT ELECTRICAL RATE

May Also Furnish Current to Several Surrounding Towns.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—Lower light rates and the possibility of furnishing current for Kenesaw, Roseland, Holstein and Ayr were the most important subjects brought up at the last meeting of the city council.

Just how much reduction in the light rates here can be made, has not been determined but it is said that the cut will be a substantial one.

Hastings current is furnished by a municipal light plant and the patrons have always enjoyed the lowest possible rates.

The Electric Development company of Omaha has asked for a contract for electricity to be furnished to the four nearby towns with no expense of installation to be borne by the municipal plant.

The lead to the quartet of towns would not be a heavy one and rates would be made by agreement as in the cases of Juniata and Trumbull, now securing current from the Hastings plant.

"The big thing in making a contract with outside towns is the fact that Hastings will have a family circle," Mayor Stiner said. "By supplying these towns with current they will think with us which is to our benefit."

The proposition received unanimous endorsement of the councilmen and a contract will probably be made in the near future.

Nebraska Men Are Named as Officers In Reserve Corps

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Seven Nebraska men have been appointed officers in officers' reserve corps of Nebraska, according to information received today by Major Robert Cole, adjutant to the Eighty-ninth division. The list follows:

First lieutenant, Fred Henry Stoll, Beatrice.

Second lieutenant, Edward W. Sears; Captain, Leo Schneider, Brady.

First lieutenant, W. H. Pallett, Crete.

First lieutenant, Vance Leonard Brown, Hastings.

Captain, Charles E. Foster and Major William Ritchie jr., Omaha.

Does Big Business In License Plates

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., Dec. 10.—The county treasurer and his office force are issuing 1923 license plates to autoists at the rate of about 100 a day. There are nearly 3,600 cars in the county, bringing in a revenue of approximately $42,000. Of this number one-third of the license plates have been delivered. Heretofore dealers have made application to county treasurers and their plates have been forwarded to them from the factory, causing much delay and annoyance. This year dealers' plates are carried in stock by all county treasurers to facilitate delivery. The date has not been set for the arrest of those operating under the old auto licenses, but officers of the law say they will begin making arrests within ten days.

Farmers Union in Good Condition

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The Farmers union of Cambridge held the annual meeting, when Manager James Carrol reported the union to be in very good condition financially. The company has a capital stock of $10,000 and a net worth of $15,000. Business handled for the last year amounted to $250,000. After the meeting a banquet was held in Thorndike hall. There were over 200 members and guests present. Ed Keyes acted as toastmaster and speeches were made by R. H. Rankin, C. M. Brown, B. F. Butler and C. A. Phillips. The Rambeaux orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Fairbury to Have New School House

FAIRBURY, Neb., Jan 10.—The proposition of voting $200,000 bonds to build a new high school for Fairbury will be considered at a mass meeting to be held next week, probably on Tuesday evening. A bond election will be advertised soon after the meeting. If the bonds carry, the building will be ready for use on or before Jan. 1, 1924. Fisk and Meginnis of Lincoln have drawn the plans which will be used should the bond issue be successful. Fairbury school patrons agree on the need of a new school building, but differ on the size of the structure.

CRETE NOTES.

(Special to The Star)

CRETE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The residence of R. A. Smith, north of Crete on the Boswell avenue road, was threatened with destruction Tuesday morning when fire in some manner caught in an old barrel in the basement. Mr. Smith rushed to the basements as soon as smoke was discovered coming through the register and was able to turn the hose on just the right spot to extinguish the fire. No damage was done except to the basement.

SAYS TWO JUDGES KEPT QUITE BUSY

Dilworth Says Plenty of Work For Both in Tenth District.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—Protesting the assertion that only one judge is necessary in the Tenth judicial district of which Adams county is a part; Judge Dilworth called attention to the fact that 813 cases have come up in district court during the past four years.

Of these 110 were pending at the beginning of that time. 653 have been disposed of and 150 still remain to be tried.

"There has not been a month in 1922 that I have not held court in some county in the district and I think the same is true of Judge Blackledge," Judge Dilworth said.

Adams county records show that district court was in session here 145 days in 1921 and 182 days in 1922, making a total of 327 days. Deducting Sundays and holidays, it will then be seen that during the past two years district court was held here almost half of the time.

During the four years, the tendency of case numbers has been gradually upward from 161 cases in 1919 to 190 in 1922.

Hastings Radio Fans Form Club

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10—An enthusiastic meeting of radio fans was held at the Chamber of Commerce here and the Hastings Radio club was organized with a charter membership of thirty-three. J. H. Riffe was elected president and George Kimball, jr., vice president. The other officers are to be selected by a committee.

The principal object in the organization of radio fans here was to try to effect some plan by which programs sent out by local broadcasting stations could be prevented from interfering with those coming from a distance.

It was pointed out that often when owners of radio plants were enjoying a grand opera concert, a program would be started from the local plant and the grand opera would be entirely wiped out.

The club hopes to effect a schedule whereby the local plant will confine its programs to the time before 9 o'clock in the evening, since it is usually after that time that the better ones begin to come in.

Midland College Buildings All to Be On One Campus

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 10—New buildings to be erected by Midland college during the coming year, at a cost of $250,000, will stand on the vacant plat of ground just east of the college buildings, and not on Military avenue. Since the purchase of Ray Nye's home on Nye avenue and the conversion of it into a home for Western theological seminary, for the training of Lutheran ministers, the old plan of developing on lots fronting Military has been abandoned. The group of college buildings will be kept together on the present campus.

The buildings to be erected first will be a dormitory for the girls and a gymnasium.

Some Women Forget

Some women fail to give their feet the same intelligent thought that they do other parts of their person. They take Turkish baths and general massage, they practice an advertised system of bodily exercises, they have their facial treatments regularly, keep their hair in good condition and look well to the beauty of their hands, while they neglect their feet and permit them to be so uncomfortable, to give them so much unhappiness, that the discomfort and unhappiness are clearly reflected in their face and in their ungraceful walk.

Many women however have learned that the Cantilever Shoe starts them at the foundation of physical and mental fitness by relieving them of all foot strain and discomfort.

A notable feature of Cantilever Shoes is the flexible arch, just like the arch of the human foot—which permits the muscles and ligaments to exercise normally and naturally with every step. This exercise strengthens the muscles and keeps the feet young and supple.

Cantilevers have always had the natural sole line, the comfortable rounded toe and the sensible walking heel which Dame Fashion now proclaims the style.

Cantilever Shoes come in black and brown kid, tan calf and white linen. Buy a pair tomorrow and let them mean happiness for you.

HASTINGS TO CUT ELECTRICAL RATE

May Also Furnish Current to Several Surrounding Towns.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—Lower light rates and the possibility of furnishing current for Kenesaw, Roseland, Holstein and Ayr were the most important subjects brought up at the last meeting of the city council.

Just how much reduction in the light rates here can be made, has not been determined but it is said that the cut will be a substantial one.

Hastings current is furnished by a municipal light plant and the patrons have always enjoyed the lowest possble rates.

The Electric Development company of Omaha has asked for a contract for electricity to be furnished to the four nearby towns with no expense of installation to be borne by the municipal plant.

The lead to the quartet of towns would not be a heavy one and rates would be made by agreement as in the cases of Juniata and Trumbull, now securing current from the Hastings plant.

"The big thing in making a contract with outside towns is the fact that Hastings will have a fanmily circle,' Mayor Stiner said. "By supplying these towns with current they will think with us which is to our benefit."

The proposition received unanimous endorsement of the councilmen and a contract will probably be made in the near future.

Nebraska Men Are Named as Officers In Reserve Corps

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Seven Nebraska men have been appointed officers in officers' reserve corps of Nebraska, according to information received today by Major Robert Cole, adjutant to the Eighty-ninth division. The list follows:

First lieutenant, Fred Henry Stoll, Beatrice.

Second lieutenant, Edward W. Sears; Captain, Leo Schneider Brady.

First lieutenant, W. H. Pallett, Crete.

First lieutenant, Vance Leonard Brown, Hastings.

Captain, Charles E. Foster and Major William Ritchie, jr., Omaha.

Does Big Business In License Plates

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., Dec. 10.—The county treasurer and his office force are issuing 1923 license plates to autoists at the rate of about 100 a day. There are nearly 3,600 cars in the county, bringing in a revenue of approximately $42,000. Of this number, one-third of the license plates have been delivered. Heretofore dealers hav made application to county treasurers and their plates have been forwarded to them from the factory, causing much delay and annoyance. This year dealers' plates are carried in stock by all county treasurers to facilitate delivery. The date has not been set for the arrest of those operating under the old auto licenses, but officers of the law say they will begin making arrests within ten days.

Farmers Union in Good Condition

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The Farmers union of Cambridge held the annual meeting, when Manager James Carrol reported the union to be in very good condition financially. The company has a capital stock of $10,000 and a net worth of $18,000. Business handled for the last year amounted to $250,000. After the meeting a banquet was held in Thorndike hall. There were over 200 members and guests present. Ed Keyes acted as toastmaster and speeches were made by R. H. Rankin, C. M. Brown, B. F. Butler nad C. A. Phillips. The Rambeaux orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

HEADLEY DIES SUDDENLY.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—Albert L. Headley, young farmer living seven miles southwest of the city, died suddenly Tuesday morning at his home after an illness of but a few hours. An autopsy revealed the fact that acute liver trouble had caused his death. He was thirty-one years of age and is survived by his wife, two children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Headley, six sisters and two brothers.

Fairbury to Have New School House

FAIRBURY, Neb., Jan 10.—The proposition of voting $200,000 bonds to build a new high school for Fairbury will be considered at a mass meeting to be held next week, probably on Tuesday evening. A bond election will be advertised soon after the meeting. If the bonds carry, the building will be ready for use on or before Jan. 1, 1924. Fisk and Meginnis of Lincoln have drawn the plans which will be used should the bond issue be successful. Fairbury school patrons agree on the need of a new school building, but differ on the size of the structure.

CRETE NOTES.

(Special to The Star)

CRETE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The residence of R. A. Smith, north of Crete on the Boswell avenue road, was threatened with destruction Tuesday morning when fire in some manner caught in an old barrel in the basement. Mr. Smith rushed to the basements as soon as smoke was discovered coming through the register and was able to turn the hose on just the right spot to extinguish the fire. No damage was done except to the basement.

Crete chapter, D. A. R., met at the home of Mrs. W. J. Johnston for the monthly meeting. A paper on Earlier History of Education in Nebraska was given by Mrs. Johnston. A reading from the D. A. R. magazine on the life of the founder of the D. A. R. was given by Miss Gertrude Brown. The anniversary meeting of the chapter will be held in February.

Work On School Building Delayed

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 10.—Owing to delay in the arrival of material work on the new North ward school building is two months behind and the new block cannot be used for the second semester work, as was planned by school officers. The new building will cost $30,000 and will accommodate students up to the seventh grade. It will provide relief in the north part of the city where the North ward school has been filled to overflowing.

Speakers Discuss Health and Homes

(Special to The Star.)

GENEVA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Health and home interests were the topics discussed at the dinner of the community club Monday night. Miss Amy McOwan, county Red Cross nurse, gave details of her work among the rural schools of the county. A short talk was given by Miss Edna Pegler, county home demonstration agent.

DEATH AT HEBRON.

(Special to The Star.)

HEBRON, Neb., Jan. 10.—Mrs. W. B. Luttrell, a long time resident of Hebron, died Saturday, and was buried Monday afternoon from the Christian church. Mrs. Luttrell was sixty-two years old, and had lived in Hebron since 1889. She leaves her husband and son, Mont Luttrell of Ceresco, Neb., her mother, Sarah J. Willmore. Also six brothers and three sisters, Judge B. L. Willmore, T. A. Willmore, C. C. Willmore, Mrs. Addie Lane, Mrs. Tena J. Davey and Mrs. Emma Ring, all of Hebron; C. J. Willmore of Alva, Okla; J. O. WOODWORTH IS WINNER.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—The $100 scholarship offered each year by the Union Pacific to the club member having the highest standing in the county among corn, wheat and potato clubs, has been awarded to John Woodworth of Ayr. Robert Bushnell, now attending the state university agricultural college, won the scholarship in 1921.

SAYS TWO JUDGES KEPT QUITE BUSY

Dilworth Says Plenty of Work For Both in Tenth District.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—Protesting the assertion that only one judge is necessary in the Tenth judicial district of which Adams county is a part, Judge Dillworth called attention to the fact that 813 cases have come up in district court during the past four years.

Of these 110 were pending at the beginning of that time, 653 have been disposed of and 150 still remain to be tried.

"There has not been a month in 1922 that I have not held court in some county in the district and I think the same is true of eJudg Blackledge,' Judge Dilworth said.

Adams county records show that district court was in session here 145 days in 1921 and 182 days in 1922, making a total of 327 days. Deducting Sundays and holidays, it will then be seen that during the past two years district court was held here almost half of the time.

During the four years, the tendency of case numbers has been gradually upward from 164 cases in 1919 to 190 in 1922.

Train Hits Auto And Colorado Man Severely Injured

ALMA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Claire McElland, real estate agent, whose residence is not known, was probably fatally injured at 2 o clock Tuesday afternoon when his automobile was struck by a freight train at Republican City. His car bore a Colorado license numbmer and he wre a Masonic pin.

Railroad Hauls Much Grain Too Southern Ports

(Special to The Star.)

GENEVA, Neb., Jan. 10. — An average of ten trains a day is being run through Geneva now on the Northwestern line. The Santa Fe cars are drawn by Northwestern engines and carry wheat, corn and merchandise from Omaha, Sioux City, Council Bluffs and Dakota points for export from Galveston and other gulf ports. Engines take water at this station and crews frequently have their meals here.

Agent Cox, at the Northwestern, reports that 115 cars of live stock were shipped from Genea during 1922, making the best record for any year in that department.

Hastings Radio Fans Form Club

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10—An enthusiastic meeting of radio fans was held at the Chamber of Commerce here and the Hastings Radio club was organized with a charter membership of thirty-three. J. H. Riffe was elected president and George Kimball, jr., vice president. The other officers are to be selected by a committee.

The principal object in the organization of radio fans here was to try to effect some plan by which programs sent out by local broadcasting stations could be prevented from interfering with those coming from a distance.

It was pointed out that often when owners of radio plants were enjoying a grand opera concert, a program would be started from the local plant and the grand opera would be entirely wiped out.

The club hopes to effect a schedule whereby the local plant will confine its programs to the time before 9 o'clock in the evening, since it is usually after that time that the better ones begin to come in.

CHILD INJURED.

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—Lila, the four year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Droge of Dubois, was severely wounded Sunday evening, while at play. The door leading to the furnace room under the house was left open and the child fell through it, cutting a deep gash in the head when she struck the cement floor below. She was rushed to medical attention in town and is doing nicely.

TO TRAIN YOUTHS.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—A proposal for a junior city council has been made by Councilman J. F. Frye, whereby each member of the Hastings council should adopt a youth as his protege and teach him the rudiments of civic government. The plan has aroused much comment but so far has neither been accepted or rejected.

FOOT IS MASHED.

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—L. E. Britt of Dubois had his left foot badly mashed while cutting wood on a farm south of that village last week. A heavy log fell on the member, crushing it, and he will be forced to use crutches for some time.

PAWNEE MARRIAGE.

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—Raymond S. Jameson of Bookwalter and Miss Bessie Shearer of Violet were married in this city Tuesday by County Judge David Neill, at his office. They will reside on the groom's farm.

Midland College Buildings All to Be On One Campus

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 10—New buildings to be erected by Midland college during the coming year, at a cost of $250,000, will stand on the vacant plat of ground just east of the college buildings, and not on Military avenue. Since the purchase of Ray Nye's home on Nye avenue and the conversion of it into a home for Western theological seminary, for the training of Lutheran ministers, the old plan of developing on lots fronting Military has been abandoned. The group of college buildings will be kept together on the present campus.

The buildings to be erected first will be a dormitory for the girls and a gymnasium.

Badly Injured By Jump From Train

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 10—Ray Clemons, colored, of Oklahoma City, Okla., was badly bruised up when he leaped from an incoming U. P. freight train in the railroad yards. Police found Clemons lying beside the railroad track and took him to the police station, where physicians dressed his wounds. Clemons said he had been working at Green River, Wyo.

Aged Woman Falls Breaking Her Hip

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—Mrs. George Shellenberger, eighty-seven year old pioneer of this city, was seriously injured Monday while carrying wood into the house. She slipped and fell with her arms loaded with wood and sustained a broken hip. She was taken to the Pawnee hospital.

MURPHY IS CHAIRMAN.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Jaan. 10—A. W. Murphy has been chosen chairman of the board of county supervisors. Mr. Murphy for many years has represented Fremont on the county board. He is a republican.

Swan Anderson is the only new member of the board. He formally took his seat.

Some Women Forget

Some women fail to give their feet the same intelligent thought that they do other parts of their person. They take Turkish baths and general massage, they practice an advertised system of bodily exercises, they have their facial treatments regularly, keep their hair in good condition and look well to the beauty of their hands, while they neglect their feet and permit them to be so uncomfortable, to give them so much unhappiness, that the discomfort and unhappiness are clearly reflected in their face and in their ungraceful walk.

Many women, however, have learned that the Cantilever Shoe starts them at the foundation of physical and mental fitness by relieving them of all foot strain and discomfort.

A notable feature of Cantilever Shoes is the flexible arch, just like the arch of the human foot—which permits the muscles and ligaments to exercise normally and naturally with every step. This exercise strengthens the muscles and keeps the fet young and supple.

Cantilevers have always had the natural sole line, the comfortable rounded toe and the sensible walking heel which Dame Fashion now proclaims the style.

Cantilever Shoes come in black and brown kid, tan calf and white linen. Buy a pair tomorrow and let them mean happiness for you.

Cupid Kept Busy In Pawnee County

(Special to The Star.)

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—County Judge David Neill issued seventy eight marriage licenses during 1922, surpassing the 1921 record by a margin of sixteen. The 1921 record had been the banner year, breaking all previous records, but the one just past has bone it one better. Of the seventyeight licenses issued, thirty seven of the ceremonies were performed by the judge himself.

BAXTER FOUND GUILTY.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10—Jay Baxter was found guilty in county court here of the illegal possession and sale of liquor to C. P. Canady and was fined $100 and costs by Judge J. M. Turbyfill. Baxter appealed and gave bond of $250 for his appearance in district court.

CARROLL OPPOSED BY OMAHA WOMEN

Appointment of Elmer Thomas as State Sheriff Asked For.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Opposition to the appointment by Governor Bryan of Tom Carroll as state sheriff, to succeed Gus Hyers, was voiced here Tuesday by the Omaha W. C. T. U., a committee of which organization drew up a resolution condemning the proposed appointment. This resolution was adopted at a meeting of the Omaha W. C. T. U. and wired to Governor Bryan.

The W. C. T. U. went on record also as favoring the appointment of Elmer E. Thomas as state sheriff. Thomas is the chairman of the executive committee of the committee of 5,000 which recently undertook a personal investigation into prohibition enforcement in Omaha and compiled a list of 177 places in Omaha where he alleged that the liquor law was being openly violated.

Former Police Judge Foster declared that he saw little chance of Thomas' appointment and predicted that Carroll's appointment would mean a continuation of present conditions.

The meeting also endorsed the sending of a delegation to Lincoln to personally plead the cause of Thomas.

Dempster Company To Pay Dividends

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—At the annual meeting of the Dempster Mill Manufacturing company Monday evening the following members of the board of directors were elected: C. B. Dempster, H. L. Dempster, Clyde Dempster, A. W. King, R. H. Barger and John Gerhardt. Reports submitted showed that the company had done approximately $2,000,000 worth of business during 1922 and paid out more than half a million dollars in wages and salaries. The receipts for the year were $1,508,805.6. A 6 per cent dividend will be paid on common stock and 7 per cent on preferred stock. The company expects to conect its local plant with the hydro-electric plant at Barneston and operate it by electricity.

Smith Estate Pays Inheritance Tax

(Special to The Star.)

GENEVA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Heirs of the H. L. Smith estate have recently paid an inheritance tax of $2,126.31, the sum being about equally divided between Lancaster and Fillmore counties. The Lincoln holdings which is a part of the estate, consist of the building occupied by the Hardy Furniture company occupying two lots fronting on L street and one lot on P street, and some residence property. The heirs of the estate are Curtis A. Smith, son of the late Dr. H. L. Smith, his grandchildren, Mrs. Bessie Butler Wilson, Mrs. Dorothy Butler Steele, and Newell Butler, and one great grandson, Elwin W. Sherrard.

CRETE NOTES.

(Special to The Star.)

CRETE, Neb., Jan. 10. — The monthly men's luncheon was given at the church Monday night and was addressed by George Burt of Lincoln on "The Fine Art of Selling Oneself." A good crowd was present and greatly enjoyed the talk.

The first of the new year Go to Church Sundays was very well observed in Crete, large crowds being in all the churches both morning and evening. At the M. E. church a motion picture was shown of "The Creation," which was considered very fine.

The funeral of John Richard Vance, son of R. C. Vance, was held at the home ten miles north of Crete Saturday afternoon, Rev. W. A. Cave of Crete conducting the services. Beside his parents he is survived by a twin brother, Julius, two sisters, Nancy and Helen, and a brother, Robert. Interment was in the family lot in Reverside cemetery, Crete.

Mrs. Mary Skolil sold her eighty acres of land four and one-half miles north of Crete Monday at auction for $6,000. Charley Dedic was the buyer.

The three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tisher died from scarlet fever. The mother and two other children were ill with the same disease when the baby died.

George H. Etting Pioneer Miller of David City Called

(Special to The Star.)

DAVID CITY, Neb., Jan. 10—George H. Etting passed away at his home in David City, Monday morning after an illness of several months. He came to this city in 1882 and engaged in the milling business, founding the David City Roller mills at that time. In 1914, he retired from business, putting it in charge of his son, Alex E. Etting of this city.

Mr. Etting was a heavy land owner and for a number of years was one of the directors of the City National bank here. If he had lived until March 20, he would have been seventy-six years old. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Alex E. Etting of David City and Alfred H. Etting of Washington, D. C., and two daughters, Mrs. Roy Becker and Miss Rose Etting, both of this city. Mr. Etting was a member of the K. of P. lodge and of the B. P. O. E.

Funeral services will be held at the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Horning assisted by Rev. Wm. Richards.

ANTI-KU KLUX BILL IN SENATE

Tomek and Gumb Back of Measure Designed to Stop Klan Activities.

Economy Moves in Proposals Introduced in Upper House Tuesday.

Seven bills were thrown into the senate hopper Tuesday afternoon, including one already known as the anti-Ku Klux Klan bill, and one to provide a $10 a day salary for the lieutenant governor when he serves as acting governor, a resolution was passed placing the upper house on record as opposed to the showing of Arbuckle films in Nebraska and another one introduced calling for a senate committee to investigate the condition of state banks and the guaranty system—Monday's ten bills were advanced to second reading, and the upper house adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Tomek of Butler and Gumb of Dodge, both democrats, were responsible for the anti-Klan measure. It provides a penalty where any two or more persons meet in disguise for the purpose of investigating, discussing, hearing or determining the guilt or innocence of any peron, or inflict punishment for presumed infraction of law or custom. The bill is extremely broad in scope, and among other things, provides that any person convicted under it shall not be pardoned or paroled from the penitentiary. The Klan is not mentioned by name.

Economy measures featured the senate bills. No. 15, by Rickard of Webster, reduces the salary of the supreme court justices to $4,500, district judges and all constitutional officers to $3,000, the governor to $5,000, and increases the lieutenant governor's salary to $1,000 per year, with an extra $10 taken from the governor's salary when the former acts as chief executive.

Many of these salaries are set by the constitution and cannot be changed by legislative action. The lieutenant governor now draws a biennial stipend of $1,600. The last two sections of the bill provide that if any supreme court justice shall declare the act unconstitutional, the governor shall call a special session to investigate the "motives and reasons," also that if the governor refuse to call the session the legislature shall meet anyway, and take such action as it deems advisable.

Oppose Arbuckle Films.

The Arbuckle resolution was introduced by Senator Barr and went through with little attention. The other resolution calls for the appointment of a committee of five to investigate Nebraska state banks and the guaranty fund and find the condition prevailing, reporting back to the upper house with suggested remedies for present conditions, "Reasonable expenses" is included in the measure, which was introduced by Larkin of Douglas, and goes over under the rules until Wednesday.

At the request of Anderson of Lancaster, his resolutions on "dollar matching" and federal bank legislation were referred to appropriate committees.

Other bills introduced were as follows:

S. F. No. 11, by Good. Reduces fees for inspection of potatoes from $4 to $3 per car.

S. F. No. 12, by Wiltse. Reduces salary of governor to $6,000, supreme court members to $5,500, district judges and all constitutional state officers to $4,000.

S. F. No. 13, by Sturdevant. Reduces fee for non-resident pupils in high schools from $3 to $2 per week.

S. F. No. 14, by Sturdevant. Provides county county of 10 cents on each crowd killed and 50 cents per dozen for crow eggs, optional with county boards.

S. F. No. 17, by Robbins. Provides right to damages for any injury inflicted through the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors against the seller.

List of Employes.

A list of eighteen senate employes, as reported by Senator Reed, the employes committee, was adopted Tuesday afternoon. Senator Reed stated that a few other employes would be added later in the session. The list is as follows:

TELL NEBRASKA'S PIONEER HISTORY

Annual Meeting of State Historical Society Comes To a Close.

Indian Customs, Railroad Robbery, and North Platte Valley Are Subjects.

Old times in Nebraska were discussed by the speakers at the last meeting of the State Historical society Tuesday evening at the University library. Maurice G. Smith of Lincoln spoke on, "The Council Among the Plains Indians." Mr. Smith has made a special study of thtis subject. Senator J. S. Kroh of Ogallala spoke on, "The Union Pacific Train Robbery of 1877." "Foundation of Future Empire in the North Platte valley" was the subject of an address by A. N. Mathers of Gering, speaker of the house. Mrs. Mamie Claflin of University Place spoke on, "Women in the Nebraska Temperance Movement." Representative Obed Raash read a paper on the early German settlement in the Elkhorn valley. The new president of the organization, Dr. H. B. Lowry of Lincoln, was presented to the society by the retiring president, Robert Harvey, of St. Paul.

Mr. Smith told of the different customs among the Indians in choosing the chief aand council. The popular impression that he chief was all-powerful is erroneous. He said that the chief was sometimes hereditary and sometimes elected. Two chiefs were usually chosen, the civil chief and the war chief. The civil chief was usually the more powerful.

Senator Kroh's address on the Union Pacific train robbery was the result of much careful investigation. The robbers, four in number, bound and gagged the operator at Big Springs and after sending a fake message to the east-bound train to stop, robbed the train of $60,000 and the passengers of their valuables. There is much disagreement on the number involved but it is known that the four were known to have committed the robbery were all killed within two years.

Mathers Addresses Meeting.

Speaker Mathers described the rise of the North Platte valley, the part to which he referred being that near Gering and Scottsbluff and in Scottsbluff and Morrill counties. The development from a ranch country to a farming center and the great strides made after the system of irrigation was recounted. He said that the Platte valley was more thickly populated than the best farming sections of Iowa. The Pathfinder dam, from which the valley is watered, cost $2,000,000 and is two hundred feet in height. It contains enough water to supply the valley for two years, during which there would be no rain or snow.

Mrs. Claflin told of the numerous attempts to form a strong organization in Nebraska of the various leagues that had been formed and of their ultimate success. Women had marchhed the streets, praying and singing, and had eventually accomplished their object. How the fight had been carried on in the legislature, to obtain local option and finally prohibition was explained. Mrs. Claflin said that she merely told of the work, not having had as active a part as others.

About two hundred people attended the meeting. The greatest interest was shown in the addresses many members of the audience remembering the names and places spoken of from old times.

BANK OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

No Change in Heads of National Institutions—Conditions Improved.

No changes were made in the officers of national banks of Lincoln for the coming year, at the annual meetings held Tuesday afternoon, only one change in a director in four banks was made. The officers re-elected for the coming year are as follows:

An easier financial condition now prevails and this with an increase in business activities leads bankers to believe that 1923 will show rapid strides back to normal times. Officers and directors are optimistic about the future. All the banks are in a good condition.

Eggs! Eggs! All Winter!

13 Eggs a Day from 15 Hens. Miss Wright Tells How.

"Late in October, our 15 old hens were not laying at all. I started giving them Don Sung, and for ten days they still didn't lay. But on the eleventh day, they laid 13 eggs and it is wonderful what Don Sung has done for our egg basket through the fall, winter and spring. There never was another tonic like Don Sung."—Miss Dama Wright, Vernonia, Ore.

A $1 package of Don Sung lasts 15 hens 90 days. The extra eggs for just a few days paid Miss Wright for her Don Sung. The rest was clear profit.

You may not believe that hens can lay well all winter. Neither did Miss Wright until she accepted our offer. It's open to you—here it is:

Give Don Sung to 15 hens. Then watch results for 30 days. If it doesn't show you a big increase in eggs, if it doesn't pay for itself and pay you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg laying) acts directly on the egg-laying organs, and is beneficial in every way. It makes hens healthy and happy. They scratch and sing. Pullets develop earlier. The whole flock lays regularly in any season, in any weather, when eggs are scarce and high.

Can you afford to ignore the wonderful reports you are hearing from Don Sung users everywhere? Why not let us show you the same results, with your own flock? Don Sung is no trouble to use. It costs nothing to try. All we ask is a chance to prove our claims, entirely at our risk. Get Don Sung from your local dealer, or send 50 cents for package by mail prepaid (large size, $1, holds three times as much). Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

ELECT IMPORTANT COMMITTEE HEADS

Normal School Districts Get Three Chairmanships in Lower House.

Mears Head of Powerful Finance Group—Complete Elections Wednesday.

Three out of four of the representative districts in Nebraska where state normal schools are located were recognized in the distribution of standing committee chairmanships for the house. Mr. Mears of Wayne county was made chairman of the finance committee, Mr. Minor of Buffalo heads the education committee, and Mr. Wilson of Dawes is chairman of the committee on constitutional amendments.

The other normal school district, which consists of Nemaha county, is represented by a democratic member, and for that reason it did not get a chairmanship. But with three of the big committee in its hands, the normal school contingent is in a strategic position to push its campaign for increased appropriations.

Mrr. Mears was elected finance chairman, over J. Reid Green of Lancaster county, by a vote of 7 to 4. Some of the members seemed tothink that Mears should be given the place as a consolation prize for his failure to land the speakership, and as Mr. Green had already been honored by being made chairman of the republican caucus and of the committee on committees this sentiment prevailed.

A number of the other house committees which met Tuesday elected chairmen unanimously. The remaining committees were scheduled to pick theirs Wednesday. Following is the list of chairmen chosen up to this time:

Finance—Grant S. Mears, Wayne county.

Judiciary—Thomas B. Dysart, Douglas.

Revenue and taxation—Elmer J. Lamb, Johnson.

Education—Charles Miner, Buffalo.

Cities and towns—George B. Dyball, Douglas.

Agriculture—Ernest Peterson, Kearney.

Labor—Donald Gallagher, Holt.

School lands and funds—Elwell Johnston, Antelope.

Irrigation and drainage—W. M. Barbour, Scottsbluff.

Constitutional amendments—E. P. Wilson, Wawes.

Several other places are said to have been practically settled upon in advance of the committee meetings. For chairman of the committee on roads and bridges, George F. Staats of Dodge county, who headed it two years ago, is likely to be chosen. A. C. Colman of Garden is slated for chairman of the railroad committee, Thomas Stibal of Colfax for banking and W. M. Parkinson of Pawnee for live stock and grazing.

Youthful Bandit Robs Frat After Slugging Maid

The Delta Sigma Delta fraternity house, 800 South Eighteenth street, was robbed of $4.50 Tuesday afternoon, after a youthful bandit slugged the house maid, Mrs. Eva Van Hautan and rendered her unconscious in an upstars room.

The bandit, according to the maid, was a young man, tall and light complexioned. It is believed by members of the fraternity that he gained entrance to the house in the afternoon when the students were in school. The money was taken from dresser drawers.

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff competely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

Barstow Again Named Head of Grain Exchange

W. T. Barstow was re-elected president of the Lincoln Grain Exchange at the annual meeting and election of officers at the chamber of commerce Tuesday night.

In an address Mr. Barstow declared that one of the things needed to build up the exchange was larger grain shipments to Lincoln from its own members. He advocated that members use their influence to encourage shipments to Lincoln from grain dealers who are not members of the organization. More large flour mills and greater elevator capacity are also needed, according to Mr. Barstow.

About fifty members of the exchange were present.

ELECT OFFICERS.

The following officers of the Lancaster County Agricultural society were elected for 1923 at a meeting held in the court house Tuesday afternoon: F. W. Hudson, Lincoln, president; B. G. Japs, University Place, vice president; Joseph Harrison, Havelock, treasurer; A. H. Smith, Lincoln, secretary. With the exception of Mr. Hudson, who succeeds H. E. Walker as president, all the officers were re-elected. The society has charge of the county fair, which is held at the same time and in connection with the Nebraska state fair. There were no changes made in this year's premium list. A representative of Havelock business men, who are desirous of holding the county fair at Havelock, conferred with officers of the society but no action was taken.

Why Go To Arizona?

Get Rid of Your Cough by Inhaling "Deo" Vapors.

A cough is always the sign of inflammation, either in the bronchial tubes, throat or lungs. Get rid of the inflammation and you will get rid of the cough.

Procure a supply of "Deo" from any reliable druggist. Gently heat a spoonful of the ointment in a tin plate and draw in deep breaths of the soothing, healing vapor. This deposits an antiseptic film of oil over the raw, inflamed membranes, gradually helping to put them in sound condition.

"Deo" is composed entirely of pure vegetable oils that are noted for their germ-destroying, healing properties. It is safe and effective treatment for coughs, whether acute or chronic, colds, catarrh, croup, bronchitis and various respiratory troubles. Guaranteed to give satisfactory results or money back.

Mr. F. C. Giannini, 108 Alpine Terrace, San Francisco, writes: "For about 7 years I was troubled with a deep bad cough. Doctors advised that I leave this damp climate and go to Arizona. I finally tried your "Deo," and used it regularly, both inhaling the vapors and also rubbing it on. After four months my cough is gone and I have gained 18 lbs. I worked right along during treatment, so consider mysel cured."

"Deo" is sold by leading druggists everywhere. Tubes, 25c; jars, 50c. Dennis Mfg. Co., makers Berkeley, Cal.—Advertisement.

A Mother's Advice Prevents Operation

Corona, N. Y.—"I had a terrible pain in my left side and had to go to bed every so often. Doctors had told me I must be operated on, but I do not believe in the knife and would rather suffer than go through it. My mother also did not believe in it and she made me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped her. It has also helped me for I am better and able to do all my work. I recommend your medicine and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. BUSCH, Jr., 11 S. Railroad Avenue, Corona, N. Y.

A Sickly Child

Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now she is a healthy, happy, hearty, strong girl and weighs 120 pounds. She has no difficulty in doing her 'gym' work, and she works at home every night and morning, too. I am a mother who can certainly praise your medicine, and if it will be of any benefit you may use this letter as a reference."—Mrs. GEORGE E. WHITACRE, 621 W. Madison Ave., Mahoningtown, Pa.

Every girl wants to be healthy and strong, and every mother wants her daughter to do well in school and to enjoy herself at all times.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for young girls just entering womanhood. Mothers may depend upon it. Remember it is prepared from roots and herbs, contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they will work in a healthy and normal manner.

For nearly fifty years it has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value.

Let it help your daughter and yourself.

Did Closed Cars Cost Too Much?

Thousands thought so. And prior to the Coach, they stuck to open cars.

Yet everyone wants closed car advantages provided they can also have genuine chassis value. Essex provides all these advantages at little more than open car cost.

So a Great Welcome Awaited the Coach

Essex invented the Coach to meet this urgent demand of thousands. It gives every essential closed car comfort. It is solid, quiet, durable and attractive in looks. Yet of course its greatest value is in the famous Essex chassis which world experts have called the finest of its size built. It fully has confirmed that verdict by official proof.

It is easily turned and parked in small spaces. Little attention is needed to keep it in prime condition. All controls are easy to reach and operate. Clutch and brake pedals require but a touch. You will like the response of wheel and throttle and its economy in fuel, oil and tires.

The body is lastingly sturdy and comfortable. The chassis is so durable and capable that its performance is a never failing delight.

CARROLL OPPOSED BY OMAHA WOMEN

Appointment of Elmer Thomas as State Sheriff Asked For.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Opposition to the appointment by Governor Bryan of Tom Carroll as state sheriff to succeed Gus Hyers, was voiced here Tuesday by the Omaha W. C. T. U., a committee of which organization drew up a resolution condemning the proposed appointment. This resolution was adopted at a meeting of the Omaha W. C. T. U. and wired to Governor Bryan.

The W. C. T. U. went on record also as favoring the appointment of Elmer E. Thomas as state sheriff. Thomas is the chairman of the executive committee of the committee of 5,000 which recently undertook a personal investigation into prohibition enforcement in Omaha and compiled a list of 177 places in Omaha where he alleged that the liquor law was being openly violated.

Former Police Judge Foster declared that he saw little chance of Thomas' appointment and predicted that Carroll's appointment would mean a continuation of present conditions.

The meeting also endorsed the sending of a delegation to Lincoln to personally plead the cause of Thomas.

Dempster Company To Pay Dividends

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—At the annual meeting of the Dempster Mill Manufacturing company Monday evening the following members of the board of directors were elected: C. B. Dempster, H. L. Dempster, Clyde Dempster A. W. King, R. H. Barger and John Gerhardt. Reports submitted showed that the company had done approximately $2,000,000 worth of business during 1922 and paid out more than half a million dollars in wages and salaries. The receipts for the year were $1,508,805.6. A 5 per cent dividend will be paid on common stock and 7 per cent on preferred stock. The company expects to conect its local plant with the hydro-electric plant at Barneston and operate it by electricity.

CRETE NOTES.

(Special to The Star.)

CRETE, Neb., Jan. 10. — The monthly men's luncheon was given at the church Monday night and was addressed by George Burt of Lincoln on "The Fine Art of Selling Oneself." A good crowd was present and greatly enjoyed the talk.

The first of the new year Go to Church Sundays was very well observed in Crete, large crowds being in all the churches both morning and evening. At the M. E. church a motion picture was shown of "The Creation," which was considered very fine.

The funeral of John Richard Vance, son of R. C. Vance, was held at the home ten miles north of Crete Saturday afternoon, Rev. W. A. Cave of Crete conducting the services. Beside his parents he is survived by a twin brother, Julius, two sisters, Nancy and Helen, and a brother, Robert. Interment was in the family lot in Reverside cemetery, Crete.

Mrs. Mary Skolil sold her eighty acres of land four and one-half miles north of Crete Monday at auction for $6,000. Charley Dedic was the buyer.

The three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tisher died from scarlet fever. The mother and two other children were ill with the same disease when the baby died.

UNION CHURCH SERVICE.

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., Jan. 10—The churches of Fairbury held union services Sunday night at the Methodist church. All the pastors attended but sat in the audience to listen to addresses on "Stewardship or Tithing" by Floyd Miles, printer of University Place; Mr. Lett a baker and Roy Davis a life insurance man of Lincoln. E. J. Hested presided at the meeting. The Methodist church has the largest seating capacity in the city and every seat was filled.

EUGENE LARIMORE DIES.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10—Eugene Larimore, old resident of Beatrice, passed away Tuesday morning at his home in this city, aged thirty-seven years. He leaves his wife, mother, and a number of brothers and sisters. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Bergmeyer funeral home.

George H. Etting Pioneer Miller of David City Called

(Special to The Star.)

DAVID CITY, Neb., Jan. 10—George H. Etting passed away at his home in David City, Monday morning after an illness of several months. He came to this city in 1882 and engaged in the milling business, founding the David City Roller mills at that time. In 1914, he retired from business, putting it in charge of his son, Alex E. Etting of this city.

Mr. Etting was a heavy land owner and for a number of years was one of the directors of the City National bank here. If he had lived until March 20, he would have been seventy-six years old. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Alex E. Etting of David City and Alfred H. Etting of Washington, D. C., and two daughters, Mrs. Roy Becker and Miss Rose Etting, both of this city. Mr. Etting was a member of the K. of P. lodge and of the B. P. O. E.

Funeral services will be held at the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Horning assisted by Rev. Wm. Richards.

ANTI-KU KLUX BILL IN SENATE

Tomek and Gumb Back of Measure Designed to Stop Klan Activities.

Economy Moves in Proposals Introduced in Upper House Tuesday.

Seven bills were thrown into the senate hopper Tuesday afternoon, including one already known as the anti-Ku Klux Klan bill, and one to provide a $10 a day salary for the lieutenant governor when he serves as acting governor, a resolution was passed placing the upper house on record as opposed to the showing of Arbuckle films in Nebraska and another one introduced calling for a senate committee to investigate the condition of state banks and the guaranty system—Monday's ten bills were advanced to second reading, and the upper house adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Tomek of Butler and Gumb of Dodge, both democrats, were responsible for the anti-Klan measure. It provides a penalty where any two or more persons meet in disguise for the purpose of investigating, discussing, hearing or determining the guilt or innocence of any peron, or inflict punishment for presumed infraction of law or custom. The bill is extremely broad in scope, and among other things, provides that any person convicted under it shall not be pardoned or paroled from the penitentiary. The Klan is not mentioned by name.

Economy measures featured the senate bills. No. 15, by Rickard of Webster, reduces the salary of the supreme court justices to $4,500, district judges and all constitutional officers to $3,000, the governor to $5,000, and increases the lieutenant governor's salary to $1,000 per year, with an extra $10 taken from the governor's salary when the former acts as chief executive.

Many of these salaries are set by the constitution and cannot be changed by legislative action. The lieutenant governor now draws a biennial stipend of $1,600. The last two sections of the bill provide that if any supreme court justice shall declare the act unconstitutional, the governor shall call a special session to investigate the "motives and reasons," also that if the governor refuse to call the session the legislature shall meet anyway, and take such action as it deems advisable.

Oppose Arbuckle Films.

The Arbuckle resolution was introduced by Senator Barr and went through with little attention. The other resolution calls for the appointment of a committee of five to investigate Nebraska state banks and the guaranty fund and find the condition prevailing, reporting back to the upper house with suggested remedies for present conditions. "Reasonable expenses" is included in the measure, which was introduced by Larkin of Douglas, and goes over under the rules until Wednesday.

At the request of Anderson of Lancaster, his resolutions on "dollar matching" and federal bank legislation were referred to appropriate committees.

Other bills introduced were as follows:

S. F. No. 11, by Good. Reduces fees for inspection of potatoes from $4 to $3 per car.

S. F. No. 12, by Wiltse. Reduces salary of governor to $6,000, supreme court members to $5,500, district judges and all constitutional state officers to $4,000.

S. F. No. 13, by Sturdevant. Reduces fee for non-resident pupils in high schools from $3 to $2 per week.

S. F. No. 14, by Sturdevant. Provides county county of 10 cents on each crowd killed and 50 cents per dozen for crow's eggs, optional with county boards.

S. F. No. 17, by Robbins. Provides right to damages for any injury inflicted through the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors against the seller.

List of Employes.

A list of eighteen senate employes, as reported by Senator Reed, the employes committee, was adopted Tuesday afternoon. Senator Reed stated that a few other employes would be added later in the session. The list is as follows:

TELL NEBRASKA'S PIONEER HISTORY

Annual Meeting of State Historical Society Comes To a Close.

Indian Customs, Railroad Robbery, and North Platte Valley Are Subjects.

Old times in Nebraska were discussed by the speakers at the last meeting of the State Historical society Tuesday evening at the University library. Maurice G. Smith of Lincoln spoke on, "The Council Among the Plains Indians." Mr. Smith has made a special study of thtis subject. Senator J. S. Kroh of Ogallala spoke on, "The Union Pacific Train Robbery of 1877." "Foundation of Future Empire in the North Platte valley" was the subject of an address by A. N. Mathers of Gering, speaker of the house. Mrs. Mamie Claflin of University Place spoke on, "Women in the Nebraska Temperance Movement." Representative Obed Raash read a paper on the early German settlement in the Elkhorn valley. The new president of the organization, Dr. H. B. Lowry of Lincoln, was presented to the society by the retiring president, Robert Harvey of St. Paul.

Mr. Smith told of the different customs among the Indians in choosing the chief aand council. The popular impression that he chief was all-powerful is erroneous. He said that the chief was sometimes hereditary and sometimes elected. Two chiefs were usually chosen, the civil chief and the war chief. The civil chief was usually the more powerful.

Senator Kroh's address on the Union Pacific train robbery was the result of much careful investigation. The robbers, four in number, bound and gagged the operator at Big Springs and after sending a fake message to the east-bound train to stop, robbed the train of $60,000 and the passengers of their valuables. There is much disagreement on the number involved but it is known that the four were known to have committed the robbery were all killed within two years.

Mathers Addresses Meeting.

Speaker Mathers described the rise of the North Platte valley, the part to which he referred being that near Gering and Scottsbluff and in Scottsbluff and Morrill counties. The development from a ranch country to a farming center and the great strides made after the system of irrigation was recounted. He said that the Platte valley was more thickly populated than the best farming sections of Iowa. The Pathfinder dam, from which the valley is watered, cost $2,000,000 and is two hundred feet in height. It contains enough water to supply the valley for two years, during which there would be no rain or snow.

Mrs. Claflin told of the numerous attempts to form a strong organization in Nebraska of the various leagues that had been formed and of their ultimate success. Women had marchhed the streets, praying and singing, and had eventually accomplished their object. How the fight had been carried on in the legislature, to obtain local option and finally prohibition was explained. Mrs. Claflin said that she merely told of the work, not having had as active a part as others.

About two hundred people attended the meeting. The greatest interest was shown in the addresses many members of the audience remembering the names and places spoken of from old times.

An easier financial condition now prevails and this with an increase in business activities leads bankers to believe that 1923 will show rapid strides back to normal times. Officers and directors are optimistic about the future. All the banks are in a good condition.

Eggs! Eggs! All Winter!

13 Eggs a Day from 15 Hens. Miss Wright Tells How.

"Late in October, our 15 old hens were not laying at all. I started giving them Don Sung, and for ten days they still didn't lay. But on the eleventh day, they laid 13 eggs and it is wonderful what Don Sung has done for our egg basket through the fall, winter and spring. There never was another tonic like Don Sung."—Miss Dama Wright, Vernonia, Ore.

A $1 package of Don Sung lasts 15 hens 90 days. The extra eggs for just a few days paid Miss Wright for her Don Sung. The rest was clear profit.

You may not believe that hens can lay well all winter. Neither did Miss Wright until she accepted our offer. It's open to you—here it is:

Give Don Sung to 15 hens. Then watch results for 30 days. If it doesn't show you a big increase in eggs, if it doesn't pay for itself and pay you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg laying) acts directly on the egg-laying organs, and is beneficial in every way. It makes hens healthy and happy. They scratch and sing. Pullets develop earlier. The whole flock lays regularly in any season, in any weather, when eggs are scarce and high.

Can you afford to ignore the wonderful reports you are hearing from Don Sung users everywhere? Why not let us show you the same results, with your own flock? Don Sung is no trouble to use. It costs nothing to try. All we ask is a chance to prove our claims, entirely at our risk. Get Don Sung from your local dealer, or send 50 cents for package by mail prepaid (large size, $1, holds three times as much). Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

ELECT IMPORTANT COMMITTEE HEADS

Normal School Districts Get Three Chairmanships in Lower House.

Mears Head of Powerful Finance Group—Complete Elections Wednesday.

Three out of four of the representative districts in Nebraska where state normal schools are located were recognized in the distribution of standing committee chairmanships for the house. Mr. Mears of Wayne county was made chairman of the finance committee, Mr. Minor of Buffalo heads the education committee, and Mr. Wilson of Dawes is chairman of the committee on constitutional amendments.

The other normal school district, which consists of Nemaha county, is represented by a democratic member, and for that reason it did not get a chairmanship. But with three of the big committee in its hands, the normal school contingent is in a strategic position to push its campaign for increased appropriations.

Mrr. Mears was elected finance chairman, over J. Reid Green of Lancaster county, by a vote of 7 to 4. Some of the members seemed tothink that Mears should be given the plact as a consolation prize for his failure to land the speakership, and as Mr. Green had already been honored by being made chairman of the republican caucus and of the committee on committees this sentiment prevailed.

A number of the other house committees which met Tuesday elected chairmen unanimously. The remaining committees were scheduled to pick theirs Wednesday. Following is the list of chairmen chosen up to this time:

Finance—Grant S. Mears, Wayne county.

Judiciary—Thomas B. Dysart, Douglas.

Revenue and taxation—Elmer J. Lamb, Johnson.

Education—Charles Miner, Buffalo.

Cities and towns—George B. Dyball, Douglas.

Agriculture—Ernest Peterson, Kearney.

Labor—Donald Gallagher, Holt.

School lands and funds—Elwell Johnston, Antelope.

Irrigation and drainage—W. M. Barbour, Scottsbluff.

Constitutional amendments—E. P. Wilson, Wawes.

Several other places are said to have been practically settled upon in advance of the committee meetings. For chairman of the committee on roads and bridges, George F. Staats of Dodge county, who headed it two years ago, is likely to be chosen. A. C. Colman of Garden is slated for chairman of the railroad committee, Thomas Stibal of Colfax for banking and W. M. Parkinson of Pawnee for live stock and grazing.

Youthful Bandit Robs Frat After Slugging Maid

The Delta Sigma Delta fraternity house, 800 South Eighteenth street, was robbed of $4.50 Tuesday afternoon, after a youthful bandit slugged the house maid, Mrs. Eva Van Hautan had rendered her unconscious in an upstairs room.

The bandit, according to the maid, was a young man, tall and light complexioned. It is believed by members of the fraternity that he gained entrance to the house in the afternoon when the students were in school. The money was taken from dresser drawers

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff competely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon ;apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger-tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

Barstow Again Named Head of Grain Exchange

W. T. Barstow was re-elected president of the Lincoln Grain Exchange at the annual meeting and election of officers at the chamber of commerce Tuesday night.

In an address Mr. Barstow declared that one of the things needed to build up the exchange was larger grain shipments to Lincoln from its own members. He advocated that members use their influence to encourage shipments to Lincoln from grain dealers who are not members of the organization. More large flour mills and greater elevator capacity are also needed, according to Mr. Barstow.

About fifty members of the exchange were present.

ELECT OFFICERS.

The following officers of the Lancaster County Agricultural society were elected for 1923 at a meeting held in the court house Tuesday afternoon: F. W. Hudson, Lincoln, president: B. G. Japs, University Place, vice president; Joseph Harrison, Havelock, treasurer; A. H. Smith, Lincoln, secretary. With the exception of Mr. Hudson, who succeeds H. E. Walker as president, all the officers were re-elected. The society has charge of the county fair, which is held at the same time and in connection with the Nebraska state fair. There were no changes made in this year's premium list. A representative of Havelock business men, who are desirous of holding the county fair at Havelock, conferred with officers of the society but no action was taken.

Mothers Advise Their Daughters to Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Keep Them in Health

A Mother's Advice Prevents Operation

Corona, N. Y.—"I had a terrible pain in my left side and I had to go to bed every month. Doctors had told me I must be operated on, but I do not believe in the knife and I would rather suffer than go through it. My mother also did not believe in it and she gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped her. It has also helped me for I am better and able to do all my work. I recommend your medicine and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. BUSCH, Jr., 11 S. Railroad Avenue, Corona, N.Y.

A Sickly Child

Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would lie down on a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day!' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now she is a healthy, happy, hearty, strong girl and weighs 120 pounds. She has no difficulty in doing her 'gym' work, and she works at home every night and morning, too. I am a mother who can certainly praise your medicine, and if it will be of any benefit you may use this letter as a reference."—Mrs. GEORGE E. WHITACRE, 621 W. Madison Ave., Mahoningtown, Pa.

Every girl wants to be healthy and strong, and every mother wants her daughter to do well in school and to grow up a healthy, happy, strong woman.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for young girls just entering womanhood. Mothers may depend upon it. Remember it is prepared from roots and herbs, contains nothing to harm and tones up the organs concerned, so that they will work in a healthy and normal manner.

For nearly fifty years it has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value. Let it help your daughter and yourself.

Did Closed Cars Cost Too Much?

Thousands thought so. And prior to the Coach, they stuck to open cars.

Yet everyone wants closed car advantages provided they can also have genuine chassis value. Essex provides all these advantages at little more than open car cost.

So a Great Welcome Awaited the Coach

Essex invented the Coach to meet this urgent demand of thousands. It gives every essential closed car comfort. It is solid, quiet, durable and attractive in looks. Yet of course its greatest value is in the famous Essex chassis which world experts have called the finest of its size built. It fully has confirmed that verdict by official proof.

It is easily turned and parked in small spaces. Little attention is needed to keep it in prime condition. All controls are easy to reach and operate. Clutch and brake pedals require but a touch. You will like the response of wheel and throttle and its economy in fuel, oil and tires.

The body is lastingly sturdy and comfortable. The chassis is so durable and capable that its performance is a never failing delight.

Cornhusker Center Ruled Out By Valley Conference Decree

PETERSON RULED OUT OF FOOTALL

Decree By Valley Conference Bars Nebraska Center From Grid Game.

Eligibility Committee Holds Peterson Not Available For 1923 Season.

Carl Peterson of Omaha, junior at the University of Nebraska, center on the Cornhusker football eleven the past two seasons and Walter Camp's selection for center on his third All-America, has had his last year in intercollegiate football in Missouri Valley conference circles. Peterson has been declared ineligible for 1923 football, according to a decree handed down by Dean S. W. Beyer of Iowa State college at Ames, chairman of the conference eligibility committee.

Announcement was made in The Star several weeks ago that the Peterson case had been put up to the conference committee for a formal decision. An investigation conducted by Professor R. D. Scott, Nebraska's faculty delegate to the conference, disclosed that Peterson, prior to matriculating as a freshman at Nebraska, had been an academy student at Bethany college, Lindsborg, Kas. Although a "prep" student he had played the seasons of 1917 and 1919 on the Bethany college team. This information was offered voluntarily by Peterson, who, although anxious to have another season of football, gave the facts without evasion to the Nebraska faculty man.

Report Filed With Beyer.

Professor Scott's report, based on Peterson's statement, was forwarded to Chairman Beyer, who has officially advised the Nebraska authorities that the committee members voted unanimously that Peterson, under conference rules, is ineligible for football next fall.

The conference rule, according to explanation by Professor Scott, provides that one year of "prep" or freshman football at a secondary institution such as Bethany college shall not count against a conference athlete's record. A second football year, however, is equivalent to one year of conference participation. For that reason, Chairman Beyer stated, Peterson has had the full participation permitted by conference statutes.

Knocks Hole In the Line.

Loss of the Cornhuskers' fighting center knocks another hole in Nebraska's forward wall. It means that five of Coach Fred Dawson's 1922 regulars will be missing when the head coach calls the roll next September. Berquist and Bassett, guards, will be the only first-stringers available for gridiron service, putting it up to Dawson and "Indian" Schulte, head line coach, to develop regulars and subs for five positions in the Nebraska line—two ends, two tackles and a center.

Coaches at rival institutions in the Valley conference, weary of Nebraska's persistent habit of winning the conference championship, presumably will indulge in considerable chortling over the announcement that the Cornhuskers will lose another line regular, and the Cornhusker situation, with Peterson stricken from the varsity roster, truly involves a big question mark. With five first-stringers gone from the line and Hartley, Preston and Russell missing from the backfield, it must be conceded that the coaching staff at Nebraska will be accomplishing wonders if the Cornhuskers are to continue in possession of their position of football dominance in the Valley circle.

Brainard High Starts Cage Race With Three Wins

(Special to The Star.)

BRAINARD, Neb., Jan. 10—Brainard high school has started the cage season with a trio of victories. Beaver Crossing was defeated, 25 to 19, Gresham took the short end of a 18 to 9 score and Goehner was swamped, 30 to 8.

Brainard easily captured the class H cup last year. Three regulars are lost to he team. Captain Vondra, who had a record of 51 field goals in a game against Raymond high last season, Albin Kriz, center, and Rury Janak, guard, are the veterans lost to the team.

Coach Lester L. Wheatley, however, is optimistic regarding the outlook for the coming season. The quintet includes: Stanley Vondra, center, Albin Cabela and James Knajdl, forwards, and Captain Otto Holesovsky and Edward Reck, guards. The squad also includes Elmer Duncan, Lad Horacek, Adolph Kriz and Alfred Kremlacek.

Brainard high has two Friday night open dates and Coach Wheatley is anxious to schedule games with some good teams. The slate as now arranged follows:

Jan. 12—Dwight at Brainard.
Jan. 19—North Bend at Brainard.
Jan. 26—Beaver Crossing at Beaver Crossing.
Feb. 2—Brainard at Goehner.
Feb. 3—Osceola at Brainard.
Feb. 9—Open.
Feb. 16—Brainard at Osceola.
Feb. 23—Open.
March 2—North Bend at North Bend.
March 8, 9, 10—State tournament at Lincoln.

TRACK PROGRAM FOR NEBRASKA

Coach Schulte Busy Planning Schedule For Husker Cinder Tracksters.

The track schedule arranged for University of Nebraska athletes will include at least one dual meet at Lincoln. Arrangement for home meets have been hampered this year because of the lack of facilities with which to handle home compets.

Construction of the new stadium will probably compel the Husker sprinters to transfer their activities to the Lincoln high track. The Kansas Jayhawks will meet Nebraska in a dual meet here May 5, according to present arrangements.

An indoor and outdoor dual meet with Ames had been arranged, but the burning of the Iowa State college armory at Christmas time made a change necessary. Another dual meet early in April is under consideration. This meet will involve a long trip either in the south or on the western coast, according to Coach Henry F. Schulte. The schedule follows.

Indoor Slate.

Feb. 16 or 17—K. C. A. C. at Kansas City.
March 3—Illinois relays at Urbana.
March 24—Missouri Valley indoor at Kansas City.

Outdoor Slate.

April 20-21—Kansas relays at Lawrence.
April 27-28—Drake relays at Des Moines.
May 5—Kansas university dual at Lincoln.
May 19—Kansas Aggies dual at Manhattan.
May 25-26—Missouri Valley championship at Ames.
June 8-9—National intercollegiate at Chicago.

CHICAGO BOWLER POUNDS TEN PINS

Blouin Takes Long Lead In Special Match With New Yorker.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Jimmy Blouin of Chicago, world's bowling champion, cut loose with a terrific bombardment of the maples in the second block of his forty-game match with Joe Falcaro of New York, the assault netting 2,462 total and 240 2-10 average for the ten games.

Blouin, who staged one of the most sensational exhibitions ever given in championship bowling, now has a total of 4,510 pins to Falcaro's 4,067. Falcaro knocked over 1,970 pins in Tuesday's games for an average of 197. Blouin, who had gained a margin of but eleven pins in the opening block of games, won nine of ten yesterday. The third block will be played Wednesday and the final ten games Thursday.

High School Basket Dope

Nebraska City high won a game from the School for Deaf quintet, 16 to 8. The game was formerly reported as won by the Deaf five.

Norfolk high plans to get back on the basketball map this year. Athletic conditions were disorganized at Norfolk last year and no team was entered in the state tourney. A good-sized squad is in suit this year and a schedule arranged.

Coach Ed Furman of Nelson has resigned because of failing health. Randolph Gingrich has been elected to take his place. Furman put out a strong football team at Nelson last fall and prospects are good for a winning quintet.

Beatrice Quint "Dark Horse" In Cage Competition

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 10.—The Beatrice high school basketball team is of unknown caliber this year. The class tournament this season showed the youngsters improving and in a year or two with a modern gym, Beatrice should step with the best of them.

Saturday evening Beatrice defeated the alumni team 36 to 24. The alumni scored but eleven points until the second-stringers of the high school were sent in. The score at the end of the first half was 19 to 5 in favor of the high quintet.

Several members of the first squad will not be eligible until the second semester. The first string includes Captain Roland, Arpke, Beckwith, Layton, Wright, Pierce, Shada, Mathews, Lehrung, Worley, Dresp, Kyle, Yoder and Johannes.

Kearney Normal Selects Captains

KEARNEY, Neb., Jan. 10.—Lester Dillon has been elected captain of the 1923 basketball team at Kearney Normal. He is a guard and two-year letter man.

Rex Reed, tackle, has been elected captain of the 1923 football team at Kearney Normal.

Cotner Captain Is Ineligible

George Raver, captain of the Cotner college basketball team, has been declared ineligible for competition in state college conference sport until the second semester.

Raver did not complete twelve hours' work in the second semester of last year and, according to state conference rules, is not eligible for conference sport.

BIG JESS BARRED BY CZAR MULDOON

Willard Past the Age Limit, Declares State Boxing Commissioner.

JESS CONFERS WITH RICKARD. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Jess Willard, here seeking a return bout with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship, expects to have conferences today with Promoters Tex Rickard and Tom O'Rourke.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Whether Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion came all the way to New York from California to find he had no place to go, may be determined today.

Things began gravitating that way yesterday and with sufficient momentum to bowl Jess back to his farm and obscurity.

Jess didn't have anything to do with yesterday's gyrations and orientations. He spent the day being photographed. The big push was in command of William Muldoon, chairman of the state boxing commission, who announced the ex-champion hasn't any more chance of fighting Jack Dempsey in this state than a Russian has of eating turkey three times a day.

Though Willard may say he is only 34 years old, Muldoon will have none of it.

"His talk of returning to the ring to fight Dempsey or anybody else is ridiculous," Muldoon said. "His talk about his age doesn't deceive me at all. The question of his age was investigated some time ago and there is not the slightest doubt that he is past 40 years old."

Barred By the Age Limit.

The laws of the commission prohibit a man over 38 boxing in the state.

Nevertheless Jess and his manager, Ray Archer are to have a talk with Tex Rickard, the promoter, and Frank Flournoy, his matchmaker, at Madison Square Garden this afternoon. It may be they'll speak about holding a Willard-Dempsey fight outside New York state and the territory ruled by commissions which have working agreements with it.

The metropolis so far hasn't taken very seriously the statement attributed to Willard in an interview yesterday in which he was quoted as saying he has important revelations to make about the exhibition at Toledo in July, 1919, when Dempsey knocked the heavyweight crown off Jess' brow. Jess threatened to tell what he says he knows after his next fight with Dempsey.

Confers With Promoters.

After conversing with Rickard, Willard and Archer may see Tom O'Rourke, promoter for the club operating bouts at the Polo Grounds, who was peeved yesterday because the westerners would not see him before Rickard returned from the middlewest. O'Rourke desires to put on a Willard-Dempsey scrap on July 4.

Digging into the files, one paper today published a dispatch from Chicago, dated April 9, 1918, wherein Willard was quoted as declaring, in explaining why he wasn't in the army, "I am close to 40 years of age and have a wife and five children. I'm far beyond the draft age. It's a matter of law, not choice. When the president sees fit to call men of my age, I'll be only too glad to respond."

Dempsey in Light Training.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, has begun light training at one of the boxing clubs here. Each day he works out with four or five Los Angeles boxers, besides punching the bag, skipping the rope and shadow boxing.

Thirteen Grid Warriors Gain Pawnee Awards

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—Thirteen of the 1922 high school football warriors here were presented with letters at a special convocation Friday morning. Talks were given by Superintendent Thomann, Coach "Bob" Foley and Captain Stanek.

Earnest Stanek is now wearing a football sweater with four service stripes and two stars, denoting four years of membership in the football team with two years as captain. The team presented Coach Foley with an engraved medallion.

Letters were awarded Earnest Stanek, Leslie Leonard, Raymond Snyder, Harlan Sims, Lawrence Parll, Wilford Graves, John Beyer, Claude Hinecke, Raymond Richards, Roland Edie, Roland Stone, Roy Peebe and Hobart Huston.

Faculty Banquets Humboldt Eleven

HUMBOLDT, Neb., Jan. 10.—The faculty of Humboldt high school gave a banquet Tuesday evening in honor of the football team. It was served by the class in domestic science under the direction of Miss Katherine Koehler. Members of the board of education were among the invited guests. Toasts were responded to by Otto Kotouc, Miss McCaleb and Professor Kruger.

MINORS SWING BIG STICK AT MAJORS

Coast Leaguers Take the Lead In Threat to Precipitate Baseball War.

Majors Bluntly Accused Of Violating Agreement to Forbid the Draft.

BY ELLIS H. MARTIN.

(International News Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The Pacific Coast league will not accept the draft in any form.

William H. McCarthy, fighting president of the Coast baseball organization made that plain today. And he believes that some of the major league owners should learn that a contract is a contract, even in professional baseball, and cannot be considered a scrap of paper.

McCarthy was awaiting today a reply from Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, to a telegram sent by the Pacific Coast league head in which he asked whether the head of organized baseball believed the major league owners had violated in "letter and spirit" the terms of the major-minor agreement by adoption of two measures affecting the draft.

Confidence In Landis.

"I have entire and implicit confidence in Commissioner Landis," McCarthy said, "and know that his statement to the minor league convention at Louisville, that the major-minor agreement would be lived up to the letter as long as he was at the head of organized baseball, was not idle chatter.

"It is interesting to contrast the attitude of the major and minor leagues on this agreement. Two class A leagues came before the national board of arbitration and stated they were tired of the draft and had voted not to continue under its provisions. They were told decisively that the agreement could not be broken except by concurrent vote of the majors and that they must continue under the draft. Less than a week later the majors in joint meeting in New York are reported to have agreed to raise the optional number of players and to institute a semi or partial draft against such leagues as had legally refused to accept the draft."

McCarthy Cites the Rules.

McCarthy referred to article 2, section 13, major-minor league rules for covering optional players, article five of the major-minor league agreement for section covering draft and article three of the same agreement relative to amendments. Article 2 provides that each major may have only eight players under option.

"Now eight means eight," said McCarthy, "and yet today comes information that last year the New York Yankees had thirteen players out on optional agreements, Detroit ten, Chicago White Sox ten and St. Louis Browns ten.

"Any person capable of reading English can understand that this contract or agreement cannot be amended except by concurrent consent of both parties thereto. There has been no such concurrent consent and so far as this league is concerned, if my judgment is followed, there will be none. I assume no authority to speak for the other non-draft leagues but I know how Mr. Toole of the International, Mr. Hickey of the American association, and Mr. Tearney of the Western league feel on this subject. They will no doubt express themselves at the proper time.

Coast League Stands Pat.

"My recommendation to the Pacific Coast league directors will be to refuse to accept any players from the major leagues with this draft feature or rule attached to the transfer of their contracts.

"I hope the other minor leagues will do the same if these reported agreements by the major leagues are true.

"And I believe the National association should take a very decisive stand because if it is possible for the major leagues to disregard their contract whenever convenient, then, obviously, it is a one-party contract, with good faith, the fundamental of all contracts, only on one side. That cannot be.

"The draft is hum-bug, pure and simple. Many minor leagues, especially in class A, appreciate that the sugar-coating of this prehistoric and obsolete procedure is not very thick and the pill is growing bitter.

Denounces Draft Provision.

"It is the old ancient subterfuge of trying to get something for nothing. More players advance without the draft than with it, and under decidedly better conditions. So if the majors do not respect their contract, it cannot be expected that the minors will continue to let the law of 'divine right' in baseball prevail. It will surely mean a break and the majors, despite their reputed strength, have much more to fear from this than the minors.

"For the Pacific Coast league, let me repeat, we will not accept the draft in any shape or form. We are able to stand on our feet, and alone if necessary, and are perfectly capable of developing our own young players. As a matter of fact, I would much rather see this and it will be done if the majors attempt to attach any such strings to players coming here, as is threatened."

Landis Upholds Majors.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A specific ruling demanded by the Pacific Coast league on the new major league rule increasing the optional player limit to fifteen, was given out today by Baseball Commissioner Landis, affirming the right of the major leagues to take such action.

A special meeting of the minor leagues to take united action against the major leagues' plan to retain draft powers on players they have farmed out, is advocated in an announcement today by President A. R. Tearney of the Western league, one of the five anti-draft circuits.

President McCarthy's protest yesterday to Commissioner Landis asked official verification of the step adopted by the major leagues in their recent meeting. Landis replied that the majors had voted to retain draft [illegible] on all their players sent to the minors, after receiving a resolution of protest from Secretary Farrell of the national association.

SCHAEFER FAR IN FRONT OF CONTI

Young Jake Leads Frenchman By Margin of 350 At End of Second Block.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—Jake Schaefer of California, former title holder, seemed virtually assured of another chance at Willie Hoppe's 18.2 balkline billards championship today by virtue of the 350-point lead he held over Roger Conti, French champion, after the second 500-point block last night of their 1,500-point three-night match.

Hoppe under the championship rules, will meet the winner of the Schaefer-Conti contest.

Schaefer held a 163 point lead when last night's play started and, despite a display of mediocre billiards, increased it by 187 points, taking the block 500 to 313, giving him 1000 to Conti's 650 for the two blocks.

The former champion seemed to outclass Conti. Some of the experts said the Frenchman was handicapped by his apparent inability to foresake 18.1 billiards for 18.2. He failed constantly to take advantage of the second shot allowed in balk.

Schaefer's high run last night, the highest of the two nights play, was an unfinished 160 with which he concluded the second 500 points. Conti's best run at the table last night netted a 93. He garnered a 115 on the opening night.

The score by innings:

Schaefer—15, 3, 96, 60, 0, 0, 2, 43, 4, 45, 66, 6, 160—500. Total for two nights 1,000. High run last night, 160. Average last night, 38 6-13. Grand average 37 1-27.

Conti—93, 6, 0, 16, 0, 0, 1, 2, 27, 57, 62, 19—313. Total for two nights 650. High run last night, 93. Average last night, 26 1-12. Grand average, 25.

REFORMERS SOUR ON SUNDAY BALL

Leaders Planning to Request That Legislators Repeal New York Law.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The New York Sunday baseball law, the inception of which produced financial rewards never before realized by major league investments, is soon to be the object of the first serious assault since it was enacted in 1918. The bill, so the reform element will inform you, was passed during the reconstruction period when war hysteria still gripped the country.

It is to be wiped off the books now, say the reformers, by the reaction of clear thinking.

It was with this object in mind that the New York Yanks opposed the listing of conflicting Sunday dates with the New York Giants. They may be no less commercially inclined than the Giants. If, as the latter say, they can figure to pick up a round $100,000 for five extra Sunday games, the Yanks could do as well if not better.

Huston and Ruppert, however, seem to think that it will be worth $100,000 to them not to leave the reform element a loophole at this time, due within a matter of months, with the churchmen and promoters of amusement enterprises exercising an ever growing influence in the legislature at Albany and an untoward incident in connection with Sunday baseball might easily swing the verdict toward a repeal.

Big Leaguers Drop Quarrel.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The war between the National and American leagues over the squabble brought on by the two New York clubs over the scheduling of conflicting Sunday games here this summer, has ended without the firing of a shot and peace will be signed at the Chicago meeting of league presidents next month, Ban Johnson, president of the American league, announced last night.

Lincoln High vs. Uni. Place

Lincoln high and University Place high school basketball teams will meet at University Place Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Inability to secure a playing floor resulted in the postponing of the Omaha Central-Lincoln game, carded for this week-end. Lincoln will play at Valparaiso Friday night, while the young Methodists will perform on the Fremont court the same evening.

City Leaguers Clash Tonight

City league teams will stage tonight's basketball card at the Lincoln "Y." The schedule of games follows:

8 p. m.—"Y" Dormitories vs. Farquhar Clothiers.
8:30 p. m.—Simon Simon vs. Lincoln Sports.
9 p. m.—Mussons vs. Pillers.

Cornhusker Center Ruled Out By Valley Conference Decree

PETERSON ROLED OUT OF FOOTALL

Decree By Valley Conference Bars Nebraska Center From Grid Game.

Eligibility Committee Holds Peterson Not Available For 1923 Season.

Carl Peterson of Omaha, junior at the University of Nebraska, center on the Cornhusker football eleven the past two seasons and Walter Camp's selection for center on his third All-America, has had his last year in intercollegiate football in Missouri Valley conference circles. Peterson has been declared ineligible for 1923 football, according to a decree handed down by Dean S. W. Beyer of Iowa State college at Ames, chairman of the conference eligibility committee.

Announcement was made in The Star several weeks ago that the Peterson case had been put up to the conference committee for a formal decision. An investigation conducted by Professor R. D. Scott, Nebraska's faculty delegate to the conference, disclosed that Peterson, prior to matriculating as a freshman at Nebraska, had been an academy student at Bethany college, Lindsborgh, Kas. Although a "prep" student, he had played the seasons of 1917 and 1919 on the Bethany college team. This information was offered voluntarily by Peterson, who, although anxious to have another season of football, gave the facts without evasion to the Nebraska faculty man.

Report Filed With Beyer.

Professor Scott's report, based on Peterson's statement, was forwarded to Chairman Beyer, who has officially advised the Nebraska authorities that the committee members voted unanimously that Peterson, under conference rules, is ineligible for football next fall.

The conference rule, according to explanation by Professor Scott, provides that one year of "prep" or freshman football at a secondary institution, such as Bethany college, shall not count against a conference athlete's record. A second football year, however, is equivalent to one year of conference participation. For that reason, Chairman Beyer stated, Peterson has had the full participation permitted by conference statutes.

Knocks Hole In the Line.

Loss of the Cornhuskers' fighting center knocks another hole in Nebraska's forward wall. It means that five of Coach Fred Dawson's 1922 regulars will be missing when the head coach calls the roll next September. Berquist and Bassett, guards, will be the only first-stringers available for gridiron service, putting it up to Dawson and "Indian" Schulte, head line coach, to develop regulars and subs for five positions in the Nebraska line—two ends two tackles and a center.

Coaches at rival institutions in the Valley conference, weary of Nebraska's persistent habit of winning the conference championship, presumably will indulge in considerable chortling over the announcement that the Cornhuskers will lose another line regular, and the Cornhusker situation, with Peterson stricken from the varsity roster, truly involves a big question mark. With five first-stringers gone from the line and Hartley, Preston and Russell missing from the backfield, it must be conceded that the coaching staff at Nebraska will be accomplishing wonders if the Cornhuskers are to continue in possession of their position of football dominance in the Valley circle.

Brainard High Starts Cage Race With Three Wins

(Special to The Star.)

BRAINARD, Neb., Jan. 10—Brainard high school has started the cage season with a trio of victories. Beaver Crossing was defeated, 25 to 19; Gresham took the short end of a 18 to 9 score and Goehner was swamped, 50 to 8.

Brainard easily captured the class H cup last year. Three regulars are lost to he team. Captain Vondra, who had a record of 51 field goals in a game against Raymond high last season, Albin Kriz, center, and Rury Janak, guard, are the veterans lost to the team.

Coach Lester L. Wheatley, however, is optimistic regarding the outlook for the coming season. The quintet includes: Stanley Vondra, center, Albin Cabela and James Knajdl, forwards; and Captain Otto Holesovsky and Edward Reck, guards. The squad also includes Elmer Duncan, Lad Horacek, Adolph Kriz and Alfred Kremlacek.

Brainard high has two Friday night open dates and Coach Wheatley is anxious to schedule games with some good teams. The slate as now arranged follows:

Jan. 12—Dwight at Brainard.
Jan. 19—North Bend at Brainard.
Jan. 26—Beaver Crossing at Beaver Crossing.
Feb. 2—Brainard at Goehner.
Feb. 3—Osceola at Brainard.
Feb. 9—Open.
Feb. 16—Brainard at Osceola.
Feb. 23—Open.
March 2—North Bend at North Bend.
March 8, 9, 10—State tournament at Lincoln.

TRACK PROGRAM FOR NEBRASKA

Coach Schulte Busy Planning Schedule For Husker Cinder Tracksters.

The track schedule arranged for University of Nebraska athletes will include at least one dual meet at Lincoln. Arrangement for home meets have been hampered this year because of the lack of facilities with which to handle home compets.

Construction of the new stadium will probably compel the Husker sprinters to transfer their activities to the Lincoln high track. The Kansas Jayhawks will meet Nebraska in a dual meet here May 5, according to present arrangements.

An indoor and outdoor dual meet with Ames had been arranged, but the burning of the Iowa State college armory at Christmas time made a change necessary. Another dual meet early in April is under consideration. This meet will involve a long trip either in the south or on the western coast, according to Coach Henry F. Schulte. The schedule follows:

Indoor Slate.

Feb. 16 or 17—K. C. A. C. at Kansas City.
March 3—Illinois relays at Urbana.
March 24—Missouri Valley indoor at Kansas City.

Outdoor Slate.

April 20-21—Kansas relays at Lawrence.
April 27-28—Drake relays at Des Moines.
May 5—Kansas university dual at Lincoln.
May 19—Kansas Aggies dual at Manhattan.
May 25-26—Missouri Valley championship at Ames.
June 8-9—National intercollegiate at Chicago.

CHICAGO BOWLER POUNDS TEN PINS

Blouin Takes Long Lead In Special Match With New Yorker.

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Jimmy Blouin of Chicago, world's bowling champion, cut loose with a terrific bombardment of the maples in the second block of his forty-game match with Joe Falcaro of New York, the assault netting 2,402 total and 240 2-10 average for the ten games.

Blouin, who staged one of the most sensational exhibitions ever given in championship bowling, now has a total of 4,510 pins to Falcaro's 4,067. Falcaro knocked over 1,970 pins in Tuesday's games for an average of 197. Blouin, who had gained a margin of but eleven pins in the opening block of games won nine of ten yesterday. The third block will be played Wednesday and the final ten games Thursday.

High School Basket Dope

Nebraska City high won a game from the School for Deaf quintet, 16 to 8. The game was formerly reported as won by the Deaf five.

Norfolk high plans to get back on the basketball map this year. Athletic conditions were disorganized at Norfolk last year and no team was entered in the state tourney. A good-sized squad is in suit this year and a schedule arranged.

Coach Ed Furman of Nelson has resigned because of failing health. Randolph Gingrich has been elected to take his place. Furman put out a strong football team at Nelson last fall and prospects are good for a winning quintet.

Beatrice Quint "Dark Horse" In Cage Competition

BEATRICE, Neb. Jan. 10.—The Beatrice high school basketball team is of unknown caliber this year. The class tournament this season showed the youngsters improving and in a year or two with a modern gym, Beatrice should step with the best of them.

Saturday evening Beatrice defeated the alumni team, 36 to 24. The alumni scored but eleven points until the second-stringers of the high school were sent in. The score at the end of the first half was 19 to 5 in favor of the high quintet.

Several members of the first squad will not be eligible until the second semester. The first string includes Captain Roland, Arpke, Beckwith, Layton, Wright, Pierce, Shaila, Mathews, Lehrung, Worley, Dresp, Kyle, Yoder and Johannes.

Kearney Normal Selects Captains

KEARNEY, Neb., Jan. 10.—Lester Diller has been elected captain of the 1923 basketball team at Kearney Normal. He is a guard and two-year letter man.

Rex Reed, tackle, has been elected captain of the 1923 football team at Kearney Normal.

Cotner Captain Is Ineligible

George Raver, captain of the Cotner college basketball team, has been declared ineligible for competition in state college conference sport until the second semester.

Raver did not complete twelve hours' work in the second semester of last year and, according to state conference rules, is not eligible for conference sport.

BIG JESS BARRED BY CZAR MULDOON

Willard Past the Age Limit, Declares State Boxing Commissioner.

JESS CONFERS WITH RICKARD. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Jess Willard, here seeking a return bout with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship, expects to have conferences today with Promotors Tex Rickard and Tom O'Rourke.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Whether Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, came all the way to New York from California to find he had no place to go, may be determined today.

Things began gravitating that way yesterday and with sufficient momentum to bowl Jess back to his farm and obscurity.

Jess didn't have anything to do with yesterday's gyrations and orientations. He spent the day being photographed. The big push was in command of William Muldoon, chairman of the state boxing commission, who announced the ex-champion hasn't any more chance of fighting Jack Dempsey in this state than a Russian has of eating turkey three times a day.

Though Williard may say he is only 36 years old, Muldoon will have none of it.

"His talk of returning to the ring to fight Dempsey or anybody else is ridiculous," Muldoon said. "His talk about his age doesn't deceive me at all. The question of his age was investigated some time ago, and there is not the slightest doubt that he is past 40 years old."

Barred By the Age Limit.

The laws of the commission prohibit a man over 38 boxing in the state.

Nevertheless Jess and his manager, Ray Archer, are to have a talk with Tex Rickard, the promoter, and Frank Flourney, his matchmaker, at Madison Square Garden this afternoon. It may be they'll speak about holding a Willard-Dempsey fight outside New York state and the territory ruled by commissions which have working agreements with it.

The metropolis so far hasn't taken very seriously the statement attributed to Willard in an interview yesterday in which he was quoted as saying he has important revelations to make about the exhibition at Toledo, in July, 1919, when Dempsey knocked the heavyweight crown off Jess' brow. Jess threatened to tell what he says he knows after his next fight with Dempsey.

Confers With Promoters.

After conversing with Rickard, Willard and Archer may see Tom O'Rourke, promoter for the club operating bouts at the Polo Grounds, who was peeved yesterday because the westerners would not see him before Reckard returned from the middlewest. O'Rourke desires to put on a Willard-Dempsey scrap on July 4.

Digging into the files, one paper today published a dispatch from Chicago, dated April 9, 1918, when Willard was quoted as declaring, in explaining why he wasn't in the army, "I am close to 40 years of age and have a wife and five children. I'm far beyond the draft age. It's a matter of law, not choice. When the president sees fit to call men of my age, I'll be only too glad to respond."

Dempsey in Light Training.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, has begun light training at one of the boxing clubs here. Each day he works out with four or five Los Angeles boxers, besides punching the bag, skipping the rope and shadow boxing.

Thirteen Grid Warriors Gain Pawnee Awards

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Jan. 10.—Thirteen of the 1922 high school football warriors here were presented with letters at a special convocation Friday morning. Talks were given by Superintendent Thomann, Coach "Bob" Foley and Captain Stanek.

Earnest Stanek is now wearing a football sweater with four service stripes and two stars, denoting four years of membership in the football team with two years as captain. The team presented Coach Foley with an engraved medallion.

Letters were awarded Earnest Stanek, Leslie Leonard, Raymond Snyder, Harlan Sims, Lawrence Parli, Wilford Graves, John Boyer, Claude Huycke, Raymond Richards, Roland Edie, Roland Stone, Roy Peebe and Hobart Huston.

MINORS SWING BIG STICK AT MAJORS

Coast Leaguers Take the Lead In Threat to Precipitate Baseball War.

Majors Bluntly Accused Of Violating Agreement to Forbid the Draft.

BY ELLIS H. MARTIN.

(International News Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The Pacific Coast league will not accept the draft in any form.

William H. McCarthy, fighting president of the Coast baseball organization, made that plain today. And he believes that some of the major league owners should learn that a contract is a contract, even in professional baseball, and cannot be considered a scrap of paper.

McCarthy was awaiting today a reply from Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, to a telegram sent by the Pacific Coast league head in which he asked whether the head of organized baseball believed the major league owners had violated in "letter and spirit" the terms of the major-minor agreement by adoption of two measures affecting the draft.

Confidence In Landis.

"I have entire and implicit confidence in Commissioner Landis," McCarthy said "and know that his statement to the minor league convention at Louisville, that the major-minor agreement would be lived up to the letter as long as he was at the head of organized baseball, was not idle chatter.

"It is interesting to contrast the attitude of the major and minor leagues on this agreement. Two class A leagues came before the national board of arbitration and stated they were tired of the draft and had voted not to continue under its provisions. They were told decisively that the agreement could not be broken except by concurrent vote of the majors and that they must continue under the draft. Less than a week later the majors in joint meeting in New York are reported to have agreed to raise the optional number of players and to institute a semi or partial draft against such leagues as had legally refused to accept the draft."

McCarthy Cites the Rules.

McCarthy referred to article 2, section 13, major-minor league rules for covering optional players, article five of the major-minor league agreement for section covering draft and article three of the same agreement relative to amendments. Article 2 provides that each major may have only eight players under option.

"Now eight means eight," said McCarthy, "and yet today comes information that last year the New York Yankee had thirteen players cut on optional agreements, Detroit ten, Chicago White Sox ten and St. Louis Browns ten.

"Any person capable of reading English can understand that this contract or agreement cannot be amended except by concurrent consent of both parties thereto. There has been no such concurrent consent and so far as this league is concerned, if my judgment is followed, there will be none. I assume no authority to speak for the other non-draft leagues, but I know how Mr. Toole of the International, Mr. Hickey of the American association, and Mr. Tearney of the Western league feel on this subject. They will no doubt express themselves at the proper time.

Coast League Stands Pat.

"My recommendation to the Pacific Coast league directors will be to refuse to accept any players from the major leagues with this draft feature or rule attached to the transfer of their contracts.

"I hope the other minor leagues will do the same if these reported agreements by the major leagues are true.

"And I believe the National association should take a very decisive stand because if it is possible for the major leagues to disregard their contract whenever convenient, then, obviously, it is a one-party contract, with good faith, the fundamental of all contracts, only on one side. That cannot be.

"The draft is hum-bug, pure and simple. Many minor leagues, especially in class A, appreciate that the sugar-coating of this prehistoric and obsolete procedure is not very thick and the pill is growing bitter.

Denounces Draft Provision.

"It is the old ancient subterfuge of trying to get something for nothing. More players advance without the draft than with it, and under decidedly better conditions. So if the majors do not respect their contract, it cannot be expected that the minors will continue to let the law of 'divine right' in baseball prevail. It will surely mean a break and the majors, despite their reputed strength, have much more to fear from this than the minors.

"For the Pacific Coast league, let me repeat, we will not accept the draft in any shape or form. We are able to stand on our feet, and alone if necessary, and are perfectly capable of developing our own young players. As a matter of fact, I would much rather see this and it will be done if the majors attempt to attach any such strings to players coming here, as is threatened."

Landis Upholds Majors.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A specific ruling demanded by the Pacific Coast league on the new major league rule increasing the optional player limit to fifteen, was given out today by Baseball Commissioner Landis, affirming the right of the major leagues to take such action.

A special meeting of the minor leagues to take united action against the major leagues' plan to retain draft powers on players they have farmed out, is advocated in an announcement today by President A. R. Tearney of the Western league, one of the five anti-draft circuits.

President McCarthy's protest yesterday to Commissioner Landis asked official verification of the step adopted by the major leagues in their December meeting. Landis replied that the majors had voted to retain draft privileges on all their players sent to the minors, after receiving a resolution of protest from Secretary Farrell of the national association.

Young Jake Leads Frenchman By Margin of 350 At End of Second Block.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Jake Schaefer of California, former title holder, seemed virtually assured of another chance at Willie Hoppe's 18.2 balk line billiards championship today by virtue of the 350-point lead he held over Roger Conti, French champion, after the second 500-point block last night of their 1,500-point three-night match.

Hoppe under the championship rules, will meet the winner of the Schaefer-Conti contest.

Schaefer held a 163 point lead when last night's play started and, despite a display of mediocre billiards, increased it by 187 points, taking the block 500 to 313, giving him 1,000 to Conti's 650 for the two blocks.

The former champion seemed to outclass Conti. Some of the experts said the Frenchman was handicapped by his apparent inability to foresake 18.1 billiards for 18.2. He failed constantly to take advantage of the second shot allowed in balk.

Schaefer's high run last night, the highest of the two nights play, was an unfinished 160 with which he concluded the second 500 points. Conti's best run at the table last night netted a 93. He garnered a 115 on the opening night.

The score by innings:

Schaefer — 15, 3, 96, 60, 0, 0, 2, 43, 4, 45, 66, 6, 160—500. Total for two nights, 1,000. High run last night, 160. Average last night, 38 6-13. Grand average, 37 1-27.

Conti—93, 6, 0, 16, 0, 0, 1; 2, 27, 57, 62, 19—313. Total for two nights 650. High run last night, 93. Average last night, 26 1-12. Grand average, 25.

REFORMERS SOUR ON SUNDAY BALL

Leaders Planning to Request That Legislators Repeal New York Law.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The New York Sunday baseball law, the inception of which produced financial rewards never before realized by major league investments, is soon to be the object of the first serious assault since it was enacted in 1918. The bill, so the reform element will inform you, was passed during the reconstruction period when war hysteria still gripped the country.

It is to be wiped off the books now, say the reformers, by the reaction of clear thinking.

It was with this object in mind that the New York Yanks opposed the listing of conflicting Sunday dates with the New York Giants. They may be no less commercially inclined than the Giants. If, as the latter say, they can figure to pick up a round $100,000 for five extra Sunday games, the Yanks could do as well if not better.

Huston and Ruppert, however, seem to think that it will be worth $100,000 to them not to leave the reform element a loophole at this be due within a matter of months, with the churchmen and promoters of amusement enterprises exercising an ever growing influence in the legislature at Albany and an untoward incident in connection with Sunday baseball might easily swing the verdict toward a repeal.

Big Leaguers Drop Quarrel.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The war between the National and American leagues over the squabble brought on by the two New York clubs over the scheduling of conflicting Sunday games here this summer, has ended without the firing of a shot and peace will be signed at the Chicago meeting of league presidents next month. Ban Johnson, president of the American league, announced last night.

Lincoln High vs. Uni. Place

Lincoln high and University Place high school basketball teams will meet at University Place Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Inability to secure a playing floor resulted in the postponing of the Omaha Central-Lincoln game, carded for this week-end. Lincoln will play at Valparaiso Friday night, while the young Methodists will perform on the Fremont court the same evening.

City Leaguers Clash Tonight

City league teams will stage tonight's basketball card at the Lincoln "Y." The schedule of games follows:

8 p. m.—"Y" Dormitories vs. Farquhar Clothiers.
8:30 p. m.—Speier Simon vs. Lincoln Sports.
9 p. m.—Munsons vs. Pillers.

SOLONS ARGUE ON DOLLAR MATCHING

State Senators Debate Tendency to Centralize Power at Washington.

Bank Probe Resolution Not Acted Upon—Six New Bills Introduced.

The senate Wednesday morning engaged in an hours debate on the Anderson resolution against "dollar matching" by the federal government, referred it bacy to the taxation and revenue committee for further consideration, sent the Larkin state bank probe resolution to the banking committee, introduced six bills and adjourned until 10 o'clock Thursday.

Senator Anderson's first resolution, memorilizing congress to pass legislation to enable states to place national and state banks on a par in regard to taxation, was adopted. He then brought up his resolution condemning the system of federal appropriations to be matched by the states, and the debate was on, several of the upper house members seizing the opportunity to make their maiden speeches.

Banning of Cass led off in opposition, arguing that the state would undoubtedly accept the federal provisions, and that it would injure agricultural interests to do anything at present to hinder the work. Good of Dawes, chairman of the highway committee, also opposed the resolution, as did Robbins of Douglas. It was stated that Nebraska receives $8 for every dollar the system costs. Wiltse tried to choke the debate by saying it is undoubtedly true that the state gets much more than it pays out, but that the federal program is outlined for four years, and any memorilizing should be directed at the next congress.

The increasing tendency to centralize power in the national government, and invade state rights, as exemplified by "dollar matching" is the main argument used by the resolution's defenders, including Senators Osborne, Anderson, Reifenrath, Behrens and Tomek.

"These appropriations are a sort of bribe," asserted Senator Tomek. "The theory is incompatible with the principle of democracy."

None of the speakers evinced any disposition to refuse to take advantage of the federal offer as applied to roads, tuberculosis eradication, high schools and other activities, and on Senator Smrha's announcement that he wished to offer amendments it was returned to committee.

For Federal Built Road.

The Smrha amendments will, it is understood, confine the criticism in the resolution to further legislation at Washington along "dollar matching" lines, and will call for a federal built and maintained road, the state to care for trbutary highways, and will probably not touch on the question of federal funds used for other purposes in the state.

Among the senate bills introduced Wednesday is one by Perry Reed aimed at "third degree" methods, one looking to extending state senatorial terms to four years, and one cutting travel expenses and other fees of county sheriffs. A digest of the bills follows:

S. F. No. 18, by Wiltse—Reducing from fifteen cents to ten cents a mile the fee allowed sheriffs for traveling expenses.

S. F. 19, by Banning—providing that where an automobile or other personal property confiscated in prohibition law raids shall be sold at public sale, the costs of the sale shall be first deducted before the proceeds are turned into the school fund.

S. F. 20, by Reed—Prohibiting police officers from using omre force than is necessary in making arrests, prohibiting the photographing the third degree and all questioning beyound the necessary for identification except before a judge or magistrate.

S. F. 21, by Osborne—providing for forthwith giving of a bond in double the value of the property when it is taken by an officer in attachment in order to retain possession by owner.

S. F. 21 by Osborne—Reducing from 15 per cent to 10 per cent the interest owner or occupant of land must pay i norder to redeem it from tax sale.

S. 5. 23, by Rickard—Submitting a for a four year term for shrd etaoi constitutional amendment elimnating for a four year term for state senators.

S. F. 24 by Rickard—Submitting a constitutional amendment elminating from present constitution the $200 household goods exemption.

Fatty to Commence Work On a New Picture at Once

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10—Roscoe C. ("Fatty") Arbuckle, recently "pardoned" by Will H. Hays, head of the motion picture industry, was expected today to start on his "come-back."

With Molly Malone as his leading woman and backed by a group of San Francisco financiers, headed by Gavin McNab, the San Francisco attorney who defended him in his three trials for manslaughter, growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, actress, the fat comedian planned to begin a two-reeler to cost $75,000 and to be finished in six weeks.

BOSTON, Jan. 10—Expressing the belief that Eamon De Valera is in this country, local members of the American association for the recognition of the Irish republic announced today that he would be invited to attend the state convention on January 28.

Congressional Squibs

The senate banking committee, by a 5 to 3 vote, reported the Lenroot-Anderson government aid rural credit bill.

Senator Capper, republican, Kansas endorsed proposals for American aid toward settlement of European economic problems.

The senate and house reached an agreement on all provisions of the naval appropriation bill and the measure was sent to the president.

The house judiciary committee reported that the Keller impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty had not been susbstantiated in any particular.

Opposition to consideration at this session of revenue bills, except emergency measures was expressed in a resolution adopted by the house ways and means committee.

Arrangements of satisfactory terms for settlement of Great Britain's war debt to the United States was declared at the white house to be impossible under the present restrictions of the debt funding law.

Senator Bursum, republican, New Mexico, announced he would reintroduce in modified form his bill providing pensions for Mexican and civil war veterans and their widows which recently was vetoed by President Harding.

J. C. Doneil president of the Ohio Oil company testifying at the senate oil investigation, declared the action o fSecretary Fall in granting leases in the Teapot Dome field in Wyoming to the Sinclair interests was antagonistic to a proper conservation policy.

State department formally stated in reply to published denials from Paris, that Secretary Hughes had taken up with Ambassodar Jusserand his plan for a reparations settlement and that the latter had presented to him Premier Poincare's observations on the suggestion.

Representative Upshaw of Georgia in a speech in the house, said he would give the authorities all evidence placed in his hands of drinking by government officials but would not make public the names of senators and representatives who "lift the devlish bottle to their lips."

FIVE KIDDIES AT MERCY OF WORLD

Go to Home For Friendless Unless Parents Saved From Jail.

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Five kiddies, the oldest 11 years old, will be taken to the Home of the Friendless unless Chicago's latest and strangest "triangle" is settled in a way that will keep both papa and mama out of jail.

They are "the Curtin babies."

John S. Curtin, wealthy retired president of the New Era Coal company, and father of the children, is in jail today. He was arrested at the instigation of the mother of the babies—Miss Kathleen Morrell.

A few days ago Miss Morrell was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Curtin's wife, who accused Miss Morrell of contributing to the delinquency of her children.

Curtin had been planning to take the kiddies away to the country when detectives prevailed upon Miss Morrell to make an appointment with Curtin. She did. His arrest followed.

Now "the other woman" is sorry she betrayed the man with whom she had lived for ten years.

Curtin will be given a hearing late today.

Past Officers of Eastern Star Hold A 23-Skiddoo Party

Electa Constellation of past officers of Electa chapter of past offiheld its meeting for January at the home of Prof. aand Mrs. George R. Chatburn twenty-ninth and P streets Tuesday evening, with seventy-five present.

The Constellation meets once each month and it is the custom for the ladies to arrange the program and furnish the entertainment but the brothers and brothers-in-laws were requested to entertain at this meeting. The brothers are past officers and the brothers-in-law are the husbands of lady officers who are thus qualified by their wives to attend the meetings of the Constellation. The program was in form of a 23 party and as the guests appeared they were directed to room No. 23 to deposit their wraps.

Prof. George R. Chatburn, past grand patron and vice president of the Constellation, called the meeting to order and after the business of the association, introduced the all Stars Minstrels with J. S. Baer as interlocutor, who in burlesque form introduced the musicians. Vocal solos were given by Orville Andrews with Mrs. Orville Andrews at the piano; Prof. A. E. Bunting with Miss Irene Fleming at the piano, and Jack Matthews accompanied also by Miss Fleming. The Constellation quartette consisting of Orville Andrews, Prof. A. E. Bunting, Robert R. Gray, and Jack Matthews gave several selections, one being a parody on Old Oaken Bucket, written by Prof. Bunting with application to Electa chapter officers and members.

Following the custom at the meetings this year Prof. George R. Chatburn read a biography and the ladies were requested to decide by a written ballot whose biography was given. Past Patrons Louis M. Troup and E. W. Brown counted the votes and found a few scattering ballots for Andy Gump and other great men but declared that L. C. Oberlies, worthy patron of Electa chapter had received twenty-three and sentence in burlesque was pronounced by Past Patron David C. Hilton. He then presented Mr. Oberlies with a package on which was a big red twenty-three, which contained a big stick of candy. His attempts to respond was met with a yell of twenty-three. Mrs. W. C. VanAndel, worthy matron of Electa chapter drew the number twenty-three in ballot to determine the most popular lady and was presented with a beautiful boquet of roses by Prof. George R. Chatburn. Mrs. Alice M. Stanhope, president of the Constellation, and Mrs. George R. Chatburn, hostess were brought before the Sanhedrim on charges filed and sentenced by Past Grand Patron, D. E. Green to open mysterious packages on which were the "skiddoo" number of each of which contained a beautiful boquet of roses.

A birthday cake with the number twenty-three in burning candles caused much amusement as one lady was required to blow them out from the opposite side of the room.

All joined in singing a parody of "Long Long Trail" with application to the occasion and date with Mrs. Louise Mitchell at the piano. Each lady was given a rose.

Refreshments were served, the ice cream also bearing the "skiddoo" number as did the waiters' white aprons.

Those who served the refreshments were: D. J. Cravens, Albert S. Hall, Bert Dean, G. C. Hager, W. F. Putnam, Frank Seacrest, John M. Bennett and R. O. Hodgman.

Former Missouri Governor Dies of Serious Ailment

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 10—Lon V. Stephens, 64 years old, former governor and state treasurer of Missouri, died here this morning of heart disease. Stephens had wide business connections in banking concerns and was former editor of a newspaper at Booneville, Mo.

BIG SHOW AGAIN FILLS AUDITORIUM

House Not Large Enough to Hold Throng At Elks Circus.

The big Elks' circus again crowded the auditorium to capacity Tuesday evening and the doors had not been opened an hour before it was necessary to discontinue selling seats in the balcony. Later the doors to the building were closed, to be opened at intervals to allow more to enter after some of those inside had taken their departure. All of the merchandise and refreshment booths did a flourishing business from the opening until closing time.

Many remarks are heard each evening on the superior class of the acts presented. All of the performers are from the two biggest circuses in the country and all are headliners with the shows with which they are engaged during the summer season. Thrills alternate with laughter from the beginning to the end and there is always something to be seen or heard.

Watson's orchestra, which supplies the music is also praised by those who have been attending the performances and the floor is filled with dancers following the show. Tuesday night a large delegation of Omaha Elks was in attendance and there were also a number present from Hastings. The Beatrice delegation which was to come Tuesday evening postponed the trip until later in the week.

At the weekly dinner of the Elks Tuesday evening T. B. Dysart, member of the legislature and past exalted ruler of Omaha lodge, spoke, complimenting the local members of the order on their enterprise.

REALTORS HOLD CONVENTION HERE

Martin Urges Local Boards to Work For Good of the Community.

The Nebraska State Association of Realtors in convention here held a luncheon at the chamber of commerce Wednesday noon, which was attended by 100 members. An afternoon session was held at the Grand hotel, which will be followed by a banquet at the same place Wednesday night.

L. M. Troup, of Lincoln, presided over the meeting which followed the luncheon. Brief addresses were given by Fred Richards, president of the state association; L. C. Sholes and C. B. Stuht, retiring and present presidents of the Omaha real estate board; Secretary Hyatt, of David City, and Mark Martin, of Omaha, vice president.

Mr. Hyatt declared that eighty acres of land in Butler county which in 1919 sold for $250 an acre last week brought $350 an acre without any improvements having been added.

Vice President Martin told the members that one of the best ways to boost local boards is to forget selfish interests and do some big thing for the good of the community. The Omaha board became interested in an agitation against high taxes. Its appraisal committee has won the esteem of the lawyers and courts, said Mr. Martin.

Mr. Sholes explained the work of the Omaha board and urged the members ot the state association to boost the national organization. He also stressed the matter of creating an interest between local boards and the public.

Mr. Stuht said the association has a service to give which will bind the realtors closer to the public in a spirit of co-operation and usefulness.

WILL GO LIMIT TO FIX CRIMES ON KLUX KLANS

Louisiana Will Press In Rigid Manner Case Against "Invisible Empire."

"Woman In Case" To Testify at Hearing, It Is Said.

(Associated Press.)

BASTROP, La., Jan. 10—The state stands ready today to press in a rigid manner, its investigation into charges made by officials implicating former members of the ku klux klan in the torture and slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards, last August with the resumption of the "open hearing," today.

The testimony offered yesterday by former klansmen of Morehouse parish, which Attorney General Coco said "definitely fixed the klan's position in the present investigation of the outrages in Morehouse," is only a small part of the evidence, the stat has to offer, according to this official.

Asserting that there is a "dual nature to the invisible empir, Attorney General Coco said that "the klan is on trial and the klan will have to answer."

The Woman in Case.

(International News Service.)

COURTHOUSE, BASTROP, La., Jan. 10—"The woman in the case" appared today at the open hearing on the atrocious hooded mob killings of Morehouse parish, to testify, it is said.

The contrast of characters in this drama of shadows, masks, and murder was only heightened by her appearance. She is Miss Addie May Hamilton, 19-year old girl of the hills but destined or a spotlight role in the state's drive to punish the inhuman slayers of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards. Her story has aalready been told by International News Service.

In this death struggle between the constitutional government of Louisiana and the invisible empire of the Ku Klux Klan, the girl is charged with having precipitated the clash.

Kidnapped, Driven From Home.

Kidnapped and driven from her home a year ago, Miss Hamilton was used by the state to link the Ku Klux Klan with mob violence. Her kidnapping from her fireside by a black hooded mob with her positive identification of two men, is one of the state's best cards.

She has charged the klan with full responsibility and supported her accusation with testimony regarding a petition signed by klansmen, which permitted her to return to her home. The exile of Miss Haamilton, for an alleged afair of the heart, was the klan's first attempt at usurpation of constitutional authority, according to anti-klansmen.

The act undoubtedly started concerted moves by anti-klansmen to prevent further outrages and led finally to a retaliatory attack upon the klan official, who isnow under bail on a charge of murder.

The brutal murders of Daniel and Richards followed shortly afterwards.

MAY NAME PERRY AS ONE REFEREE

O'Connor Heirship Case to Be Tried Without Aid Of Jury.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—Judge E. B. Perry of Lincoln, formerly district judge in the fourteenth district, and Ambrose C. Epperson of Clay Center have been proposed by Judge Dilworth to act as referees in the approaching trial of the John O'Connor heirship case.

If the O'Connor claimants do not agree to the waiving of the jury and the selected referees, there can be no trial of the case until May, Judge Dilworth decrees.

The district court docket is a crowded one this term and it would be impossible to cover all the cases if five or six weeks were given over to this now famous case, which seems as far from solution now as when the mysterious recluse, John O'Connor, died without revealing any of the scenes of his past.

Advises Keeping Oil Underground In Wyoming Field

WASHINGTON Jan. 10.—J. C. Donnell, president of the Ohio Oil company, recalled today as a witness in the senate oil inquiry declared it was decidedly advantageous to keep oil in the ground in Wyoming, where Secretary of Interior Falls has granted leases in the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, on the ground that it was being drained by nearby private operations.

"The desirability of leaving oil in the ground applied more in Wyoming than in other sections," said Mr. Donnell. "It is a long way from market, and tankage costs are greater."

Paddock Preparing For Track Campaign

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Charles Paddock, world's champion sprinter, will make his first re-appearance on the running path at the Southern California amateur athletic union relays at Occidental college, February 17. He will run as a member of the University of Southern California track squad.

Schmidt Not Posted On Plans of Pirates

(Associated Press.)

MODESTO, Calif., Jan. 10.—Walter Schmidt, for the past seven years catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates today denied all knowledge of his intended sale to any other baseball team, as reported in recent press dispatches from Pittsburgh.

HOUSE CUTS OUT BUDGET REPBINT

Figures Submitted By McKelvie Are Printed Again and Distributed.

Speaker Mathers Suggests Elimination and Chief Clerk Assents.

Advisability of "a surgical operation for appendicitis" was suggested to the Nebraska house Wednesday morning by Speaker Mathers in relation to a bulky document, labelled "Appendix A, house journal," which members found lying upon their desks. The volume, containing 100 pages of printed figures, was nothing but a reprint of the budget figures submitted by Governor McKelvie a week ago, of which copies had already been furnished to all senators and representatives.

"Neither the house nor the chief clerk's office had anything to do with this unnecessary expenditure for printing," Speaker Mathers announced.

"Appendix A" is to be included in the senate journal as part of the proceedings of the joint session at which Governor McKelvie delivered his budget message. Its 100 large sized pages will be counted as 200 or 250 journal pages, at $1.96 per page. This will give the printer a nice piece of "phat," or pick-up matter for which the type was already set and previously paid for.

Chief Clerk Corrick of the house declares that he will not include "Appendix A" in the complete house journal, which will eliminate the "phat" from that book. He is the surgeon who will perform the operation suggested by Speaker Mathers.

To Enforce Smoking Rule.

The speaker called attention to the rules of the house which prohibit smoking while it is in session.

"The chair has no alternative but to enforce the rule, and it will be enforced," he said.

The legislative salary and expense bills, appropriating $417,000 and $73,000, respectively, were introduced by the finance committee and advanced to second reading under suspension of the rules. Being referred back to the committee, they will be immediately reported and rushed through as the first bills passed at this legislative session.

Listen to Old Time Solon.

Former Representative R. E. Windham of Plattsmouth, a veteran of five sessions, who began his legislative service in 1879, was introduced by Mr. Staats, a colleague of the 1919 session, and spoke for a few moments.

"I have noticed that there are fewer members here than usual returned from the preceding sessions," remarked Mr. Windham. "I understand there are only seven or eight in this legislature who were here four years ago, and not more than fifteen or twenty re-elected from the 1921 body."

He suggested that one reason why the work of legislatures is often unsatisfactory to the people is that so many of the members are new and inexperienced each session. He advocated making the term four years and having half the members hold over every two years, in order to cure this drawback.

D. McNichol's appointment as house postmaster and that of William G. Adams as chief clerk of the billroom reported by the committee on employes, have been approved by the house.

Swanson Continues To Control State Capitol Employes

At the first meeting of the new board of educational lands and funds, with Governor Bryan as chairman, action was taken giving Land Commissioner Swanson the same authority he has heretofore had to employ and discharge all caretakers, janitors and firemen at the capitol. This was done upon the governor's suggestion.

Mr. Swanson informed newspaper men that Head Janitor W. H. Beekly, Fireman James Isherwood, Elevator Conductor John Harrahill and others of the present force will b continued in their positions.

Purchase of bonds for investment by the state was authorized as follows:

For American Legion relief fund—Spencer electric light bonds, $18,300; water, $7,600; water extension, $7,750; all on the basis of 5.2 per cent bought from the contractor who took them in payment for the work.

For permanent school fund—North Platte paving bonds, $122,000, bought direct on a basis of 6 per cent. The board rejected $45,000 other North Platte paving bonds because their history was defective.

Klan Wizard Says Invisible Empire Is Not On Trial

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 10.—Significance today attaches to the statement of Dr. W. H. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, issued last night in which he unqualifiedly upheld denials of klan officials in Louisiana of any connection by members of the organization, with the Morehouse parish kidnapings and floggings in which Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards were put to death last August.

"I desire to call attention to the public at this time, to the fact that the hearings at Bastrop is not a trial but is simply a presentation of one side of the case," Dr. Evans said.

"The witnesses are not even allowed to be cross questioned and the enemies of the klan are therefore having their day in court."

Dr. Evans expressed confidence the klann would be vindicated both "legally, and in the minds of all fair minded men."

BOYS ARE PAROLED.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—Arlington D. Randall and Claude Jenree, who confessed to the robbery of the Auston second-hand store here early in December, were paroled for two years by Judge Dilworth here Monday, with the consent of County Attorney Walter M. Crow. The boys were not yet of age and practically all of the stolen goods was returned. Randall will go to his grandparents at Chappell, Neb., and Jenree to his mother and step-father at Havelock, where he will work in the shops. Both are to report here once a month.

FRENCH MILITARY CHIEFS IN ESSEN SELECT BARRACKS

Troops Will Be Quartered On City's Outskirts When the Main Body Arrives.

Curtain of Secrecy Still Veils Exact Hour For Seizure of Ruhr.

(Associated Press)

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The time for lifting the curtain in the latest act of the post-war drama—the French invasion of the Ruhr—was still a secret today, although the actors were in their places with the parts well learned under the tutelage of the French military command. Every preparation for the final order to "go ahead" has been made with clock-like precision.

The consensus of opinion here this morning was that the advance would not begin until midnight tonight or early tomorrow.

It was generally understood the plan as it stood today called first of all for sending engineers into the Ruhr to take over certain mines. These experts will be adequately, but not ostentatiously escorted by the military.

The military escorts will be quartered on the outskirts of any towns so occupied and the soldiers will be kept from contact with the inhabitants. As soon as the order to advance is received from Premier Poincare, engineers and experts will set up an organization at Essen which will check all coal shipped back to France.

The press is indignant at the proceedings of Deputy Cachin and other prominent communists who are alleged to be trying to stir up an anti-French feeling in the Ruhr.

What France Will Do.

The measures comprised, besides collection of German coal tax for allied account, the seizure of state forests, to be exploited for the benefit of the reparations fund and the collection of customs duties on exports in foreign money.

The French foreign office still insisted today that the word "occupation" was inapplicable to the operation in the Ruhr. The French troops there, it was said, will not exercise the prerogatives of forces of military occupation further than may be found necessary to furnish protection for the allied agents and assure proper facilities for the performance of their mission. They will substitute themselves for German authority in no other direction than the application of the penalties outlined in the notification to Germany, it is declared.

French Officers In Essen.

(International News Service.)

ESSEN, Jan. 10.—Fifty thousand French troops are being massed in the northern sector of the allied occupation zone for seizure of the Ruhr coal fields and industrial cities, according to information received today. Forty-nine troop trains have reached the border of the occupation area, of which forty have been unloaded.

French army officers have arrived in Essen to arrange for buildings in which troops will be billeted. They will be presented a list by burgomasters as to the number of quarters that would be required.

French military and mining superintendents are being massed at Kattwig, seven miles from Essen, which was reached by the French advance guard yesterday.

Municipal authorities have begun to requisition buildings for barracks. Headquarters of the great German coal syndicate in which Hugo Stinnes is a dominant figure, are being removed from Essen.

Officials of the Krupp works, formerly the chief source of Germany's war supplies, announced they would attempt to continue work undisturbed. The statement added:

"This decision is taken not for the sake of the French, but because 50,000 German workers depend upon the Krupps for their daily bread."

Solons of M. W. A. to Be Guests of Lincoln Camps at Chamber

Members of the legislature who belong to the Modern Woodmen of America will be given an informal dinner followed by a smoker and social at the chamber of commerce Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. This banquet will be under the auspices of the five Modern Woodmen camps in Lincoln with a membership of 2,000 men. E. E. Kester is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

A considerable per cent of the members of both the senate and house belong to this order, as the Modern Woodmen have 45,000 members in Nebraska and point with pride to the fact that about one man out of every twenty nine people in the state is affiliated with their society. The local camps and members want their visiting legislative neighbors to feel at home in Lincoln locate the five camps here, so that they may attend the meetings and assist in an active midwinter program among the local units.

The Lincoln committee has endeavored to make up a list of members in both branches of the legislature so that a personal invitation to attend this complimentary dinner might be extended. If any Modern Woodmen member has been missed he is asked to report to Senator Fries in the senate or Representative Keck in the house so that his name may be added to the list as the committee desires that each member of the legislature attend. A program of music, mostly Modern Woodmen songs, will be given together with an old fashioned "campfire" and impromptu talks by the speechmakers present.

Bishop Quayle Is Slightly Improved

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 10.—Preparations were under way at Ensworth hospital this morning to care for Bishop William A. Quayle, who recently suffered a paralytic stroke, as en route here today in an ambulance from Baldwin City, Kan.

Bishop Quayle rested easy last night and his condition is much more hopeful.

BRYAN IS BUSY DRAFTING BUDGET FOR LEGISLATURE

Governor Closes Door on Callers and Takes Up Task of Preparing Estimates.

McKelvie Recommendations Prove Puzzle to Members of Lawmaking Body.

Because ex-Governor McKelvie submitted a budget to the Nebraska legislature which is a veritable Chinese puzzle, it appears probable that Governor Bryan will have to redraft it in some other form. In order to accomplish revision of the budget within the fifteen days allowed by law, Governor Bryan has quit receiving callers at his private office and is now giving his attention to that matter almost exclusively. He is being assisted by William H. Smith, former state auditor.

The McKelvie budget except for a few general tables in the front portion and some figures on salaries paid in the different state departments, is practically undecipherable to members of the legislature or anybody else. It contains a lot of cabalistic numbers which convey no maning to anyone but an expert accountant, and even though there are several pages of explanatory notes, it remains a mystery to the solons.

Even ex-Governor McKelvie seems to have had some trouble mastering its intricacies, as he failed to include detailed recommendations on several hundred items, leaving the legislature to make the best guesses they could as to what should be appropriated in each instance.

Bryan Holds Whip Hand.

Governor Bryan has a position of vantage with the legislature, as he gets the last say regarding the budget, and no appropriation item can be raised above what he recommends except by three-fifths vote in each branch of the legislature.

In recasting and revising the budget, it is understood that the new governor will make changes to conform with his plan or reorganizing and re-grouping activities now under the code departments. Bills are to be submitted simultanaeously with the revised budget providing for the changes he has in mind.

The rsult of this will be that the legislature must aaccept Bryan's general scheme for abolishing code departments and bureaus or else override it by three-fifths vote in each chamber. It will require more than the party majority which the republicans haave in the house to do the latter, even if all the g. o. p. mmbers should line up in opposition to Bryan's proposals, which they will not do.

Code Backers Apprehensive.

This phase of the situation has just begun to dawn upon defenders of the code system inside and outside the legislature, and they are trying to devise some method of checkmating the governor's plan. Up to this time, however, no way has been figured out to get around the constitutional provision requiring a three-fifths vote to insert new appropriation items in the budget or increase any item above what is recommended by the executive.

As indicated heretofore, Bryan will probably suggest eliminating the agriculture dpartment as now constituted and turning over its inspectional and supervisory work, so far as food, drugs, oil, dairy products, live stock, and seeds are concernd, to the state college of agriculture.

It is thought that he will recommend placing the fish and game bureau under the land commissioner's office, together with the state park at Chadron. The state bureau of markets and the radio station at the capitol, which duplicates the one at the university farm, will undoubtedly be done away with.

Motorman Tricks Bandit and Foils Attempted Holdup

A clever argument and a trick on the part of A. C. Mackey, 1830 Dakota avenue, street car conductor, foiled the attempt of a youthful bandit to hold up the car at Thirty-third and Sumner streets at 9 p. m. Tuesday.

The bandit was standing at the corner as if waiting for the car and when the operator stopped the youth stepped into the car and nervously ordered Mackey to throw up his hands. There were no passengers on the car and Mackey suggested that they get out of the car on the ground so that they would not be in such a cramped position.

When the youthful bandit backed out of the car, Mackey slammed the door and sped away with the car. The bandit fired four or five shots at the car, one striking and breaking the glass above the head of the motorman. Mackey said the youth was of medium height, wore a gray suit an gray cap.

Captain of Detectives Walter Anderson and several officers immediately visited the scene but could find no trace of the young holdup.

Jackie Coogan Is Offered Contract By Mary and Doug

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford, his wife, as the first step of a plan to enter upon independent production and distribution of cinema features, made by other leading actors of the screen, have offered Jackie Coogan, child film actor, a contract for four pictures, and have announced plans for an expansion of the United Artists organization, the Los Angeles Times stated today.

Kansas Governor Keeps Pledge to Sunflower Voters

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—Repeal of the Kansas industrial court law and substitution of a board of arbitration was the outstanding feature of Governor J. M. Davis' first message to a joint session of the two houses of the Kansas legislature here today.

Governor Davis' recommendation for repeal of the industrial court law was in pursuance to pre-election pledges in which he announced his intention of seeking its repeal if elected.

RUSH PLANS FOR SEIZURES; HOPE IT IS UNNECESSARY

French Cabinet Disappointed at Lack of Action By Stinnes.

Charge Britain and U. S. With Lending Encouragement to Germany.

PARIS, Jan. 10. While rushing military preparations for occupation of the Ruhr coal fields the French cabinet has been eagerly awaiting proposals of the great German Rhineland Industrialists headed by Hugo Stinnes, which would make such action unnecessary, it was learned this afternoon.

Members of the cabinet are said to be discouraged that such intervention has not been forthcoming, and are blaming Great Britain and the United States for giving "moral encouragement" to the Germans.

The semi official newspaper Temps bitterly accuses England of advising the Germans not to make any counter proposals, but to "sit tight."

It is declared here that France's threats have been aimed not so much at the German nation as against the big Rhineland industrialists who the French believe are the real force behind the Berlin government. French officials had hoped and believed that these German industrialists would make adequate proposals to "buy off" occupation of the Ruhr.

Poincare Delays Action.

Premier Poincare delayed twenty-four hours his notification to Berlin of the measures France intends to take and then, with the excuse that Berlin should have time to apprise the local Ruhr authorities, he added a few more hours delay. This postponement, it is believed, was to give the Krupp, Stinnes, Thyssen and Haniel interests time to make a proposal to save their properties.

It is authoritatively learned that the French are willing to consider last minute guarantees from the German industrialists if they will withdraw the billions of marks which the French think they have hidden in neutral banks and enter into an agreement embodying the following terms:

1—Germans to cease boycotting Lorraine iron.

2—Cease buying iron ore from Sweden.

3—Promise to come to a business agreement with the French steel industry.

4—Promise to assist in stabilization of the mark.

The French cabinet is convinced that the German industrialists are capable of doing all these things.

Urges Decoraters To Advertise in The Newspapers

"The only way America can get better mechanics is through the vocational school," declared Jesse Miller of Des Moines, Iowa, speaking before the convention of Master Painters and Decoraters' association of Iowa and Nebraska at the Lincoln hotel Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Miller said that he would have a vocational department in every public school in the country. It was becoming exceedingly difficult he said, to secure good workmen.

E. H. Hall, of Des Moines, in a paper on "Wall Paper as a Commercial and Decorative Asset," said that wall paper received added values both moral and sentimental after it leaves the dealers' hands. The commercial value of the article according to Mr. Hall, is the least, and the decorative value and the moral effect upon the people who use it is the greatest. Advertising in the local papers was urged by the speaker as an effective stimulus to business.

A. S. Dougall, of Lincoln advised the delegates to make friends with their competitors as one means of getting better competition.

Hear Threats of Uprisings In India If Conference Fails

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A new threat against Europe is seen by British officials in the action taken at the final sitting at Gaya of the all India khilafat conference, official reports of which have just been received.

The conference warned the Indian government that in the event of a breakdown of the Lausanne conference and war with Turkey, the Moslem of India, numbering ten times the entire population of Turkey, will immediately launch a civil disobedience campaign.

The program, which it was declared would be put into effect, includes propaganda among the Indian police and army, stoppage of recruiting, refusal to subscribe to war loans, picketing of foreign cloth and liquor shops and the prevention of food exports. In addition a legion would be recruited for service with the Turks.

Will Make Plea To Delay Jailing Of Labor Leader

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Counsel for Big Tim Murphy was to go before the circuit of appeals today in an attempt to save the well known labor leader from immediate commitment to the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth.

Commitments for Murphy and Vincenzo Cosmano, convicted mail robbers, have been issued and placed in the hands of a United States marshal for action.

SOLONS ARGUE ON DOLLAR MATCHING

State Senators Debate Tendency to Centralize Power at Washington.

Bank Probe Resolution Not Acted Upon—Six New Bills Introduced.

The senate Wednesday morning engaged in an hours debate on the Anderson resolution against "dollar matching" by the federal government, referred it bacy to the taxation and revenue committee for further consideration, sent the Larkin state bank probe resolution to the banking committee, introduced six bills and adjourned until 10 o'clock Thursday.

Senator Anderson's first resolution, memorilizing congress to pass legislation to enable states to place national and state banks on a par in regard to taxation, was adopted. He then brought up his resolution condemning the system of federal appropriations to be matched by the states, and the debate was on, several of the upper house members seizing the opportunity to make their maiden speeches.

Banning of Cass led off in opposition, arguing that the state would undoubtedly accept the federal provisions, and that it would injure agricultural interests to do anything at present to hinder the work. Good of Dawes, chairman of the highway committee, also opposed the resolution, as did Robbins of Douglas. It was stated that Nebraska receives $6 for every dollar the system costs. Wiltse tried to choke the debate by saying it is undoubtedly true that the state gets much more than it pays out, but that the federal program is outlined for four years, and any memorilizing should be directed at the next congress.

The increasing tendency to centralize power in the national government, and invade state rights, as exemplified by "dollar matching" is the main argument used by the resolution's defenders, including Senators Osborne, Anderson, Reifenrath, Behrens and Tomek.

"These appropriations are a sort of bribe," asserted Senator Tomek. "The theory is incompatible with the principles of democracy."

None of the speakers evinced any disposition to refuse to take advantage of the federal offer as applied to roads, tuberculosis eradication, high schools and other activities, and on Senator Smrha's announcement that he wished to offer amendments it was returned to committee.

For Federal Built Road.

The Smrha amendments will, it is understood, confine the criticism in the resolution to further legislation at Washington along "dollar matching" lines, and will call for a federal built and maintained road, the state to care for trbutary highways, and will probably not touch on the question of federal funds used for other purposes in the state.

Among the senate bills introduced Wednesday is one by Perry Reed aimed at "third degree" methods, one looking to extending state senatorial terms to four years, and one cutting travel expenses and other fees of county sheriffs. A digest of the bills follows:

S. F. No. 18, by Wiltse—Reducing from fifteen cents to ten cents a mile the fee allowed sheriffs for traveling expenses.

S. F. 19, by Banning—providing that where an automobile or other personal property confiscated in prohibition law raids shall be sold at public sale, the costs of the sale shall be first deducted before the proceeds are turned into the school fund.

S. F. 20, by Reed—Prohibiting police officers from using omre force than is necessary in making arrests, prohibiting the photographing the third degree and all questioning beyound the necessary for identificatin except before a judge or magistrate.

S. F. 21, by Osborne—providing for forthwith giving of a bond in double the value of the property when it is taken by an officer in attachment in order to retain possession by owner.

S. F. 21 by Osborne—Reducing from 15 per cent to 10 per cent the interest owner or occupant of land must pay i norder to redeem it from tax sale.

S. 5. 23, by Rickard—Submitting a for a four year term for shrd etaoi constitutional amendment elimnating for a four year term for state senators.

S. F. 24 by Rickard—Submitting a constitutional amendment elminating from present constitution the $200 household goods exemption.

Fatty to Commence Work On a New Picture at Once

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10—Roscoe C. ("Fatty") Arbuckle, recently "pardoned" by Will H. Hays, head of the motion picture industry, was expected today to start on his "come-back."

With Molly Malone as his leading woman and backed by a group of San Francisco financiers, headed by Gavin McNab, the San Francisco attorney who defended him in his three trials for manslaughter, growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, actress, the fat comedian planned to begin a two-reeler to cost $75,000 and to be finished in six weeks.

BOSTON, Jan. 10—Expressing the belief that Eamon De Valera is in this country, local members of the American association for the recognition of the Irish republic annaunced today that he would be invited to attend the state convention on January 28.

Congressional Squibs

The senate banking committee, by a 5 to 3 vote, reported the Lenroot-Anderson government aid rural credit bill.

Senator Capper, republican, Kansas endorsed proposals for American aid toward settlement of European economic problems.

The senate and house reached an agreement on all provisions of the naval appropriation bill and the measure was sent to the president.

The house judiciary committee reported that the Keller impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty had not been susbstantiated in any particular.

Opposition to consideration at this session of revenue bills, except emergency measures was expressed in a resolution adopted by the house ways and means committee.

Arrangements of satisfactory terms for settlement of Great Britain's war debt to the United States was declared at the white house to be impossible under the present restrictions of the debt funding law.

Senator Bursum, republican, New Mexico, announced he would reintroduce in modified form his bill providing pensions for Mexican and civil war veterans and their widows which recently was vetoed by President Harding.

J. C. Donell, president of the Ohio Oil company, testifying at the senate oil investigation, declared the action o fSecretary Fall in granting leases in the Teapot Dome field in Wyoming to the Sinclair interests was antagonistic to a proper conservation policy.

State department formally stated in reply to published denials from Paris, that Secretary Hughes had taken up with Ambassodar Jusserand his plan for a reparations settlement and that the latter had presented to him Premier Poincare's observations on the suggestion.

Representative Upshaw of Georgia, in a speech in the house, said he would give the authorities all evidence placed in his hands of drinking by government officials but would not make public the names of senators and representatives who 'lift the devlish bottle to their lips."

FIVE KIDDIES AT MERCY OF WORLD

Go to Home For Friendless Unless Parents Saved From Jail.

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Five kiddies, the oldest 11 years old, will be taken to the Home of the Friendless unless Chicago's latest and strangest "triangle" is settled in a way that will keep both papa and mama out of jail.

They are "the Curtin babies."

John S. Curtin, wealthy retired president of the New Era Coal company, and father of the children, is in jail today. He was arrested at the instigation of the mother of the babies—Miss Kathleen Morrell.

A few days ago Miss Morrell was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Curtin's wife, who accused Miss Morrell of contributing to the delinquency of her children.

Curtin had been planning to take the kiddies away to the country when detectives prevailed upon Miss Morrell to make an appointment with Curtin. She did. His arrest followed.

Now "the other woman" is sorry she betrayed the man with whom she had lived for ten years.

Curtin will be given a hearing late today.

Past Officers of Eastern Star Hold A 23-Skiddoo Party

Electa Constellation of past officers of Electa chapter of past offiheld its meeting for January at the home of Prof. aand Mrs. George R. Chatburn twenty-ninth and P streets Tuesday evening, with seventy-five present.

The Constellation meets once each month and it is the custom for the ladies to arrange the program and furnish the entertainment but the brothers and brothers-in-laws were requested to entertain at this meeting. The brothers are past officers and the brothers-in-law are the husbands of lady officers who are thus qualified by their wives to attend the meetings of the Constellation. The program was in form of a 23 party and as the guests appeared they were directed to room No. 23 to deposit their wraps.

Prof. George R. Chatburn, past grand patron and vice president of the Constellation, called the meeting to order and after the business of the association, introduced the all Stars Minstrels with J. S. Baer as interlocutor, who in burlesque form introduced the musicians. Vocal solos were given by Orville Andrews with Mrs. Orville Andrews at the piano; Prof. A. E. Bunting with Miss Irene Fleming at the piano, and Jack Matthews accompanied also by Miss Fleming. The Constellation quartette consisting of Orville Andrews, Prof. A. E. Bunting, Robert R. Gray, and Jack Matthews gave several selections, one being a parody on Old Oaken Bucket, written by Prof. Bunting with application to Electa chapter officers and members.

Following the custom at the meetings this year Prof. George R. Chatburn read a biography and the ladies were requested to decide by a written ballot whose biography was given. Past Patrons Louis M. Troup and E. W. Brown counted the votes and found a few scattering ballots for Andy Gump and other great men but declared that L. C. Oberlies, worthy patron of Electa chapter had received twenty-three and sentence in burlesque was pronounced by Past Patron David C. Hilton. He then presented Mr. Oberlies with a package on which was a big red twenty-three, which contained a big stick of candy. His attempts to respond was met with a yell of twenty-three. Mrs. W. C. VanAndel, worthy matron of Electa chapter drew the number twenty-three in ballot to determine the most popular lady and was presented with a beautiful boquet of roses by Prof. George R. Chatburn. Mrs. Alice M. Stanhope, president of the Constellation, and Mrs. George R. Chatburn, hostess were brought before the Sanhedrim on charges filed and sentenced by Past Grand Patron, D. E. Green to open mysterious packages on which were the "skiddoo" number of each of which contained a beautiful boquet of roses.

A birthday cake with the number twenty-three in burning candles caused much amusement as one lady was required to blow them out from the opposite side of the room.

All joined in singing a parody of "Long Long Trail" with application to the occasion and date with Mrs. Louise Mitchell at the piano. Each lady was given a rose.

Refreshments were served, the ice cream also bearing the "skiddoo" number as did the waiters' white aprons.

Those who served the refreshments were: D. J. Cravens, Albert S. Hall, Bert Dean, G. C. Hager, W. P. Putnam, Frank Seacrest, John M. Bennett and R. O. Hodgman.

Former Missouri Governor Dies of Serious Ailment

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 10—Lon V. Stephens, 64 years old, former governor and state treasurer of Missouri, died here this morning of heart disease. Stephens had wide business connections in banking concerns and was former editor of a newspaper at Booneville, Mo.

BIG SHOW AGAIN FILLS AUDITORIUM

House Not Large Enough to Hold Throng At Elks Circus.

The big Elks' circus again crowded the auditorium to capacity Tuesday evening and the doors had not been opened an hour before it was necessary to discontinue selling seats in the balcony. Later the doors to the building were closed, to be opened at intervals to allow more to enter after some of those inside had taken their departure. All of the merchandise and refreshment booths did a flourishing business from the opening until closing time.

Many remarks are heard each evening on the superior class of the acts presented. All of the performers are from the two biggest circuses in the country and all are headliners with the shows with which they are engaged during the summer season. Thrills alternate with laughter from the beginning to the end and there is always something to be seen or heard.

Watson's orchestra, which supplies the music is also praised by those who have been attending the performances and the floor is filled with dancers following the show. Tuesday night a large delegation of Omaha Elks was in attendance and there were also a number present from Hastings. The Beatrice delegation which was to come Tuesday evening postponed the trip until later in the week.

At the weekly dinner of the Elks Tuesday evening T. B. Dysart, member of the legislature and past exalted ruler of Omaha lodge, spoke, complimenting the local members of the order on their enterprise.

REALTORS HOLD CONVENTION HERE

Martin Urges Local Boards to Work For Good of the Community.

The Nebraska State Association of Realtors in convention here held a luncheon at the chamber of commerce Wednesday noon, which was attended by 100 members. An afternoon session was held at the Grand hotel, which will be followed by a banquet at the same place Wednesday night.

L. M. Troup, of Lincoln, presided over the meeting which followed the luncheon. Brief addresses were given by Fred Richards, president of the state association; L. C. Sholes and C. B. Stuht, retiring and present presidents of the Omaha real estate board; Secretary Hyatt, of David City, and Mark Martin, of Omaha, vice president.

Mr. Hyatt declared that eighty acres of land in Butler county which in 1919 sold for $250 an acre last week brought $350 an acre without any improvements having been added.

Vice President Martin told the members that one of the best ways to boost local boards is to forget selfish interests and do some big thing for the good of the community. The Omaha board became interested in an agitation against high taxes. Its appraisal committee has won the esteem of the lawyers and courts, said Mr. Martin.

Mr. Sholes explained the work of the Omaha board and urged the members of the state association to boost the national organization. He also stressed the matter of creating an interest between local boards and the public.

Mr. Stuht said the association has a service to give which will bind the realtors closer to the public in a spirit of co-operation and usefulness.

WILL GO LIMIT TO FIX CRIMES ON KLUX KLANS

Louisiana Will Press In Rigid Manner Case Against "Invisible Empire."

"Woman In Case" To Testify at Hearing, It Is Said.

(Associated Press.)

BASTROP, La., Jan. 10—The state stands ready today to press in a rigid manner, its investigation into charges made by officials implicating former members of the ku klux klan in the torture and slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards, last August with the resumption of the "open hearing," today.

The testimony offered yesterday by former klansmen of Morehouse parish, which Attorney General Coco said "definitely fixed the klan's position in the present investigation of the outrages in Morehouse," is only a small part of the evidence, the stat has to offer, according to this official.

Asserting that there is a "dual nature to the invisible empir, Attorney General Coco said that "the klan is on trial and the klan will have to answer."

The Woman in Case.

(International News Service.)

COURTHOUSE, BASTROP, La., Jan. 10—"The woman in the case" app ared today at the open hearing on the atrocious hooded mob killings of Morehouse parish, to testify, it is said.

The contrast of characters in this drama of shadows, masks, and murder was only heightened by her appearance. She is Miss Addie May Hamilton, 19-year old girl of the hills but destined or a spotlight role in the state's drive to punish the inhuman slayers of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards. Her story has aalready been told by International News Service.

In this death struggle between the constitutional government of Louisiana and the invisible empire of the Ku Klux Klan, the girl is charged with having precipitated the clash.

Kidnapped, Driven From Home.

Kidnapped and driven from her home a year ago, Miss Hamilton was used by the state to link the Ku Klux Klan with mob violence. Her kidnapping from her fireside by a black hooded mob with her positive identification of two men, is one of the states best cards.

She has charged the klan with full responsibility and supported her accusation with testimony regarding a petition signed by klansmen, which permitted her to return to her home. The exile of Miss Haamilton, for an alleged afair of the heart, was the klan's first attempt at usurpation of constitutional authority, according to anti-klansmen.

The act undoubtedly started concerted moves by anti-klansmen to prevent further outrages and led finally to a retaliatory attack upon the klan official, who isnow under bail on a charge of murder.

The brutal murders of Daniel and Richards followed shortly afterwards.

MAY NAME PERRY AS ONE REFEREE

O'Connor Heirship Case to Be Tried Without Aid Of Jury.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—Judge E. B. Perry of Lincoln, formerly district judge in the fourteenth district, and Ambrose C. Epperson of Clay Center have been proposed by Judge Dilworth to act as referees in the approaching trial of the John O'Connor heirship case.

If the O'Connor claimants do not agree to the waiving of the jury and the selected referees, there can be no trial of the case until May, Judge Dilworth decrares.

The district court docket is a crowded one this term and it would be impossible to cover all the cases if five or six weeks were given over to this now famous case, which seems as far from solution now as when the mysterious recluse, John O'Connor, died without revealing any of the scenes of his past.

Advises Keeping Oil Underground In Wyoming Field

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—J. C. Donnell, president of the Ohio Oil company, recalled today as a witness in the senate oil inquiry declared it was decidedly advantageous to keep oil in the ground in Wyoming, where Secretary of Interior Falls has granted leases in the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, on the ground that it was being drained by nearby private operations.

"The desirability of leaving oil in the ground applied more in Wyoming than in other sections," said Mr. Donnell. "It is a long way from market, and tankage costs are greater."

Paddock Preparing For Track Campaign

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Charles Paddock, world's champion sprinter, will make his first re-appearance on the running path at the Southern California amateur athletic union relays at Occidental college, February 17. He will run as a member of the University of Southern California track squad.

Schmidt Not Posted On Plans of Pirates

MODESTO, Calif., Jan. 10.—Walter Schmidt, for the past seven years catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates today denied all knowledge of his intended sale to any other baseball team, as reported in recent press dispatches from Pittsburgh.

HOUSE CUTS OUT BUDGET REPRINT

Figures Submitted By McKelvie Are Printed Again and Distributed.

Speaker Mathers Suggests Elimination and Chief Clerk Assents.

Advisability of "a surgical operation for appendicitis" was suggested to the Nebraska house Wednesday morning by Speaker Mathers in relation to a bulky document, labelled "Appendix A, house journal," which members found lying upon their desks. The volume, containing 100 pages of printed figures, was nothing but a reprint of the budget figures submitted by Governor McKelvie a week ago, of which copies had already been furnished to all senators and representatives.

"Neither the house nor the chief clerk's office had anything to do with this unnecessary exepnditure for printing," Speaker Mathers announced.

"Appendix A" is to be included in the senate journal as part of the proceedings of the joint session at which Governor McKelvie delivered his budget message. Its 100 large sized pages will be counted as 200 or 250 journal pages, at $1.96 per page. This will give the printer a nice piece of "phat," or pick-up matter for which the type was already set and previously paid for.

Chief Clerk Corrick of the house declares that he will not include "Appendix A" in the complete house journal, which will eliminate the "phat" from that book. He is the surgeon who will perform the operation suggested by Speaker Mathers.

To Enforce Smoking Rule.

The speaker called attention to the rules of the house which prohibit smoking while it is in session.

"The chair has no alternative but to enforce the rule, and it will be enforced," he said.

The legislative salary and expense bills, appropriating $117,000 and $73,000, respectively, were introduced by the finance committee and advanced to second reading under suspension of the rules. Being referred back to the committee, they will be immediately reported and rushed through as the first bills passed at this legislative session.

Listen to Old Time Solon.

Former Representative R. B. Windham of Plattsmouth, a veteran of five sessions, who began his legislative service in 1879, was introduced by Mr. Staats, a colleague of the 1919 session, and spoke for a few moments.

"I have noticed that there are fewer members here than usual returned from the preceding sessions," remarked Mr. Windham. "I understand there are only seven or eight in this legislature who were here four years ago, and not more than fifteen or twenty re-elected from the 1921 body."

He suggested that one reason why the work of legislatures is often unsatisfactory to the people is that so many of the members are new and inexperienced each session. He advocated making the term four years and having half the members hold over every two years, in order to cure this drawback.

D. McNichol's appointment as house postmaster and that of William G. Adams as chief clerk of the billroom reported by the committee on employes, have been approved by the house.

Swanson Continues To Control State Capitol Employes

At the first meeting of the new board of educational lands and funds, with Governor Bryan as chairman, action was taken giving Land Commissioner Swanson the same authority he has heretofore had to employ and discharge all caretakers, janitors and firemen at the capitol. This was done upon the governor's suggestion.

Mr. Swanson informed newspaper men that Head Janitor W. H. Beekly, Fireman James Isherwood, Elevator Conductor John Harrahill and others of the present force will b continued in their positions.

Purchase of bonds for investment by the state was authorized as follows:

For American Legion relief fund—Spencer electric light bonds, $18,300; water, $7,600; water extension, $7,750; all on the basis of 5.2 per cent, bought from the contractor who took them in payment for the work.

For permanent school fund—North Platte paving bonds, $122,000, bought direct on a basis of 6 per cent. The board rejected $45,000 other North Platte paving bonds because their history was defective.

Klan Wizard Says Invisible Empire Is Not On Trial

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 10.—Significance today attaches to the statement of Dr. W. H. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, issued last night in which he unqualifiedly upheld denials of klan officials in Louisiana of any connection by members of the organization, with the Morehouse parish kidnapings and floggings in which Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards were put to death last August.

"I desire to call attention to the public at this time, to the fact that the hearings at Bastrop is not a trial but is simply a presentation of one side of the case," Dr. Evans said.

"The witnesses are not even allowed to be cross questioned and the enemies of the klan are therefore having their day in court."

Dr. Evans expressed confidence the klann would be vindicated both "legally, and in the minds of all fair minded men."

BOYS ARE PAROLED.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10—Arlington D. Randall and Claude Jenree, who confessed to the robbery of the Auston second-hand store here early in Decemeber, were paroled for two years by Judge Dilworth here Monday, with the consent of County Attorney Walter M. Crow. The boys were not yet of age and practically all of the stolen goods was returned. Randall will go to his grandparents at Chappell, Neb., and Jenree to his mother and step-father at Havelocck, where he will work in the shops. Both are to report here once a month.

FRENCH·MILITARY CHIEFS IN ESSEN SELECT BARRACKS

Troops Will Be Quartered On City's Outskirts When the Main Body Arrives.

Curtain of Secrecy Still Veils Exact Hour For Seizure of Ruhr.

(Associated Press)

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The time for lifting the curtain in the latest act of the post-war drama—the French invasion of the Ruhr—was still a secret today, although the actors were in their places with the parts well learned under the tutelage of the French military command. Every preparation for the final order to "go ahead" has been made with clock-like precision.

The consensus of oninion here this morning was that the advance would not begin until midnight tonight or early tomorrow.

It was generally understood the plan as it stood today called first of all for sending engineers into the Ruhr to take over certain mines. These experts will be adequately, but not ostentatiously escorted by the military.

The military escorts will be quartered on the outskirts of any towns so occupied and the soldiers will be kept from contact with the inhabitants. As soon as the order to advance is received from Premier Poincare, engineers and experts will set up an organization at Essen which will check all coal shipped back to France.

The press is indignant at the proceedings of Deputy Cachin and other prominent communists who are alleged to be trying to stir up an anti-French feeling in the Ruhr.

What France Will Do.

The measures comprised, besides collection of German coal tax for allied account, the seizure of state forests, to be exploited for the benefit of the reparations fund and the collection of customs duties on exports in foreign money.

The French foreign office still insisted today that the word "occupation" was inapplicable to the operation in the Ruhr. The French troops there, it was said, will not exercise the prerogatives of forces of military occupation further than may be found necessary to furnish protection for the allied agents and assure proper facilities for the performance of their mission. They will substitute themselves for German authority in no other direction than the application of the penalties outlined in the notification to Germany, it is declared.

French Officers In Essen.

(International News Service.)

ESSEN, Jan. 10.—Fifty thousand French troops are being massed in the northern sector of the allied occupation zone for seizure of the Ruhr coal fields and industrial cities, according to information received today. Forty-nine troop trains have reached the border of the occupation area, of which forty have been unloaded.

French army officers have arrived in Essen to arrange for buildings in which troops will be billeted. They will be presented a list by burgomasters as to the number of quarters that would be required.

French military and mining superintendents are being massed at Kattwig, seven miles from Essen, which was reached by the French advance guard yesterday.

Municipal authorities have begun to requisition buildings for barracks. Headquarters of the great German coal syndicate in which Hugo Stinnes is a dominant figure, are being removed from Essen.

Officials of the Krupp works, formerly the chief source of Germany's war supplies, announced they would attempt to continue work undisturbed. The statement added:

"This decision is taken not for the sake of the French, but because 50,000 German workers depend upon the Krupps for their daily bread."

Solons of M. W. A. to Be Guests of Lincoln Camps at Chamber

Members of the legislature who belong to the Modern Woodmen of America will be given an informal dinner followed by a smoker and social at the chamber of commerce Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. This banquet will be under the auspices of the five Modern Woodmen camps in Lincoln with a membership of 2,000 men. E. E. Kester is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

A considerable per cent of the members of both the senate and house belong to this order, as the Modern Woodmen have 45,000 members in Nebraska and point with pride to the fact that about one man out of every twenty-nine people in the state is affiliated with their society. The local camps and members want their visiting legislative neighbors to feel at home in Lincoln locate the five camps here, so that they may attend the meetings and assist in an active midwinter program among the local unuits.

The Lincoln committee has endeavored to make up a list of members in both branches of the legislature so that a personal invitation to attend this complimentary dinner might be extended. If any Modern Woodmen member has been missed he is asked to report to Senator Fries in the senate or Representative Keck in the house so that his name may be added to the list as the committee desires that each member of the legislature attend. A program of music, mostly Modern Woodmen songs, will be given together with an old fashioned "campfire" and impromptu talks by the speechmakers present.

Bishop Quayle Is Slightly Improved

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 10.—Preparations were under way at Ensworth hospital this morning to care for Bishop William A. Quayle, who recently suffered a paralytic stroke and is en route here today in an ambulance from Baldwin City, Kan.

Bishop Quayle rested easy last night and his condition is much more hopeful.

BRYAN IS BUSY DRAFTING BUDGET FOR LEGISLATURE

McKelvie Recommendations Prove Puzzle to Members of Lawmaking Body.

Because ex-Governor McKelvie submitted a budget to the Nebraska legislature which is a veritable Chinese puzzle, it appears probable that Governor Bryan will have to redraft it in some other form. In order to accomplish revision of the budget within the fifteen days allowed by law, Governor Bryan has quit receiving callers at his private office and is now giving his attention to that matter almost exclusively. He is being assisted by William H. Smith, former state auditor.

The McKelvie budget except for a few general tables in the front portion and some figures on salaries paid in the different state departments, is practically undecipherable to members of the legislature or anybody else. It contains a lot of cabalistic numbers which convey no maning to anyone but an expert accountant, and even though there are several pages of explanatory notes, it remains a mystery to the solons.

Even ex-Governor McKelvie seems to have had some trouble mastering its intricacies, as he failed to include detailed recommendations on several hundred items, leaving the legislature to make the best guesses they could as to what should be appropriated in each instance.

Bryan Holds Whip Hand.

Governor Bryan has a position of vantage with the legislature, as he gets the last say regarding the budget, and no appropriation item can be raised above what he recommends except by three-fifths vote in each branch of the legislature.

In recasting and revising the budget, it is understood that the new governor will make changes to conform with his plan or reorganizing and re-grouping activities now under the code departments. Bills are to be submitted simultanaeously with the revised budget, providing for the changes he has in mind.

The rsult of this will be that the legislature must aaccept Bryan's general scheme for abolishing code departments and bureaus or else override it by three-fifths vote in each chamber. It will require more than the party majority which the republicans haave in the house to do the latter, even if all the g. o. p. mtmbers should line up in opposition to Bryan's proposals, which they will not do.

Code Backers Apprehensive.

This phase of the situation has just begun to dawn upon defenders of the code system inside and outside the legislature, and they are trying to devise some method of checkmating the governor's plan. Up to this time, however, no way has been figured out to get around the constitutional provision requiring a three-fifths vote to insert new appropriation items in the budget or increase any item above what is recommended by the executive.

As indicated heretofore, Bryan will probably suggest eliminating the agriculture dpartment as now constituted and turning over its inspectional and supervisory work, so far as food, drugs, oil, dairy products, live stock, and seeds are concernd, to the state college of agriculture.

It is thought that he will recommend placing the fish and game bureau under the land commissioner's office, together with the state park at Chadron. The state bureau of markets and the radio station at the capitol, which duplicates the one at the university farm, will undoubtedly be done away with.

Motorman Tricks Bandit and Foils Attempted Holdup

A clever argument and a trick on the part of A. C. Mackey, 1830 Dakota avenue, street car conductor, foiled the attempt of a youthful bandit to hold up the car at Thirty-third and Sumner streets at 9 p. m. Tuesday.

The bandit was standing at the corner as if waiting for the car and when the operator stopped the youth stepped into the car and nervously ordered Mackey to throw up his hands. There were no passengers on the car and Mackey suggested that they get out of the car on the ground so that they would not be in such a cramped position.

When the youthful bandit backed out of the car, Mackey slammed the door and sped away with the car. The bandit fired four or five shots at the car, one striking and breaking the glass above the head of the motorman. Mackey said the youth was of medium height, wore a gray suit an gray cap.

Captain of Detectives Walter Anderson and several officers immediately visited the scene but could find no trace of the young holdup.

Jackie Coogan Is Offered Contract By Mary and Doug

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford, his wife, as the first step of a plan to enter upon independent production and distribution of cinema features, made by other leading actors of the screen, have offered Jackie Coogan, child film actor, a contract for four pictures, and have announced plans for an expansion of the United Artists organization, the Los Angeles Times stated today.

Kansas Governor Keeps Pledge to Sunflower Voters

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10—Repeal of the Kansas industrial court law and substitution of a board of arbitration was the outstanding feature of Governor J. M. Davis' first message to a joint session of the two houses of the Kansas legislature here today.

Governor Davis' recommendation for repeal of the industrial court law was in pursuance to pre-election pledges in which he announced his intention of seeking its repeal if elected.

RUSH PLANS FOR SEIZURES; HOPE IT IS UNNECESSARY

French Cabinet Disappointed at Lack of Action By Stinnes.

Charge Britain and U. S. With Lending Encouragement to Germany.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—While rushing military preparations for occupation of the Ruhr coal fields the French cabinet has been eagerly awaiting proposals of the great German Rhineland industrialists headed by Hugo Stinnes, which would make such action unnecessary, it was learned this afternoon.

Members of the cabinet are said to be discouraged that such intervention has not been forthcoming, and are blaming Great Britain and the United States for giving "moral encouragement" to the Germans.

The semi-official newspaper Temps bitterly accuses England of advising the Germans not to make any counter proposals, but to "sit tight."

It is declared here that France's threats have been aimed not so much at the German nation as against the big Rhineland industrialists who the French believe are the real force behind the Berlin government. French officials had hoped and believed that these German industrialists would make adequate proposals to "buy off" occupation of the Ruhr.

Poincare Delays Action.

Premier Poincare delayed twenty-four hours his notification to Berlin of the measures France intends to take and then, with the excuse that Berlin should have time to apprise the local Ruhr authorities, he added a few more hours delay. This postponement, it is believed, was to give the Krupp, Stinnes, Thyssen and Haniel interests time to make a proposal to save tehir properties.

It is authoritatively learned tart the French are willing to consider last minute guarantees from the German industrialists if they will withdraw the billions of marks which the French think they have hidden in neutral banks and enter into an agreement embodying the following terms:

1—Germans to cease boycotting Lorraine iron.

2—Cease buying iron ore from Sweden.

3—Promise to come to a business agreement with the French steel industry.

4—Promise to assist in stabilization of the mark.

The French cabinet is convinced that the German industrialists are capable of doing all these things.

Urges Decoraters To Advertise in The Newspapers

"The only way America can get better mechanics is through the vocational school," declared Jesse Miller of Des Moines, Iowa, speaking before the convention of Master Painters and Decorators' association of Iowa and Nebraska at the Lincoln hotel Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Miller said that he would have a vocational department in every public school in the country. It was becoming exceedingly difficult he said, to secure good workmen.

E. H. Hall, of Des Moines, in a paper on "Wall Paper as a Commercial and Decorative Asset, said that wall paper received added values both moral and sentimental after it leaves the dealers' hands. The commercial value of the article, according to Mr. Hall, is the least, and the decorative value and the moral effect upon the people who use it is the greatest. Advertising in the local papers was urged by the speaker as an effective stimulus to business.

A. S. Dougall, of Lincoln, advised the delegates to make friends with their competitors as one means of getting better competition.

Harry A. Tebbetts, Pioneer Resident Of Lincoln, Dies

Harry A. Tebbetts, 70, pioneer Nebraskan, and resident of Lincoln for tthe last forty-four years, died at 2:30 p. m., Tuesday at the home, 1601 R street, after an illness of nearly two years.

Mr. Tebbetts was at one time connected with Raymond Bros. Clarke, wholesale grocers, where he was employed until his health failed him.

He is survived by his wife and a son, Forrest of Waterloo, Ia.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

Hear Threats of Uprisings In India If Conference Fails

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A new threat against Europe is seen by British officials in the action taken at the final sitting at Gaya of the all India khilafat conference, official reports of which have just been received.

The conference warned the Indian government that in the event of a breakdown of the Lausanne conference and war with Turkey, the Moslem of India, numbering ten times the entire population of Turkey, will immediately launch a civil disobedience campaign.

The program, which it was declared would be put into effect includes propaganda among the Indian police and army, stoppage of recruiting, refusal to subscribe to war loans, picketing of foreign cloth and liquor shops and the prevention of food exports. In addition a legion would be recruited for service with the Turks.

Will Make Plea To Delay Jailing Of Labor Leader

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—Counsel for Big Tim Murphy was to go before the circuit of appeals today in an attempt to save the well known labor leader from immediate commitment to the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth.

Commitments for Murphy and Vincenso Cosmano, convicted mail robbers, have been issued and placed in the hands of a United States marshal for action.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.

The resistance offered by special stocks to the heavy Bear selling on news of the proposed withdrawal of American troops on the Rhine, eventually turned the course of prices upward in today's stock market. Heavy buying of domestic oils, low money rates and higher foreign exchanges all had a cheerful effect on sentiment. The European situation continued to exert a restraining effect on Brazil, the day's sales approximating 740,000 shares.

Short covering operations imparted a firm tone to most standard shares at the opening of today's stock market but sporadic short selling and profit taking in other quarters gave the general list an irregular appearance. Kresge was pushed up 2 points and moderate fractional improvement was noted in Union Pacific, the Pan-American shares and United States Steel. Gulf States Steel dropped a point and was followed into lower ground by Eastman Kodak, United States Rubber, Crucible and Hupp Motors.

California Petroleum jumped 2¼ points in the first fifteen minutes and gains of 1 to 1¼ points were recorded by Pan-American A and B, Owens Bottle, North American, Studebaker and Baldwin, American and Lima Locomotives, Republic Steel, Allied Chemical and Chesapeake & Ohio also moved to higher ground. Atlantic Refining climbed 3 points to 152. DuPont, United States Alcohol and Consolidated Gas each dropped a point or more. Foreign exchanges opened slightly higher.

Announcement of the proposed withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was followed by a heavy professional selling movement, short interests offering stocks freely on the theory that the technical conditions of the market warranted a further reaction. Such leaders as Baldwin and Studebaker dropped 2 points from their earlier high levels, while General Asphalt common and preferred, Chandler Motors, Hupp Motors, Stewart-Warner Speedometer, Tobacco Products A and B, U. S. Alcohol, Coca Cola, General Electric, American Locomotive, Continental Can, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Public Service of New Jersey yielded 1 to 2 points. Trading became more quiet at the lower levels. California Petroleum was the only active stock to offer resistance to pressure, moving up to 77½, a new high on the movement.

Call money opened at 4¾, but eased off at 4½ after 11 o'clock.

The strength of California Petroleum, which extended its advance to 4 points eventually permeated several other of the domestic oils, Cosden, Producers & Refiners and Houston rising 1 to 1½ points. Many stocks again evinced an upward tendency in the early afternoon. Beechnut Packing rising 5 points and Postum Cereal, Woolworth, May Department Stores and Willys-Overland preferred 2 to 2½. Several heavy stocks persisted, especially General Electric, Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Famous Players, United States Rubber and Chino Copper.

The closing was firm. The upward movement continued throughout the afternoon, many of the leading shares closing at or near their high levels of the day, Postum Cereal which was pushed up 7 points, was one of the outstanding features, other strong spots being California Oil, Tidewater Oil, and Owens Bottle, all up 1 to 3 points.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 10.

WHEAT—Wheat prices had a downward tendency today in the early dealings, absence of any special demand being apparently responsible. Lower quotations at Liverpool counted somewhat as a depressing factor. There was no noticeable effect either way on the market after announcement that orders had been issued for the withdrawal of American troops in Germany. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c lower to ¼c advance, with May $1.18@1.18¼ and July $1.14½@1.14¾, was followed by a setback all around to well below yesterday's finish.

Moderate returns in the value of wheat took place during the late transactions today. Bullish crop reports about winter wheat induced a little buying, and so, too, did gossip that Italian dissatisfaction had caused the French to modify plans of occupying the Ruhr. Prices closed firm ⅝@1⅛c net higher, with May $1.19⅝@1.19¾ and July $1.12@1.12⅛.

[illegible] notice of railroad embargoes against grain shipments to Philadelphia and Baltimore, prices of cash wheat here advanced. Offerings of future deliveries were scanty, and it took but little buying to turn the market upward at last.

CORN—Corn and oats were relatively firm as a result of expected falling off in receipts of corn here. After opening unchanged to ⅛ to ⅜c lower, May 71⅛@71¼c, the corn market showed a slight upturn.

With other markets outbidding Chicago as much as 4½c in parts of Illinois, the corn market here developed increased strength in the last hour. Prices closed firm, ⅞@1¼c net higher, May, 72⅜@72½@72¼c.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to a shade off, May 44⅝c to 44⅝@¾c, and held near to the initial figure.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were easier in line with hog values.

U. S. ARMY MEN ORDERED HOME

the United States, will sail for Antwerp, arriving there in eight or nine days, according to war department officials.

The orders of Secretary Weeks to General Allen instructed the latter to have his forces at Antwerp when the transport arrived, ready to go aboard, indicating that the American withdrawal is to be accomplished with all possible speed.

The trip from Coblenz to Antwerp will be made by rail.

A few officers and enlisted men will remain at Coblenz to clean up odds and ends of military and official business, but the American flag will be struck from the Rhine. It is presumed here that the territory occupied by General Allen's forces will be taken over immediately by the French.

Immediately upon announcement of the American withdrawal, reports became current in Washington that British troops also would be withdrawn. These reports could not be confirmed here, the British embassy disclaiming any knowledge of the matter. American officials, however, would not be surprised if the British likewise express their disapproval of France's policy by evacuating the Rhineland within a short time.

Land at Three Ports.

The home coming Americans will be landed at three American ports, the St. Mihiel putting in first at Savannah, then Charleston, S. C., and finally at New York. From these three disembarkation centers, the troops will be distributed through the various army corps areas from Texas to Boston.

The order for American withdrawal will not come as a surprise to the French government, it was said here today, as Ambassador Herrick informed Premier Poincare some days ago that America would get out of the Rhine.

Apparently the French government weighed the matter and then decided that, much as it desired the presence of American troops, it desired the rich Ruhr coal fields more.

News of the American withdrawal was greeted with undisguised approval in the senate, where only Saturday a resolution was passed virtually requesting the administration to bring the troops home.

Decision Is Approved.

"Fine!" said Senator Hiram Johnson, republican of California. "It should have been done long ago."

"It's a wise decision," declared Senator McCormick, republican of Illinois. "I believe it should have been done long ago."

"It's an excellent move," was the comment of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, republican of Massachusetts, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

Democrats as well as republicans approved the move.

The United States gets out of Europe at a cost of approximately $250,000,000—that sum representing the American bill against Germany for the cost of occupation.

After first announcing that the Americans would be brought out of Europe via Antwerp, a Belgian port, the war department later announced that Bremen, a German port, also is being considered.

Belgium is co-operating with the French in the thrust into the Ruhr, and the question apparently was raised by administration officials as to whether it would be advisable to bring the troops out through Belgian territory. A decision will be made today.

Tanks for the Ruhr have left directly from Ghent.

The troops from Brussels comprised infantry, machine gunners, cavalry, aviators and transport service men. The men were selected from various regiments for their proficiency.

The commander-in-chief is General Borremans.

Entire District Quiet.

ESSEN, Jan. 10.—This city and the neighboring Ruhr district were quiet this morning, although there was a strong under-current of feeling and a tensity due to the uncertainty and lack of definite information relative to the French plans.

Announcement that the coal syndicate had decided to move its headquarters to Hamburg served to strengthen the morale of the inhabitants, who were expecting that the French troops might arrive before the end of the day.

Duisburg is said to be bustling with the activities of the French, whose loaded transport trains are arriving steadily. The French have taken over eight public school buildings in that city, from which they have taken out the furniture. This is being replaced with new military office fittings valued at thirty million marks.

French patrols are Duisburg are reported as appearing in full field equipment.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.

The restistance offered by special stocks to the heavy Bear selling on news of the proposed withdrawal of American troops on the Rhine, eventually turned the course of prices upward in today's stock market. Heavy buying of domestic oils, low money rates and higher foreign exchanges all had a cheerful effect on sentiment. The European situation continued to exert a restraining effect on Brazil, the day's sales approximating 740,000 shares.

Short covering operations imparted a firm tone to most standard shares at the opening of today's stock market but sporadic short selling and profit taking in other quarters gave the general list an irregular appearance. Kresge was pushed up 2 points and moderate fractional improvement was noted in Union Pacific, the Pan-American shares and United States Steel. Gulf States Steel dropped a point and was followed into lower ground by Eastman Kodak, United States Rubber, Crucible and Hupp Motors.

California Petroleum jumped 2½ points in the first fifteen minutes, and gains of 1 to 1¼ points were recorded by Pan-American A and B, Owens Bottle, North American, Studebaker and Baldwin. American and Lima Locomotives, Republic Steel, Allied Chemical and Chesapeake & Ohio also moved to higher ground. Atlantic Refining climbed 3 points to 152. DuPont, United States Alcohol and Consolidated Gas each dropped a point or more. Foreign exchanges opened slightly higher.

Announcement of the proposed withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was followed by a heavy professional selling movement, short interests offering stocks freely on the theory that the technical conditions of the market warranted a further reaction. Such leaders as Baldwin and Studebaker dropped 2 points from their earlier high levels, while General Asphalt common and preferred, Chandler Motors, Hupp Motors, Stewart-Warner Speedometer, Tobacco Products A and B, U. S. Alcohol, Coca Cola, General Electric, American Locomotive, Continental Can, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Public Service of New Jersey yielded 1 to 2 points. Trading became more quiet at the lower levels. California Petroleum was the only active stock to offer resistance to pressure, moving up to 75½, a new high on the movement.

Call money opened at 4¾, but eased off at 4½ after 11 o'clock.

The strength of California Petroleum, which extended its advance to 4 points eventually permeated several other of the domestic oils, Cosden, Producers & Refiners and Houston rising 1 to 1½ points. Many stocks again evinced an upward tendency in the early afternoon, Beechnut Packing rising 5 points and Postum Cereal, Woolworth, May Department Stores and Willys-Overland preferred 2 to 2½. Several heavy spots persisted, especially General Electric, Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Famous Players, United States Rubber and Chino Copper.

The closing was firm. The upward movement continued throughout the afternoon, many of the leading shares closing at or near their high levels of the day, Postum Cereal which was pushed up 7 points, was one of the outstanding features, other strong spots being California Oil, Tidewater Oil and Owens Bottle, all up 1 to 3 points.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 10.

WHEAT—Wheat prices had a downward tendency today in the early dealings, absence of any special demand being apparently responsible. Lower quotations at Liverpool counted somewhat as a depressing factor. There was no noticeable effect either way on the market after announcement that orders had been issued for the withdrawal of American troops in Germany. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c lower to ¼c advance, with May $1.18@1.18¼ and July $1.14⅛@1.14¼, was followed by a setback all around to well below yesterday's finish.

Moderate returns in the value of wheat took place during the late transactions today. Bullish crop reports about winter wheat induced a little buying, and so, too, did gossip that Italian dissatisfaction had caused the French to modify plans of occupying the Ruhr. Prices closed firm ⅝@1⅜c net higher, with May $1.19⅝@1.19¾ and July $1.12@1.12⅛.

Despite notice of railroad embargoes against grain shipments to Philadelphia and Baltimore, prices of cash wheat here advanced. Offerings of future deliveries were scanty, and it took but little buying to turn the market upward at last.

CORN—Corn and oats were relatively firm as a result of expected falling off in receipts of corn here. After opening unchanged to ¼ to ⅜c lower, May 71@71¼c, the corn market showed a slight upturn.

With other markets outbidding Chicago as much as 4¼c in parts of Illinois, the corn market here developed increased strength in the last hour. Prices closed firm, ⅞@1¼c net higher, May, 72⅜@72½@72½c.

OATS—Oats started unchanged to a shade off, May 44⅝c to 44⅜@½c, and held near to the initial figure.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were easier in line with hog values.

U. S. ARMY MEN ORDERED HOME

the United States, will sail for Antwerp, arriving there in eight or nine days, according to war department oficials.

The orders of Secretary Weeks to General Allen instructed the latter to have his forces at Antwerp when the transport arrived, ready to go aboard, indicating that the American withdrawal is to be accomplished with all possible speed.

The trip from Coblenz to Antwerp will be made by rail.

A few officers and enlisted men will remain at Coblenz to clean up odds and ends of military and official business, but the American flag will be struck from the Rhine. It is presumed here that the territory occupied by General Allen's forces will be taken over immediately by the French.

Immediately upon announcement of the American withdrawal, reports became current in Washington that British troops also would be withdrawn. These reports could not be confirmed here, the British embassy disclaiming any knowledge of the matter. American officials, however, would not be surprised if the British likewise express their disapproval of Fronce's policy by evacuating the Rhineland within a short time.

Land at Three Ports.

The home coming Americans will be landed at three American ports, the St. Mihiel putting in first at Savannah, then Charleston, S. C., and finally at New York. From these three disembarkation centers, the troops will be distributed through the various army corps areas from Texas to Boston.

The order for American withdrawal will not come as a surprise to the French government, it was said here today, as Ambassador Herrick informed Premier Poincare some days ago that America would get out of the Rhine.

Apparently the French government weighed the matter and then decided that, much as it desired the presence of American troops, it desired the rich Ruhr coal fields more.

News of the American withdrawal was greeted with undisguised approval in the senate, where only Saturday a resolution was passed virtually requesting the administration to bring the troops home.

Decision Is Approved.

"Fine!" said Senator Hiram Johnson, republican of California. "It should have been done long ago."

"It's a wise decision," declared Senator McCormick republican of Illinois. "I believe it should have been done long ago."

"It's an excellent move," was the comment of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, republican of Massachusetts, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

Democrats as well as republicans approved the move.

The United States gets out of Europe at a cost of approximately $250,000,000—that sum representing the American bill against Germany for the cost of occupation.

After first announcing that the Americans would be brought out of Europe via Antwerp, a Belgian port, the war department later announced that Bremen, a German port ,also is being considered.

Belgium is co-operating with the French in the thrust into the Ruhr, and the question apparently was raised by administration officials as to whether it would be advisable to bring the troops out through Belgian territory. A decision will be made today.

POPULATION IN OCCUPIED AREA IN UGLY MOOD

for co-operation with the French in occupying the Ruhr, entrained here today in four trains for Aix Le Chapelle. They totalled 1,800 men.

Tanks for the Ruhr have left directly from Ghent.

The troops from Brussels comprised infantry, machine gunners, cavalry, aviators and transport service men. The men were selected from various regiments for their proficiency.

The commander-in-chief is General Borremans.

Entire District Quiet.

ESSEN, Jan. 10.—This city and the neighboring Ruhr district were quiet this morning, although there was a strong under-current of feeling and a tensity due to the uncertainty and lack of definite information relative to the French plans.

Announcement that the coal syndicate had decided to move its headquarters to Hamburg served to strengthen the morale of the inhabitants, who were expecting that the French troops might arrive before the end of the day.

Duisburg is said to be bustling with the activities of the French, whose loaded transport trains are arriving steadily. The French have taken over eight public school buildings in that city, from which they have taken out the furniture. This is being replaced with new military office fittings valued at thirty million marks.

French patrols are Duisburg are reported as appearing in full field equipment.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING

People born on this date and under the sign of Capricorn are the most natural [illegible] to be found in any sign, and this is because they are patient with details. They do not expect a child of seven to know as much as a child double that age. Also they are very practical in all their work, and generally are [illegible].

These people have great material aspirations, but spiritually they have no thoughts.

Occasionally a Capricorn individual is found who is subject to fits and this person, when this is the case, is so [illegible] by the sanguine temperament that he or she is generally reckless with money.

Steam fitters, plumbers, iron and steel workers will do well to use The Star Want Ads daily if they would improve themselves.

Hastings Chooses Team of Debaters

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS Neb., Jan. 10 High school debaters have been chosen by Superintendent A. H. Staley, Principal R. W. Johnson and Coach Starboard from among twelve students who participated in the tryouts

Hastings will form one side of a quadrangular debating circuit this year instead of taking part in the state league. Other towns in the circuit will be Grand Island, Kearney and York

The question decided upon will be "Resolved, That all labor disputes involving interstate commerce should be settled by the federal government."

The two teams and their alternates include Fred Cotton, Louis French, Paul Martl, Fannie Batewin, Herbert Wood, Lois Strong, Roy Lockhart, and Harold Bierman

ARMY WANTS MEN.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10. An army recruiting station has been opened here in the federal building by Private C. E. Catlin from Fort Crook, who has orders to recruit men for the 17th infantry and field cavalry at Fort Des Moines.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The area of low pressure has moved from the lake region to the New England coast and rain or snow has fallen in the northeastern states. The extensive area of high pressure still extends from the west Gulf coast northwestward to northern districts with the center north of low pressure still covers the northern districts with the center north of Montana. Light rain has fallen in Washington and Oregon.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING

People born on this date and under the sign of Capricorn, are the most natural teachers to be found in any sign, and this is because they are patient with details. They do not expect a child of seven to know as much as a child doube that age. Then they are very practical in this work, and generally are vary kind.

These people have great material aspirations, but spiritually, they have no thoughts.

Occasionally a Capricorn individual is found who is not subject to fits and this person, when this is the case, is so dominated by the sanguine temperament that he or she is generally reckless with money.

Steam fitters, plumbers, iron and steel workers will do well to use The Star Want Ads daily if they would improve themselves.

Hastings Chooses Team of Debaters

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10—High school debaters have been chosen by Superintendent A. H. Staley, Principal R. W. Johnson and Coach Starboard from among twelve students who participated in the tryouts.

Hastings will form one side of a quadrangular debating circuit this year instead of taking part in the state league. Other towns in the circuit will be Grand Island, Kearney and York.

The question decided upon will be "Resolved: That all labor disputes involving interstate commerce should be settled by the federal government."

The two teams and their alternates include Fred Cotton, Louis French, Paul Marti, Fannie Barewin, Herbert Wood, Lois Strong, Roy Lockhart, and Harold Bierman.

ARMY WANTS MEN.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 10.—An army recruiting station has been opened here in the federal building by Private C. E. Catlin from Fort Crook, who has orders to recruit men for the 17th infantry and field cavalry at Fort Des Moines.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The area of low pressure has moved from the Lake region to the New England coast and rain or snow has fallen in the northeastern states. The extensive area of high pressure still extends from the west Gulfg coast northwestward to northern districts with the center north of low pressure still covers the northern districts with the center north of Montana. Light rain has fallen in Washington and Oregon.

THE GREATER LOVE

A New Romance by Virginia Terhune Van de Water

Author of Nation-Wide Reputation and Writer of Popular Novels and Short Stories.

Mrs. Lang Tries to Tip Martha as She and Kenneth Prepare to Leave the Grant Home, But Martha Refusing the Money, Lets Slip a Tip on Ruth's Affections.

CHAPTER LXVII.

The morning of the Langs' departure from Southold was damp and gray.

Breakfast was served at 7 o'clock in order to give the travelers an abundance of time in which to catch the train leaving at 8.

Most of the conversation at table was carried on by Dr. Grant and Mrs. Lang. The latter was talkative and in the best of humors.

"If you ever come to Saxville, you must be sure to let us know, both you and your daughter," Mrs. Lang said to the physician.

"Thanks," the man acknowledged courteously. "But I am so busy that I seldom get as far away from home as that—unless I go even further on a very occasional vacation."

"Nevertheless, you are kind to ask us," Ruth supplemented with a smile.

She was looking pale and tired this morning, Kenneth noted with a pang at his heart. His pity increased his love for her. He knew she would probably be happy with Nathaniel Smith—if she cared for him, as, of course, she did,—yet it hurt him to remember that she had made herself wretched over the occurrence of that afternoon when she had taken her father's patient for a drive. She must have been very unhappy, otherwise the conversation of last night would not have left such marks on her young face.

He called himself a brute for having spoken to her angrily. He wondered now how he could have done it.

Breakfast over, Dr. Lang went out to the garage to see if Abe had the car ready. Ruth, with a murmured excuse, slipped into the kitchen on some pretext. It could not have been to consult with Martha, for a moment later this excellent person entered the dining room. Mrs. Lang, standing in the hall with her son, left him with an audible—

A Foolish Woman.

"There's Martha now! I was just waiting for a chance to speak to her. I must hand her a tip."

She returned to the dining room, a five-dollar bill in her hand.

"Here, Martha," she said smoothly, "is a little something to pay you for your kindnesses."

"What?" The New England voice was strident at all times. Now it was so gruff that Kenneth, awaiting his mother in the hall wondered what was wrong.

"I said," Mrs. Lang spoke softly that she might no be overheard, "that this is a little something to pay you for the extra trouble caused you by having my son and me here. I always hand a servant something when I am leaving. And I know you have taken all the care of Mr. Lang's room.

"I won't touch the money!" Martha flushed an ugly crimson. "I wouldn't touch it if I was starvin'! What I did for Mr. Lang was a pleasure, and, besides, he's paid me regular. Don't worry yourself about that. As to what was done for you—well—no money can pay me for that.'

"You are impertinent—and ignorant!" Mrs. Lang did not raise her voice, but it vibrated with anger. "If Miss Grant knew how you speak to me she would change her opinion of you!"

Martha Speaks Out.

"Oh, no, she wouldn't!—not if she knew how you spoke to your son aboout her last night!" Martha accused. "Yes,—I heard only a part of it, but that was enough! I was passing through the hall when you wondered how her father could let a young girl be brought up by an uneducated person like me! That's not what I minded, though. The girl's manners speak for themselves, and don't need no excuse. But when you spoke of her 'ty-aan-say'—I knew you meant she was engaged.

"Well, she ain't! I guess I'd know—even if you did say that Martha probably didn't know of it! Martha does know! But she ain't sayin anything yet. I ain't one to make trouble—unless its necessary. But when it gets to the point that it is necessary—I speak. There, that's all I've got to say!"

It was as well. For Kenneth, wondering at his mother's lingering in the dining room, appeared in the door.

"It is time you were getting your hat on, Mother," he announced. "What are you and Martha confabing about?"

He smiled as he looked at the maid of all work. She had been kind to him and he felt an honest gratitude toward her.

Martha forced a smile to her thin lips. "I was just tellin' your Ma good-bye," she said. "I was also tellin' her that it was a pity that when young Dr. Smith is so much in love with Ruthie, there don't seem to be a chance for him. She"—with a toss of her head—"is goin' to get someone higher than young Nat Smith, and with no effort on her part, either. But I ain't tellin' no secrets!"

A Former Husband Of Peggy Marsh Dies in New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Albert "Budd" Johnson, a nephew of Tom L. Johnson, Cleveland's former traction reform mayor, who in 1921 startled society by marrying Peggy Marsh, English dancer, died here Tuesday of pneumonia.

Attending physicians said death was hastened by a wound received when he was shot during a party last September at the Adirondack camp of Jack Clifford, dancer and husband of Evelyn Nesbit. At that time Johnson insisted that he shot himself accidentally.

Terrier Pup Is Heroine of Fire; Arouses Family

AKRON, O., Jan. 10.—A three months old terrier last night was proclaimed the heroine of Akron. To the pup, which answers to the name of Mitti, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kilkins and their seven children as well as two white mice owe their lives.

When fire broke out in the Wilkins home early today, Mitti aroused Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins by tugging at the bed clothes and barking. They carried their children to a neighbors after which George, their 12-year old son missed Mitti.

Firemen found Mitti in the house trying to rescue the mice, her playmates.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery

An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from Piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scissors, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-three years an. in more than six thousand cases. The book is sent free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail it with name and address to Dr. McCleary, 562 Parkview Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo.—Adv.

Urges Law That Will Place Love Thief In Prison

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 10.—A law drawn by Superior Judge Samuels of Oakland received here today for introduction in the legislature makes vamping a felony punishable by five years in the penitentiary.

"Male and female vamps have become a menace to the country," said Judge Samuels "and the only solution for the problem is to put them behind prison bars for wrecking the married life of our citizens. They are stealing a love that should be given to a husband or wife who may have sacrificed everything else in life to make the other happy and to rear a family. "They are also stealing the opportunity to become reputable citizens from hundreds of children."

ERIE RAIL STRIKE COMES TO AN END

Seniority Rights and Back Pay Restored to Twenty Thousand Shop Workers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. A wage agreement affecting 20,000 union shop craft workers, restoring seniority rights and providing back pay for nearly 10,000 men who went on strike last July, has been signed by the Erie railroad and its subsidiaries, John J. Dowd, chairman of the central strike committee of the Metropolitan district and head of the American federation of labor shop craft unions in this district, announced today.

Negotiations which resulted in signature of the contract by the railroad and union officials have been in secret progress since October when most of the strikers returned to the shops, Dowd reported.

The new contract, he said, closely follows the so-called "Baltimore agreement' on the basis of which employes on a number of railroads returned to their jobs three months after the strike was called. Subsidiaries of the Erie, which according to Dowd, became parties to the new agreement, include the Chicago and Erie railroad and the New York, Susquehanna & Western.

It will expire November 1, this year, and is subject to cancellation after that date upon thirty days' notice by either the rail or union officials. W. A. Baldwin, vice-president of the Erie, in charge of labor matters, signed the agreement in behalf of the roads, according to Dowd.

Conductors' Agent To Attend Session

The railway conductors organization will have a legislative representative in Lincoln during the session to work in the interests of measures effecting the welfare of its members. New officers of the egislative committee of the Order of Railway Conductors of Nebraska, elected at a meeting held at the Victoria hotel, are: W. E. Zallinger, Alliance, chairman; C. W. Shannon, Chadron, vice chairman; W. J. Davidson, Superior, secretary.

BIG BARBECUE IS HOWLING SUCCESS

Everybody Happy at Oklahoma Inaugural Feast As Oceans of Food Disappear.

(Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 10.—The last morsel of the tons of barbecued meat, the mountains of bread and the lakes of coffee provided for the inaugural feast of Governor J. C. Walton had disappeared early today.

Under the onslaught of the hungry, numbered by the tens of thousands, the food gave out late lost night.

Until late last night the crowds streamed through the barbecue serving units at the state fair grounds The march of the hungry began yesterday shortly after noon.

The barbecue feast was the fulfillment of a campaign pledge of Governor Walton. Cable dispatches have been sent daily to a Paris newspaper and several provincial journals by a French correspondent.

The Parisians will read lurid accounts of the "savage" Indians who gathered to feast in honor of the new "white chief" and of the swashbuckling white men who celebrated the occasion by using up quantities of six shooter ammunition.

Most of the Indians will go back home after the program ends to discuss how best to invest their oil royalties, or whether it would be better to trade the old car in now or wait for a possible reduction in the prices next summer.

The dangerous white men who shoot from the hip will go back to their ranches, farms, oil fields and offices and resume the even tenor of their ways.

SELECTING MURDER JURY.

SEATTLE, Jan. 10—The case of Clara S. Skarin, known as "Betty Winborn," charged with the murder of Ferdinand Hochbrunn, wealthy real estate dealer, in October 1921, was assigned to Judge Mitchell Gilliam's department of superior court today and selection of a jury was begun.

"What?" The New England voice was strident at all times. Now it was so gruff that Kenneth, awaitig his mother in the hall wondered what was wrong.

"I said," Mrs. Lang spoke softly that she might no be overheard, "that this is a little something to pay you for the extra trouble caused you by having my son and me here. I always hand a servant something when I am leaving. And I know you have taken all the care of Mr. Lang's room.

"I won't touch the money!" Martha flushed an ugly crimson. "I wouldn't touch it if I was starvin'! What I did for Mr. Lang was a pleasure, and, besides, he's paid me regular. Don't worry yourself about that. As to what was done for you—well—no money can pay me for that."

"You are impertinent—and ignorant!" Mrs. Lang did not raise her voice, but it vibrated with anger. "If Miss Grant knew how you speak to me she would change her opinion of you!"

Martha Speaaks Out.

"Oh, no, she wouldn't!—not if she knew how you spoke to your son aboout her last night!" Martha accused. "Yes,—I heard only a part of it, but that was enough! I was passing through the hall when you wondered how her father could let a young girl be brought up by an uneducated person like me! That's not what I minded, though. The girl's manners speak for themselves, and don't need no excuse. But when you spoke of her 'fy-aan-say'—I knew you meant she was engaged.

"Well, she ain't! I guess I'd know—even if you did say that Martha probably didn't know of it! Martha does know! But she ain't sayin anything yet. I ain't one to make trouble—unless its necessary. But when it gets to the point that it is necessary—I speak. There, that's all I've got to say!"

It was as well. For Kenneth, wondering at his mother's lingering in the dining room, appeared in the door.

"It is time you were getting your hat on, Mother," he announced. "What are you and Martha confabing about?"

He smiled as he looked at the maid of all work. She had been kind to him and he felt an honest gratitude toward her.

Martha forced a smile to her thin lips. "I was just tellin' your Ma good-bye," she said. "I was also tellin' her that it was a pity that when young Dr. Smith is so much in love with Ruthie, there don't seem to be a chance for him. She"—with a toss of her head—"is goin' to get someone higher than young Nat Smith, and with no effort on her part, either. But I ain't tellin' no secrets!"

A Former Husband Of Peggy Marsh Dies in New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Albert "Budd" Johnson, a nephew of Tom L. Johnson, Clevelands former traction reform mayor, who in 1921, startled society by marrying Peggy Marsh, English dancer, died here Tuesday of pneumonia.

Attending physicians said death was hastened by a wound received when he was shot during a party last September at the Adirondack camp of Jack Clifford, dancer and husband of Evelyn Nesbit. At that time Johnson insisted that he shot himself accidentally.

Terrier Pup Is Heroine of Fire; Arouses Family

AKRON, O., Jan. 10.—A three months old terrier last night was proclaimed the heroine of Akron. To the pup, which answers to the name of Mitti, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kilkins and their seven children as well as two white mice owe their lives.

When fire broke out in the Wilkins home early today, Mitti aroused Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins by tugging at the bed clothes and barking. They carried their children to a neighbors after which George, their 12-year old son missed Mitti.

Firemen found Mitti in the house trying to rescue the mice, her playmates.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery

An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from Piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scissors, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-three years and in more than six thousand cases. The book is sent free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail it with name and address to Dr. McCleary, 562 Parkview Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo.—Adv.

Urges Law That Will Place Love Thief In Prison

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 10.—A law drawn by Superior Judge Samuels of Oakland received here today for introduction in the legislature makes vamping a felony punishable by five years in the penitentiary.

"Male and female vamps have become a menace to the country," said Judge Samuels "and the only solution for the problem is to put them behind prison bars for wrecking the married life of our citizens. They are stealing a love that should be given to a husband or wife who may have sacrificed everything else in life to make the other happy and to rear a family. "They are also stealing the opportunity to become reputable citizens from hundreds of children."

ERIE RAIL STRIKE COMES TO AN END

Seniority Rights and Back Pay Restored to Twenty Thousand Shop Workers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A wage agreement affecting 20,000 union shop craft workers, restoring seniority rights and providing back pay for nearly 10,000 men who went on strike last July, has been signed by the Erie railroad and its subsidiaries, John J. Dowd, chairman of the central strike committee of the Metropolitan district and head of the American federation of labor shop craft unions in this district, announced today.

Negotiations which resulted in signature of the contract by the railroad and union officials have been in secret progress since October when most of the strikers returned to the shops, Dowd reported.

The new contract, he said, closely follows the so-called "Baltimore agreement' on the basis of which employes on a number of railroads returned to their jobs three months after the strike was called. Subsidiaries of the Erie, which according to Dowd, became parties to the new agreement, include the Chicago and Erie railroad and the New York, Susquehanna & Western.

It will expire November 1, this year, and is subject to cancellation after that date upon thirty days' notice by either the rail or union officials. W. A. Baldwin, vice-president of the Erie, in charge of labor matters, signed the agreement in behalf of the roads, according to Dowd.

Conductors' Agent To Attend Session

The railway conductors organization will have a legislative representative in Lincoln during the session to work in the interests of measures effecting the welfare of its members. New officers of the egislative committee of the Order of Railway Conductors of Nebraska, elected at a meeting held at the Victoria hotel, are: W. E. Zallinger, Alliance, chairman; C. W. Shannon, Chadron, vice chairman; W. J. Davidson, Superior, secretary.

BIG BARBECUE IS HOWLING SUCCESS

Everybody Happy at Oklahoma Inaugural Feast As Oceans of Food Disappear.

(Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 10.—The last morsel of the tons of barbecued meat, the mountains of bread and the lakes of coffee provided for the inaugural feast of Governor J. C. Walton had disappeared early today.

Under the onslaught of the hungry, numbered by the tens of thousands, the food gave out late lost night.

Until late last night the crowds streamed through the barbecue serving units at the state fair grounds. The march of the hungry began yesterday shortly after noon.

The barbecue feast was the fulfillment of a campaign pledge of Governor Walton. Cable dispatches have been sent daily to a Paris newspaper and several provincial journals by a French correspondent.

The Parisians will read lurid accounts of the "savage" Indians who gathered to feast in honor of the new "white chief" and of the swashbuckling white men who celebrated the occasion by using up quantities of six shooter ammunition.

Most of the Indians will go back home after the program ends to discuss how best to invest their oil royalties, or whether it would be better to trade the old car in now or wait for a possible reduction in the prices next summer.

The dangerous white men who shoot from the hip will go back to their ranches, farms, oil fields and offices and resume the even tenor of their ways.

SELECTING MURDER JURY.

SEATTLE, Jan. 10—The case of Clara S. Skarin, known as "Betty Winborn," charged with the murder of Ferdinand Hochbrunn, wealthy real estate dealer, in October 1921, was assigned to Judge Mitchell Gilliam's department of superior court today and selection of a jury was begun.
